DEDICATED TO

The future and to our men and women of today, who by sacrifices and work are laying the foundation for that day, when the din and terrors of battle are things of the past and the foes of freedom are crushed. To that day when youth may again unhindered, take up the torch in the fields of education; seeking knowledge and truth.

FOREWORD

By DR. H. L. STEWART

Near to another annual "closing", in this strangest of strange times, Dalhousians have special food for thought. We lately closed not only an academic year, but an academic century. Its beginnings, in much so different, were in some important respects—for us—like its end. The lapse of another year has deepened the resemblance. In freedom of thought we started. For freedom we are again helping the fight.

When happier days return, two institutions will have cause to remember with pride that they were chosen as first objects of attack by the enemy of civilization. One is the Church, whose office it was judged needful for Fascist and Nazi purpose to reduce to a blasphemous caricature of its past. The other is the University, which—for the same purpose—in Italy and Germany has been directed henceforth to falsify knowledge instead of guarding and extending it. One thinks of an ancient parallel. After the barbarous Persian was repelled from Greece, there was rivalry among Greek States for the distinction of having sacrificed first and most in the good cause. There had also been "Fifth Column", then called "Medism." University and Church, now prostrate in the barbarians' own territories, should elsewhere take pride—like Athens—in spiritual nourishment of the great resistance.

Dalhousie has a notable record of service to the values set at nought wherever the dictatorial voice—from Heidelberg or Göttingen to Milan or Bologna—orders the University to reassume fetters. Another batch of her graduates, accustomed to the ideal and—one hopes—invigorated by the pursuit of truth for truth's sake, will soon go forth to share in professional and business life. It is a heritage of which to continue worthy, valuing it the more as one observes how limited, for a time, is the area over which it is enjoyed.

We cannot take its preservation for granted. G. K. Chesterton, in one of his epigrammatic warnings, bade Englishmen realize that their comparative immunity from the continental disorders was more an accident for which to be thankful than an achievement of which to boast. True, and important: but a principal office of wisdom is to turn to advantage opportunities that are accidental. What the founders of Dalhousie established, and her leaders through a proud century maintained, was the outcome of earnest planning. They insisted, we know, from the first on freedom of thought. From the subtle corruptions which have of late so often lowered academic thought as well as attacked academic freedom, we have been, like England, "comparatively" free. It is in the charge of Dalhousie graduates, keeping the spirit of their old institution forceful and fruitful abroad, to sustain an educational influence which has so long meant so much for Canada.

One cannot easily think of a time when such reflections, as a rule so obvious as to be trite, had the significance they carry this year for our graduating class.

In Memoriam

DUNCAN J. CHISHOLM, B.A.

LAW, '42

With the news of the sudden passing of Duncan Chisholm, this year's Graduating Class in Law lost one of its most scholarly, one of its finest, and one of its most respected members.

Though of a quiet and reserved nature, in his three years with us, "Dunc" became truly one of the "boys", endearing himself deep in the hearts of all of us here at the Law School, who shall never perhaps fully appreciate our loss.

Having him beside us in class on Thursday and then to learn, after but two days' illness, of his unexpected passing on Sunday morning, his death at the early age of 28 years, brought shock and grief to all who were privileged to have known him.

In our minds, as his classmates, we shall remember "Dunc" always as a fine example of Christian manhood, a scholar of the first order, and a kind and sympathetic friend at all times.

P. O. RAND LUGAR

"KILLED IN AIR OPERATIONS WHILE ON ACTIVE SERVICE OVERSEAS, ON SEPTEMBER 20."

This is the message that bore to Dalhousie the sad news of the death of Pilot Officer Rand Lugar, R.C.A.F. Only 21, "Randy" left Dal. in the middle of his third year of engineering, and received his "wings" last February at Rivers, Man., along with his commission of Pilot Officer. Only a few months later he navigated a bomber to England for the Ferry Command.

Previous to entering Dal., Pilot Officer Lugar attended Bloomfield High School where he soon earned the regard and respect of teachers and students alike. Always a brilliant student, he soon became a leading figure on Studley campus. Socially popular too, he was also an ardent yachtsman and all-round sportsman.

On February 21, just after receiving his commission "Randy" married Audrey Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hopgood, of Halifax, who had been a student at Dal. only the year before.

Rand will be remembered to all who enjoyed the privilege of his friendship, in the words of the highest compliment one student pays to another—"an all-round fine chap." His affability and ever-present good humour; his scholastic ability and his sportmanship; these and others combined to set him above the crowd. He gave freely and ungrudgingly of all that was his to give, even unto death itself. His place may not soon be filled; herein was found his strength.

CARLETON W. STANLEY, M.A., LL.D., LITT.D., F.R.S.C.,
President of the University

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

This is the eleventh time that the graduating class of Dalhousie University has asked me to write a short foreword in the Year Book. These eleven years have been a period of cumulative crisis. Many of us see clearly now that some of these difficulties, at least, could have been avoided had resolute intelligence been brought to bear on all the problems. Now intelligence, not merely passive intelligence, but the power of reasoning in an active and dynamic way, is the very raison d'être of the universities. And, as I have pointed out to you before, this includes courage. Ever since Hitler's accession to power in 1933, I have been saying to Dalhousie students and professors that, like everything else in the world, intelligence, if it is to survive, must have the full will to survive. That means fighting: not only in battle, but fighting every evil thing. It does not mean lip-service to high causes; it does not mean taking things for granted, without honest and persistent investigation.

If these things are true, or even largely true, can university men and women escape responsibility for the misdirection of events, or for acquiescing in their misdirection?

All slogans, even slogans about democracy and liberty, are dangerous in so far as they lull our minds into an unthinking state. There have been many efforts on this continent to organize men of various opinions and interests into groups with a common purpose. These efforts were doubtless salutary; but the question is worth asking whether the "common" interest has in some cases become an interest that is "watered down". In particular, it is worth while asking ourselves whether university graduates have been sufficiently different from the rest of the world. I am not advocating any sort of intellectual snobbery. I am merely stating what seems to me a truism: that a university education is a high privilege and should carry with it a high sense of responsibility. To whatever communities they return, into whatever communities they go, university graduates ought to exert a steady influence in the improvement of schools, the improvement of public health, the improvement of newspapers, the improvement of political life.

May I venture to suggest that the text, "Come out from among them, and be ye separate", has a deep meaning for graduates of Dalhousie?

My best wishes to each one of you in the pursuit of truth, justice and liberty.

Carleton Stanley.

*Mighty Pharos, 'neath thy ivory tower
The great men of the years in progress roll
Before those thoughtful eyes whose penetration
Pulls off the trappings and reveals the soul.*

*Thy sons in well-wrought armour throng the column,
Accounted to advance the common cause,
Impelled by unrelenting hidden power
To move forever on, forbidden pause.*

*The warring hordes snatch from the eager vanguard,
And from the ranks, thy sons, Pharos the proud,
Yet all the rancour of that wild commotion
Avails not to subdue the valiant crowd.*

*The winds from heaven blow in hateful tempest—
Boulders and deep ravines impede the way—
The column still moves, irresistible,
Through blinding night and too revealing day.*

*Their secret power is thy gift, O Pharos,
Their fiery pillar and their cloud appeared
First in thy ivory tower, where the finest
Warriors for the human race are reared.*

*The vital inspiration of the spirit
Breathed from thy prophet bosom into youth
Empowers all thy sons to use life's treasure
In one long quest for the essential truth.*

ARTS AND SCIENCE

Their search for truth has led them far. . . .

CHARLES L. BENNETT, M.A.,
Honourary President of Class

To every member of the Graduating Class I wish a full measure of happiness and success, with my most sincere thanks for the honour of being elected to your fellowship. You may regret that a promise of easy rewards is no longer, as in the prosperous nineteen-twenties, enclosed with your diploma; but you should be thankful at least that your parchment is no longer, as so often in the nineteen-thirties, a passport to nowhere. There is work to do, and how you are fitted to do it will be a test, partly of the University and the opportunities it has given you, but mostly of yourselves and how you have used them. I am confident that the reputation of Dalhousie may be left safely in your hands.

W. P. COPP, B.A., B.Sc., M.E.I.C.

Even in a mad world there is a satisfaction, within reasonable limits, in carrying on the ordinary activities of a normal college existence.

There is a particular pleasure, however, in the opportunity presented to say farewell to you of the Engineering Clan who are obtaining your diplomas at the Spring Convocation. It seems but a few months ago since for the first time you registered in the Department and yet you entered when this grim war was but a few weeks old. How little did any of us realize then how great a conflagration had begun. The future is uncertain. Dark days are ahead. In putting out this fire you will play your part. You have worked hard and well at Dalhousie. You have still some years of student life, before you obtain your Degree in Engineering. It is hoped that you have absorbed some knowledge while at Dalhousie and have learned also to think your problems through to the correct conclusion. This is the aim of the Department.

Come back occasionally to tell of your achievements. It is a pleasure indeed when former students of the Department return to tell of themselves and to chat generally. You have been favoured with great opportunities. You will play your part as men, and our country needs men today with scientific knowledge as well as brawn. Best wishes to you and again farewell.

For the Department of Engineering.

PHARMACY — MASTER OF ARTS

CHARLES CRAWFORD ANDERSON

Charles Crawford, known to all and sundry as "Crawfy", hails from Glace Bay, where, he states, he was "educated." We can imagine!!! However, we know from an excellent college record, that somewhere along the line he picked up some horsebase. We wouldn't be at all surprised if it was gained at St. F. X., where he studied before proceeding to Dal. to continue his pharmacy course. His favorite expression is unprintable, and he is most often seen to be absent from Dr. Weld's Class (9 a. m.) "Crawfy" plans to continue his work in Retail Drug Business, and to him, we say, "Lots of luck, Fella!"

ESMONDE COOKE

The good people of Sydney were dismayed when "Es" informed them that he was taking time out from a thriving drug business to complete a College Course, but they bore their temporary loss bravely, fortified by the knowledge that he would come back to them some day, with all that Drugdom has to offer, filed away for their well-being. "Es" is most often seen in the College library, poring over botanical and other illustrations, and his expressions—oral and facial—will be long remembered by his fellow students. He plans to return to Sydney, and as he proceeds to knock down all obstacles to success, we can hear him say, "Make way! Make way!" And to that, we reply—"Hallelulah!"

FRED GEORGE FAULKNER

Unlike his worthy colleagues, Freddie is a local boy, having lived and received his education in Halifax. His autobiography form was much too modest for our purposes. Apparently he has no favorite expression, he is rarely seen, and has no activities. Added to that he informs us that his plans are indefinite. Whatever he decides to do, we're sure that he's going places, and our best wishes go with him.

JOHN KEITH LAWTON

Keith comes from the land of fish and fog—Wabana, Newfoundland. He studied at St. Bonaventure College before coming to Dal. Keith is an active member of the Newman Club. Favorite hobby is "taking shots" with his camera, hence the position of photographic editor for year '41-42. He plans to serve for King and country, continuing his work as a pharmaceutical chemist after the war. Best of luck, Keith!

JAMES ARTHUR STERNS

"Jimmie" graduates this year with a Diploma in Pharmacy. He is an active member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity, and one of the best known personalities on the campus. A "native" of Glace Bay, he attended Mount A. Academy, before working for a time at Medical Hall, where, by the way, he met the great "Crawfy". When questioned concerning his plans, we were politely referred to the D.O.C., Military District Number 6. We're sure that his marked ability will make him a valued member of our Army. Luck, Jimmie.

MEDICINE

In peace

No less than war

Potent weapons to conquer human woe.

HARRY G. GRANT, M.D.C.M., F.R.G.S., L.R.C.P.,
Dean of the Faculty of Medicine

In these dark days we should have only one thought uppermost in our minds, and that is the successful prosecution of the war—so that Hitlerism with all its evil, its paganism, its barbarism and its brutality, can never rise again. This is a total war and doctors are needed both for the armed forces and the civilian population. So long as you are carrying on the traditions of The Dalhousie Medical School by helping the afflicted and suffering—it matters not where you serve.

To each one I extend my sincere congratulations, and that of the Faculty, on the successful completion of the first stage of your training.

LAW

*Depositories of a nation's knowledge;
Moulders of a nation's destiny. . . .*

VINCENT C. MacDONALD B.A., LL.B., K.C.,
Dean of the Faculty of Law

Most of you have honoured me by admitting me to a share in your perplexities as you view the immediate future and try to plot your proper courses. All of you recognize that our country's needs in this grave hour have first call upon you. I am confident that your Class will equal recent Classes which have gone into the various Services in extraordinary numbers. To those who cannot serve their country in this way I would remind them that this is a total War in the sense of requiring the use of all the diversified talents which individuals possess. The lawyer above all others should recognize that War—like Law—is a branch of Government, and that in this War the political, the economic and the industrial fronts must be stoutly manned by intelligent, trained and devoted citizens in order to give to the men in uniform the dread tools of Victory. Fortunately the lawyer has talents which fit him for useful service on these fronts. I trust that those who cannot fight on the armed fronts will fight manfully on these other. To those denied these privileges there is yet the opportunity to become leaders of political thought, and even to those denied the responsibilities of leadership there is still the citizen's duty to attempt to gauge the actions of such leaders in the light of an intelligent awareness of the problems to be faced in this War and after.

Arts and Science Society

This year "big things" were expected of the Society, which is the largest non-professional society at Dalhousie—but hopes and expectations were in vain, due to lack of the "right" kind of interest—that of a constructive nature. "In unity there is strength", and therein lies the answer to the unsolved problems of the Arts and Science Society. One person or even three persons cannot be expected to unite an unwilling body of students. Until the day comes when everybody is willing to pull the same way, the Society is doomed to inactivity.

At present there is a good constitution and a well-laid financial policy, that of selling membership cards at the nominal fee of $1.00. With these as a basis, plus a great deal of co-operation and "honest to goodness" enthusiasm, the Club should become the most energetic and best working society on the campus. To the future executive we throw the torch, and our every wish goes towards a bigger and better Arts and Science Society.

1942 Representatives were as follows: Students' Council—Louise Bishop, Christine Arklie, Inez Smith, Don Kirkpatrick, Andy Dunn. D.A.A.C.—Jeff Bagnall.

The Engineering Society

The year 1941-42 has been a very successful year for the Engineering Society, under the direction of President Bob Wilcox, Vice-Pres. John More, and Sec.-Treas. John "Tank" Waterfield. It was through the efforts of all Engineers in the Society that the "Grip", "Ball", and "Banquet", the three great activities of each year, were so successful, and it showed the enthusiasm of the Society as a whole.

We at first thought a trip to an industrial centre was not possible because of the war, but we finally received permission to visit the Canadian Car & Foundry, and the Robb Engineering Co., at Amherst, on November 15th, 1941. This "Educational Trip" was not in vain, for all who attended received some very useful information of Nova Scotia's war effort, and also information from the Engineers' point of view.

The annual "Boilermakers' Ball" was combined with the "Med Ball" this year, and the "Surveyors and Sawbones Shuffle" was the outcome. It was indeed the best social event of campus activities, and the efforts of the committee were well rewarded.

The last but not least event of the academic year was the Engineers' Banquet. This is the end of Society gatherings for the graduates, and as we bid them "good luck", we realize that the Freshman Class will carry on the tradition of the Society, and make each future year as happy as the past.

The Medical Society

At the first annual meeting of the Dalhousie Student Medical Society the following officers were elected: President, Jack Woodbury; Vice-President, Sid Wright; Secretary, Ed Harrigan; Treasurer, Gordon MacKenzie; First Year Representative, Phillip MacDonald; D.A.A.C. Representative, Joe MacDougall.

Sports managers were also elected for the faculty teams: Football Manager, Henrick Tonning; Hockey Manager, Gordon Bethune.

The Book Bureau is being run this year under the capable direction of Managers George Dewar and Bob Rowter.

The Society was addressed by Dr. Laufer on the subject of "Angina Pectoris", and attention was drawn to the importance of minor manifestations of this condition, with interesting examples of successive developments as shown by the electrocardiogram.

At a later meeting Dr. Harold Taylor presented a paper on "Ascending Pyelonephritis in Hypertension", citing actual cases, and illustrating his paper with tissue sections from each case.

Rear-Admiral Sir Gordon Gordon-Taylor related interesting experiences which had befallen him as a surgeon in war-time England, and told of new developments in the treatment of shock and burns. He described a new clinical problem, the "Crush Syndrome," to an interested audience of medical students, physicians, and surgeons.

An instructive obstetrical film was shown at a recent meeting, accompanied by descriptive comment from Dr. Atlee. Another film is to be shown soon.

The students of third and fourth year are receiving lectures in Military Medicine from officers of the armed forces, an innovation in military training which is greatly appreciated.

This year the medical and engineering students combined their annual dances, in the form of the Sawbones and Surveyors' Shuffle, which has taken its place as one of the most entertaining events of the season.

The program of the society has been quite satisfactory, and we look forward to a successful completion of the year. May we take this opportunity to extend to our graduating classes congratulations and every wish for success.

Commerce Society

Once again the Commerce Department has been fortunate in having Prof. Stewart Bates at the helm. Under Prof. Bates' able leadership the Department has progressed steadily during the past four years. The Department was again able to maintain a high standard in accountancy due to the efforts of the lecturers in that course, Harvey E. Crowell (C.A.) and Murray Rankin (B.Com.).

In the social sphere, the Society held its annual dance early in the new year, which proved very successful. This year the Gym. was gayly decorated with flags and balloons. Plans are being finalized for the annual banquet which always proves to be the Society's most outstanding event of the season. This year's banquet promises to be bigger and better!

The Society again plans to enter teams in the interfaculty basketball and hockey leagues.

This year the Society has re-established old ties with the Commercial Club of Halifax, which has extended to the members of the Society, the privilege of attending the Club's weekly luncheon meetings. This reaffiliation with the business men of the city will certainly prove beneficial to the Society.

The Society plans to extend its Social functions by having weekly or bi-weekly informal meetings, when the students and the faculty can come together. Guest speakers are to be invited to speak on subjects of general interest. Dancing and other forms of recreation will also be enjoyed.

The Midlothian Society

President: CATHERINE HICKS
Secretary-Treasurer: LOUISE BISHOP
Social Convener: HELEN MACKAY

The Midlothian Society was formed in 1926 to provide a gathering at which women students could read and discuss books. Meetings were held regularly every week at the Hall, at the congenial hour of afternoon tea, and the members, in turn, reviewed a book, and then led in vivid and interesting discussions. Membership is traditionally limited to fourteen undergraduates. This year, a Constitution was proffered to Midlothian by the executive, and accepted by the Society. Miss MacKeen entertained us with a review of one of Winston Churchill's books, and plans are in progress for more speakers. This year, current books were read, varying from war, politics, and love, to T. S. Eliot's book about pussycats. The girls feel that Midlothian is a truly beneficial and enjoyable society, and one likely to survive the vicissitudes of college tastes.

Effective Speaking Clubs

The Effective Speaking Club is the only organization on the University campus through which any student may learn to express his ideas with clearness, with coherence and with force. Its aim is not merely to provide a training ground for future debaters and orators but—even more—to remove from the college student the stigma of a remarkable incapacity of expressing his ideas.

The Club executive this year consisted of: Honorary President, Mr. Edmund Morris; President, Miss Betty Ritchie; Vice-President, Mr. James Stevens; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Colin Smith.

Features of the year's activities included a program of closer co-operation with Sodales (effected through Mr. Edmund Morris), prepared and impromptu speaking, debating, and a full-dress impromptu Mock Trial. Experienced criticism during the term was provided by Mr. George Curtis, Professor of the Law School.

That the Effective Speaking Club has continued despite serious external difficulties is perhaps a hopeful omen for the future; a non-sectional, unrestricted organization providing opportunities for both masculine and feminine students, for experienced and inexperienced speakers, it has in the past filled a definite need on the campus, and will in the future play an even more prominent part in molding the life of the University.

The Dalhousie Gazette

Once a week throughout the term a group of avid readers in Roy's Store has borne comparatively mute testimony to the fact that the Gazette is not yet dead. The "Undergraduate Publication of the College by the Sea" has, in fact, had one of its most startling years. The staff has done its best to prevent the weekly issue from becoming a mere routine, with the result that any resemblance between the Gazette and a newspaper has been purely coincidental.

Poetry has been an outstanding feature of this year's Gazette. Campus poets have not, as in former years, confined their attention to the literary page, but have invaded "Sport Spice", "Rufus Rayne", and even the headlines.

As this goes to press, one special issue has been brought out during the year, a six-page Gazette devoted to publicity for the Red Cross Ball. It is expected that the usual "Co-ed" edition will be forthcoming and that one or more additional departures from regular custom will be made.

The Gazette this year has had its lighter side, perhaps in excess. But this levity has not been without purpose. Its justification is the conviction of the staff that an unread Gazette is scarcely better than none at all. The Gazette has tried to encourage student thinking on vital and trivial issues alike, and to reawaken interest in college institutions when interest was flagging. The Gazette has a message, found not only in the editorials but also in the collegiate acumen of "The Mentor", the political satire of "Rufus Rayne", and the highly-coloured news stories on the front and back pages.

Treasurer: HARNEY MACHATTIE

Social Convener: MARGARET FARQUHAR
Graduate Representative and Librarian: JOHN GRANT

The S.C.M. is a world-wide student movement which grew out of the last war. This is the twenty-first year of its existence in Canada. During the fall term this fact was kept in mind in preparation for an Anniversary Conference to be held during the Christmas vacation.

The central idea of the S.C.M. at Dalhousie is in its study-groups on the "Records of the Life of Jesus." There is a first year and a second year group, both of which are led by Dr. Bronson. At intervals throughout the year students have met, too, for general meetings featuring speakers on various topics, and discussion of these topics. Occasionally, students assembled for an evening of skating, tobogganing, or the like.

Two events of the year stand out. During the last week-end in October, the S.C.M.'s of Mt. Allison, Acadia, U.N.B., and Dalhousie met at Seabright for a fall camp under the leadership of Robert Bilheimer, a post-graduate student at Yale University, and Hugh MacMillan, National Secretary of the S.C.M. Again at Christmas students assembled, to celebrate the "coming of age" of the Canadian S.C.M. Students from Halifax to Vancouver met at Aurora, Ontario. Representatives from Dalhousie were: Graduates, Rowena Benson and Bernard Graham; Undergraduates, Margaret Farquhar and Lawrence Read. The purpose of both Conferences was a discussion of issues confronting Christian students today.

Visitors this year to the Dalhousie S.C.M. have been Miss Edna Durrant of China, and Rev. Robert Mackie, General Secretary of the World Student Christian Federation. Both told of students in other countries who, even in concentration camps, surrounded by intellectual inertia, struggle to keep their intellects alive. Texts and other study material are provided through the financial aid of more fortunate groups outside the war zone. The group here joins with these in a World Student Day of Prayer to be observed in February.

This year the Dalhousie movement is co-operating with the Christian Youth Federation in a study of social problems. The Dalhousie representative on the C.Y.F. executive is Phyllis Blakeley.

The annual Spring Camp carries on the ideas begun in study groups, conferences, discussions. All the Maritime universities may be represented. It will be held this year at Sandy Cove, Digby Co.

The Dental Society

President—DICK TAYLOR
Secretary-Treasurer—DON EATON
Students' Council Representative—BOB BINGHAM
D.A.A.C. Representative—"ANDY" ANDERSON

This year has been another successful one for the Dental Society, though our small numbers necessarily limit social activities.

The election of officers for 1941-42 was as follows: President, Dick Taylor; Secretary-Treasurer, Don Eaton; Students' Council Representative, Bob Bingham; D.A.A.C. Representative, "Andy" Anderson.

Our President has been greatly missed since he left us due to illness, but we look forward to having him back with us again next year.

At the time of writing, Interfaculty hockey had not begun, but hopes were held for having a Dental team enter as usual.

This year there has been much speculation as to the effect of war conditions on the Dental School. A proposition, now only in the offing, is for Dents to join the army at the end of their Junior year, and continue the Senior year as usual, but still in the service. As most of the boys anticipate joining anyway, this has met with generally favorable approval.

Sodales

President—TED KING
Vice-President—ED MORRIS
Secretary-Treasurer—WALTHAM GAUDET

In spite of the war, with its cancellation of intercollegiate sports and its military training for students, sufficient interest has been maintained in debating to enable Sodales to continue its program of intercollegiate and intra-mural debates, although the latter this year have been confined to those of the Bennett Shield.

Dalhousie this year had the honor to be host to the Maritime Intercollegiate Debating League Conference, held at the Law School on October 23rd. Mount Allison, St. Thomas, St. Francis Xavier, Acadia and Dalhousie were represented, while U.N.B. and Kings, while willing to participate in debating, were unable to be represented. At the conference, a tentative constitution, submitted by Mount A. last year, was revised and adopted as the new M.I.D.L. constitution, and, a schedule of M.I.D.L. debates drawn up, in which Dalhousie should meet St. Mary's, St. Thomas, and Acadia.

To stimulate keener interest in debating and to accommodate the persistent request of the girls, the executive decided, as an experiment, to allow girls to qualify for Sodales debates. In trials held November 13th, one, in free competition with the male contestants, succeeded in obtaining a position.

To give the debaters an opportunity to increase debating capacity by attending the Effective Speaking Club, and to eliminate as far as possible unnecessary trespassing on professors' time for adjudging trials, the separate trials system was abolished and all debaters for the year chosen at one joint trial session, held in the Arts building, November 13th. Chosen were six debaters: Ed Morris, Jim Stevens, Walter Gaudet, Ralph Vaughan, Charlie O'Connell and Eileen Mader, to whom Sodales extends congratulations as its first girl debater, and three spare debaters: Colin Smith, Howard Gordon and Kenneth Antoff.

On November 28th, Dal. lost its first debate with St. Mary's, at Dal., in spite of the creditable performance of Jim Stevens and Howard Gordon, on the affirmative of the resolution: "That Canada should conscript wealth in the present crisis."

Arrangements are now being made for Eileen Mader and Walter Gaudet to meet St. Thomas' at Dalhousie in the early part of February, and for Ed Morris and Ralph Vaughan to meet Acadia, at Acadia, the latter part of that month.

The Bennett Shield debates will be held in March, when last year's Frosh team will defend its win.

The executive wishes to express its thanks to Professors Curtis, Rechter and Mercer for adjudging trials and to Mr. W. Outhit, Rev. Dr. MacKeigan and Mr. R. Donahue for judging the debate with St. Mary's. Thanks are also due to those who shall be later asked to judge the debates with St. James and those of the Bennett Shield.

The Students' Council

The year 1941-1942 has not been one entirely free from worry for the representatives entrusted by their fellow students to carry on the business of that miniature democracy we call Dalhousie University. All through the year the activities of the Council have been necessarily circumscribed and limited by the decreased student enrollment with the inevitable accompaniment of diminished revenue that such an enrollment entails. A retrospective glance, however, shows that most of the obstacles have been successfully hurdled and some new achievements made of which the Council might well be proud.

In the first place, considering the limited means at their disposal, the fact that the different organizations have been able to carry on practically the same as in a normal year, is in itself no small accomplishment. The D.A.A.C. have had a strikingly successful year in every branch of endeavour. The Glee Club has produced somewhat fewer shows than in normal times, but the emphasis has been on quality rather than quantity. The Gazette, too, has elevated rather than lowered its journalistic standard. Sodales, D.G.A.C., in fact any organization meriting Council support, has been successfully carried on this year as in normal times.

One or two rather novel departures were made by the Council from the ordinary routine of business in an attempt to stimulate that elusive ingredient known as "college spirit". The pep rallies, it is true, were attended by only a small percentage of the student body as a whole, but in vociferous shouting and cheering, they made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in numbers. The Red Cross Ball was marked by the whole-hearted support it received from every section of the campus. The six hundred dollars cleared for the Red Cross was only a financial indication of the keen feeling and co-operation that made this function much more than just a dance, but rather a greater step forward to a new college spirit than has been seen around this campus for a long time.

Besides the inevitable routine that forms the chief work of any body such as the Council, any exceptional calls for expenditure have been met and advantage taken of any new opportunities that presented themselves. The skating facilities provided at the Arena is a case in point. The drive for funds for Mount Allison is another example of Council activity. A bigger and better Year Book, and an improved Munro Day are anticipated as this write-up goes to press. All in all, the Filthy Fifteen can look back on a good year.

The Dalhousie Amateur Athletic Club

The D.A.A.C. is the body which has complete jurisdiction over all male athletics carried on by the University. It is an incorporated body by virtue of an act passed by the Legislature of Nova Scotia on the 15th of February, 1896. The Club was formed "for the promotion of athletics and the physical improvement of its members." The management of the Club is in the hands of a Management Committee elected by the members.

Although the activities carried out by the club have been somewhat restricted this year due to conditions and circumstances caused by the war, nevertheless, the Club has maintained its traditional sports program but to a modified degree. The Club was faced with a greatly reduced budget at the first of the year, but subsequent grants from the Council eased the situation.

One bright spot this year was the fact that the ban on intercollegiate sport was lifted to the extent that it became possible for our teams to play a maximum of two games in each sport away from home with other colleges. Thus we were able to play Acadia in football, hockey, and basketball.

In spite of a great many difficulties, the football team had an exceptionally fine season, winning the City League, and advancing to the Maritime finals. The team played one game away when it defeated Acadia at Wolfville. A creditable showing was made against St. F. X. in the McCurdy Cup finals.

At the time of writing, the basketball team appears to be heading for the Maritime Senior title, being far in the lead in the City League. The team is fast and experienced and shows plenty of talent.

This year's hockey team got away to a shaky start in a league comprising teams from St. Mary's College and the Navy. It was difficult to find a suitable time for practice and the team had to get by on one practice period a week. Early in February the Tigers travelled to Acadia where they lost a fast and exciting game to the Axemen, 6-3.

Interfaculty sports have not received the attention they enjoyed in the past. However, a successful football league was conducted, Arts and Science being declared the winner. At present, a basketball league is being played on Thursday nights. Softball and hockey leagues are under consideration, but a lack of funds may prevent a hockey league.

A. MACDONALD
"SANDY"
President of Law Society

The Law Society

This year's Society proceedings commenced with the election of a new president, necessitated by the enlistment of Peter Nicholson in the R.C.N. The new executive consisted of Sandy Macdonald, President; Walthem Gaudet, Vice-President; and Lorne MacDougall, Secretary.

Anticipating the annual Law Ball a committee was then chosen which was duly composed of Walt Gaudet (Chairman), Webster Macdonald and Ralph Vaughan. Later held under the distinguished patronage of the Hon. F. F. Mathers, Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, Sir Joseph Chisholm, Chief Justice of Nova Scotia, and J. W. Godfrey, President of the Nova Scotia Barristers' Association, the Ball proved to be one of the major social successes of the year.

The Supreme Moot Court, one of the most characteristic features of the Law School since its inception, was carried on this term in the traditional manner. The arguments presented by the second year counsels, ably assisted by their first year colleagues, were well balanced and deserving of commendation. This followed from a background of well selected cases of a highly controversial nature, ably chosen by the committee, Robert Frankish, Charles Gray and Ken Jones. The Committee have not as yet disclosed those who are to contest the Smith Shield debate next year.

In the realm of interfaculty sports, the legal representatives have only had an opportunity to show their wares on the football field. At the time of writing the basketball and hockey teams have not swung into action, but if precedent is any criterion, the future is by no means a bleak one. The team managers are Jack Hutton (basketball), Allan MacLeod (football), and Sandy Macdonald (hockey).

A cloud was cast over this year's activities due to the sudden passing of Duncan Chisholm, who in his graduating year was called from our midst during the first term. The loss of Dunc to us is one from which we shall not soon recover.

As the finale to the more serious activities during the current year, the annual society banquet to be held at the end of the year in honour of the graduating class looms ahead as the sine qua non of a successful legal year.

EXECUTIVE

President: DON KIRKPATRICK

Secretary: BUNNY LEVITZ
Business Manager: BLANCHARD WISWELL

There were no one-act plays presented in competition for the Connolly Shield this year. Instead of having four or five shows, we had three.

The first of the season was the annual Freshman show. It was planned and directed by Bunny Levitz. We found a great deal of talent in the new class and members were seen later in the three-act play. The Freshman show was a variety programme and thought by many to be one of the best in the last few years.

Our next show was the three-act play "Big Hearted Herbert", under the direction of Miss Jacqueline Fowler. Miss Fowler has had experience on the stage at Mount Allison and in Summer Stock. The play chosen was quite different from any in recent years and the cast did very well to make the play a real success. The play was so well received by the University audience that it was decided to present the play again for the public and in aid of The Queen's Canadian Fund. On March 7th we raised over $100.00 for the Fund.

The last show of the year was Munro Day show. It was a short musical show with dances and songs of our Allies, as well as a Highland Band of tin whistles, violin, etc.

The night the one-act plays were to be presented the Glee Club had a masquerade dance. Not many came but it really was great fun and the many absent missed a good party.

We wish to thank all members of the Glee Club who worked backstage and all on the stage for their co-operation to make this year a success.

MAJOR HOGAN

Canadian Officers' Training Corps—C.O.T.C.

The most active organization on the campus during the past year (and fittingly so with the Dominion at war), has been the Dalhousie-King's Contingent of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps. Since the unit was established in 1914, it has been devoted to the training of officers for the non-permanent active militia. But with the entry of Canada into the war, when it fell to the universities of the Dominion to provide much of the officer material for the active forces, the training of cadets in the C.O.T.C. took on a new meaning. To that end the Dalhousie-Kings Contingent was re-organized in 1940, with Lt.-Col. C. B. Smith, M.C., in command, and Major R. V. Hogan, C.R.O, North Nova Scotia Highlanders, as Chief Instructor.

In this, the second years of the re-organization, the members of the unit have received an even more advanced training than was theirs in 1940-41. On May 15th, 1941, the contingent went to Aldershot, to undergo its two-week period of camp training. The officers at camp were Lt. Col. C. B. Smith, M.C., Commanding Officer; Major R. V. Hogan, Chief Instructor; Capt. R. L. Nixon, Capt. A. R. Jewett, Lieut. R. W. Begg, Lieut. W. S. K. Jones, Lieut. J. A. Chappell, and Second Lieutenants H. C. Reardon, W. J. McInnes, J. F. Keays, G. C. Milligan, C. Hutchins and R. J. Dunsmore.

A number of these men have not returned to the university this year, but have gone on active service with Canada's forces. R. L. Nixon is a Lt.-Paymaster in the Navy. J. A. Chappell holds a commission in the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, while H. C. Reardon is a lieutenant in the Halifax Rifles. Milligan and Hutchins are overseas, holding commissions in the Canadian Armoured Division and the West Nova Scotia Regiment respectively.

Lieutenants W. N. Wickwire and R. N. Ritchie, who last year were attached to the instructional staff of the unit, are now overseas, Ritchie with the Judge Advocate General's Department in London, and Wickwire with an anti-aircraft regiment. Philip Walker and Alex Nickerson are lieutenants in the Coastal Defence and Anti-Aircraft service.

To fill the places left open by the departure of these men from the university sphere, a number of new officers were commissioned. They were Second Lieutenants N. B. Anderson, J. C. Hallett, J. W. Ross, R. A. Morrow, and R. G. MacDonald. Added to instructional staff this year were Lieut. J. C. Douglas, M.A. (Dal.), as assistant to the Chief Instructor, and R.S.M. D. MacLean, W.O.I.

At the present time the strength of the unit is 15 officers and 234 other ranks. The training period began early in October and extended until late in March, covering with military thoroughness the fundamentals of infantry training. All cadets have received theoretical and practical instruction in Organization, Map Reading, Field Engineering, Care of Men, Training, Administration, Military Law, Drill, Small Arms Training, Staff Duties, Tactics and Physical Training. Generally parades were three in number, approximating six hours per week, until the required quota of one hundred and twenty hours for the year was reached.

Fifty cadets attended special lectures and engaged in special activities during the year, as a means of preparing themselves for a more active military life. This group was privileged to engage in schemes and manoeuvres which brought them in contact with Canada's fighting men of the land, sea and air: outings which possessed the two-fold advantage of being both interesting and instructive.

Some seventy-five university students took their training in the Auxiliary Training Corps, which was established by the university in order to fulfill the governmental requirements that all students who were physically fit and over eighteen should have military training. The A.T.C. training is administered by the C.O.T.C. instructional staff personnel, and is less advanced than the work done by the senior group.

That the Dalhousie-Kings Contingent of the C.O.T.C. is doing a real and important work in the field of preparing officer material, is evident from the fact that at the end of 1940 some thirty members of the unit had taken their places in active service on the various war fronts. And it is clear that as time goes on, the military training received at Dalhousie by its undergraduates and graduates will stand them in good stead. Dalhousie is doing its share, and its students are rallying round to carry out the wishes of the government leaders who have suggested that the student's place is in the university, where his scholastic and military training may be combined for the greatest good.

Delta Gamma

Delta Gamma is the organization that sponsors all the activities of women students at Dalhousie University. The only prerequisite to membership is the purchase of a Student Council ticket, and the only responsibility of members is that of co-operation with the officers and executive of the organization. The purpose of Delta Gamma is to make available to all its members a variety of those activities best suited to complement an academic life.

The activities which come under the jurisdiction of Delta Gamma cover a wide range. Those that attract the interest of the largest number of co-eds are the sports managed by the Dalhousie Girls' Athletic Club. The D.G.A.C. is responsible to Delta Gamma, but it operates as a separate society, the chief connecting link being that the president of the former is also the vice-president of the latter. Accounts of the various sports made available to Dalhousie woman students will be found elsewhere.

Among the various activities undertaken by Delta Gamma this year are several that have provided co-eds with an opportunity to assist in Canada's war effort. Many of the members of the Society have been devoting their spare time to knitting children's clothing for the Canadian Red Cross. Many others worked in collaboration with the Student Council Committee that put on the Red Cross Benefit Ball, assisting in the preparation and serving of refreshments, the soliciting for food and door prizes, the collection and sale of flowers, the sale of tickets and the advertising.

A new wartime activity was undertaken after Christmas when at a special meeting the members decided to devote a part of their spare time to entertainment of the men on active service who visit the Halifax branch of the Anzac Club from time to time. Groups of men have been entertained at tea both at Shirreff Hall and at the home of students who live in Halifax City. In addition to this, groups of girls have given a number of evenings over to sing-songs, games and dancing at the Anzac Club.

The annual informal dance in aid of the Community Chest Fund was more successful this year than last, so that Delta Gamma was able to make a larger contribution to this charity fund.

There will be no one-act play among this year's activities because there is no Connelly Shield competition.

The Intercollegiate Debating team, under the able management of Anita Rosenblum, defeated the Mount Allison team in their first debate of the season. The same team, Kathleen Martin and Margaret Hyland, are to debate against the Acadia University team in March.

Delta Gamma held its third Sadie Hawkins dance this year and this informal costume party was most successful. The net proceeds of the dance will be subscribed towards Mt. Allison drive.

The president wishes to take this opportunity to thank the members of Delta Gamma for their splendid co-operation in carrying through the various projects of the year. The duties of the Social Chairman, Frances Webster, have been heavier this year than usual, and have been performed very well. The other members of the Executive also have shown themselves both willing and capable in their various offices. This year's competent Secretary-Treasurer, Mary Boswell, will become president of the Society next year. Under her leadership may Delta Gamma succeed in realizing its purpose for Dalhousie University woman students even more fully than it has done this year.

The Meaning and Aim of Physical Education at Dalhousie

For a college, "physical education is the sum of one's physical activities, selected according to kind and conducted according to outcomes." Selection according to kind implies therefore, that activities vary in worth and that those of educational merit will be chosen; conduction according to outcomes suggests that the activities will be carried on to secure the values inherent within the activities themselves. These outcomes are mental, moral, and social quite as well as physical.

It is most desirable that physical education should occupy itself with a program of activity for the participant which would secure these physical aspects of health without fail, as by-products, as it were, while the student is being guided in the doing of things which will result in the acquirement of mental, moral, and social benefits.

"The aims of the department are the development of organic power, the basis of vitality, the prerequisite to physical and mental efficiency; to secure and maintain a harmonious muscular development and a reasonable degree of bodily skill and grace; to provide an incentive and an opportunity for every student to secure physical recreation as a balance to the sedentary demands of university life; to conserve the social and moral values of games and sports; to establish high ideals and efficient administration of athletics; to develop judgment, leadership, 'fellowship' and a love of recreation; to teach types of recreational activity which will hold over after college.

"Physical education should aim to provide skilled leadership and adequate facilities that will afford an opportunity for the individual or group to act in situations that are physically wholesome, mentally stimulating and satisfying, and socially sound."

Girls' Sport at Dalhousie, 1941-1942

By PHYLLIS WRAY BARRETT

A surge of interest has reactivated Women's Sports at Dalhousie. Sixty per cent of the women students are taking part regularly in physical activity. Last year only thirty per cent took part. The Dalhousie Girls' Athletic Club has reorganized its whole sports' program. The result is increased participation in basketball and badminton. More girls are playing basketball, more are playing badminton, and more played ground hockey.

This increased interest has been mainly brought about by the leadership of the students who are officers of the D.G.A.C. These officers have worked hard and have not hesitated to put in time and thought to encourage the sports' program. Mary MacKeigan, as President of the D.G.A.C., has headed up the work and has done an excellent job.

The reorganization of the D.G.A.C. program initiated the Activities Club System. Every woman student registering at Dalhousie, automatically becomes a member of one of three Activity Clubs, the Reds, the Golds or the Blacks. To this Club she belongs throughout her college years. Competition in all the various sports is carried on amongst these three Clubs, each girl playing for her own club teams.

The Interclub Basketball League has just been finished with enthusiastic and vigorous support from all basketball players. Chris Arklie as Basketball Manager, and Dot MacKenzie, captain of the Golds, Kay Smith, captain of the Reds, organized and ran this most successful league.

An Interclub Badminton League is now in process of being played. Marjorie Parkes has been in charge of this league, assisted by Pat Hollis, captain of the Reds. Marjorie has also been assisting Professor Mercer in organizing and running tournaments between the Dalhousie Badminton Team and City Teams.

A new activity has been inaugurated for women at Dalhousie. The D.G.A.C. decided to spend funds on equipment for Archery. Since Christmas there have been girls shooting in the lower gymnasium. Great progress has been shown and next year Dalhousie should be able to take part in Telegraphic Archery Tournaments with other universities all across Canada.

Great credit is due to the leaders of the different activities for the very much increased participation of Dalhousie women in Physical Education. While Health and Physical Education have only the verbal approval of the authorities, there national importance is becoming increasingly plain, viz., the high percentage of rejections of both male and female applicants to the Services on medical grounds. Therefore it is encouraging to note the increased interest of students, who are fortunately placed in a university with good facilities, not only to participate, but to organize and lead in physical activities.

Co-ed Basketball

Manager: CHRIS ARKLIE

Coach: PHYL BARRETT

Coincident with the increased activity in co-ed sports during the past year has been the development of a new interest in girls' basketball. Under the auspices of the D.G.A.C., Dalhousie co-eds were organized into three groups: Reds, Golds and Blacks, and a basketball schedule drawn up in which these teams engaged. The Blacks, under the leadership of captain Chris Arklie led the league until the last game, when they were defeated by the Golds to tie up the race. However, on a basis of points scored by the three teams in league games, the Golds edged out the Blacks by a 100 to 99 margin, and so the Golds were declared winners.

GOLDS—Dot McKenzie (Capt.), Xenia Reid, Jean Stewart, Sirlol Lewis, Laura Bissett, Marg Morrison, Inez Smith, Kay Hicks.

BLACKS—Mary MacKeigan, Anita Rosenblum, Anita Reid, Lynn Marcus, Doshie Stairs, Chris Arklie (Capt.), Jean McLellan, Sue Morse.

REDS—Vera Crummey, Helen Henshaw, Norrie Douglas, Grace Burris, Phyl Blakely, Ruth James, Kay Smith (Capt.), Joan Archibald.

In the field of intercollegiate basketball the co-eds had only two games. Both of these were with Acadia, the first being played February 14th, when the Tigerettes travelled to Wolfville. The score in this contest was 35-13 in favour of the Acadia co-eds, but the Dal girls were awaiting an opportunity on February 28th to square accounts when the Axettes were scheduled to make an appearance in the Dal gym. for the Shirreff Hall sextet blamed their poor showing on too much Junior Prom the night before.

FIRST TEAM—Mary MacKeigan, Anita Rosenblum, Anita Reid, Inez Smith, Vera Crummey, Doshie Stairs, Kay Smith, Marg Morrison, Laura Bissett.

SECOND TEAM—Xenia Reid, Lynn Marcus, Helen Henshaw, Dot McKenzie, Norrie Douglas, Jean McLellan, Chris Arklie.

Dalhousie Sport Scene 1941-42

By "TARZAN MOOSE",

who brings them back alive

The past year on the Dalhousie sports front has been a relatively bright one: for Dal students have taken a keen interest in athletics as participants, although their enthusiasm as spectators has left something to be desired. Early in the fall, Canadian university authorities realized that the healthy bodies required for the Dominion's war effort could best be developed by organized sports—and so the ban on intercollegiate fixtures was partially lifted. Each university was permitted to make two trips away from home. And so a modified form of intercollegiate sports activity was made possible, and Dalhousie looked forward to renewing its athletic battles with Acadia, and perhaps other Maritime university rivals. The only cloud on an otherwise blue horizon was the state of the D.A.A.C. finances. A greatly decreased student registration had meant that fewer funds were available in all branches of student activity, and Dal's athletes resigned themselves to operating on a smaller budget.

In the major sport field, that is, football, hockey and basketball, the year has been successful to an unexpected degree. The rugbyists topped the Halifax City League, and qualified to play St. F. X. in McTier Cup competition. St. F. X. proved to be just too strong, however, and the football Tigers went down by an 8-0 score.

The hockeyists were entered in the Service League, and in spite of a slow start, almost managed to clinch a playdown berth. A heartbreaking 3-3 tie with St. Mary's edged them out, however, and their season was over.

The basketball team has had the most successful season of any of the three major sports. Undefeated in City League play, they won the City League title and the Provincial Championship by winning a two-game, total-goal series from the Navy by a handy margin. And at the time of writing they were looking forward to meeting the New Brunswick winner in a series for the Maritime Championship.

Among the more hectic and amusing of the pre-Christmas athletic struggles was an hilarious field hockey fixture played between Payne's Pummellers and Barrett's Bouncers. The masculine strategy was conceived by Major Hogan, resplendent in tam o' shanter, and was prosecuted in full vigor by "Gentleman" Mike Smith, "Peeping Tom" Tasman, "Moose" MacLeod, "Wild Bill" Hagen, "Darling Don" Kirkpatrick, "Madcap" Matthew, "Boozie" Blois, and others of the same ilk who turned out to be done in. That the female of the species is more deadly than the male was amply demonstrated by "Doshie" Stairs, the Reid sisters (Xenia and Anita), the Morse sisters (Bunny and Sue), Irma MacQuarrie, Marg Morrisson, and Lynn Marcus, who made a belated but destructive entrance. From the point of goals scored, the issue is still in doubt, obscured by the mountains of mud slung by the over-zealous contestants. But to this day Dal's males shy away from a Dal co-ed bearing a hockey stick.

In interfaculty football, a schedule was drawn up and supervised by "Yank" Forsyth. In the first league clash Engineers defeated Lawyers, with Blanchard Wiswell and Harry MacHattie hitting paydirt for the winners. They in turn were eliminated by Arts and Science, who boasted such stalwarts as Gerald Roy, Don Kirkpatrick, Lindon Horne, Johnny Fraser and Myer Zatsman. In the final, championship game, the Arts and Science entry was tackled by the Meds, who were making their only appearance as defending champions. The result was a muddy 3-0 win for A. and S., with Gerald Roy, "The Green Hornet" tallying the only score of the game.

In interfaculty basketball no champion has been declared at the time of writing, although a schedule is being run through, with teams representing Law, Medicine, Commerce and Kings taking part.

Due to the lack of ice, it was impossible to arrange an interfaculty hockey league, and so Medicine retains its championship won from Law the year before.

All Dalhousie's sporting activities for the past year are discussed in the following pages. It is sufficient to say, in closing this brief survey of minor sports, that an improvement has been noticed as far as the "spirit" of Dalhousie is concerned. It is understandable, perhaps, that a great many who are engaged in professional studies have neither the time nor the inclination to participate in varsity or interfaculty athletics. But it is also understandable that an all-round sports programme is a prerequisite to a healthy university life, and so the increased interest of the student body in affairs athletic has been heartening. It is certainly devoutly to be wished that in ensuing years the policy will be to expand the athletic program to include an ever greater number of undergraduates.

Among the brighter spots of the university year has been the showing of the Dalhousie Tigers in the Halifax City League. Starting the season in the fall with an exhibition game in the gym, in which they were opposed by the "Y" Intermediates, the Tigers began a string of seven consecutive victories, which lasted until the same two teams met in late February in the "Y" gym. Playing in the City League, with teams representing Navy, Air Force and Acadia, the Bengals were unbeatable in league competition. Their drive in the attempt to take the Halifax City League championship was featured by double wins over the sailors, 45-24 and 39-26, with similar double wins over the airmen with the scores of 33-19, and 26-14, and also over the Axemen, 51-19, and 32-13. At the time of writing there is every indication that the gold and black clad Tigers will continue their winning pace and take the Navy through in the two game, total score playoff for the League championship.

The basic Tiger strategy during the season has been one of a strong defence coupled with a delayed, but lightning-like offense. Backbone of the defense, but nevertheless an important cog in the offensive, have been Mike Smith and Ben Wilson, who are playing their third year with the Dal. hoop machine. Their height and speed have worked to great advantage in repelling opposition thrusts under the basket, and chalking up Dal. scores when the going got heavy. At centre was Captain Al MacLeod, lanky play-maker and scoring artist, who was flanked by Alfred "Yank" Forsyth and Jack "Lightning" MacKenzie, speedsters par excellent, and full-fledged masters of the scoring technique. Reserve strength of the squad was supplied by Dawson MacDonald, who played his first season with the Tigers, and Russ Webber, a Halifax Academy product, whose basketball prowess is exceeded only by his football and hockey ability. Charlie Dunbrack substituted in the forward line when the going got rough for the regulars, and did a grand job.

The Intermediate Cubs were singularly unfortunate in their league. In spite of the fine efforts of Dave Doig, John Fraser, Bruce Bauld, Doug Hicks and the others who made up the squad, they failed to make an outstanding effort in the intermediate league, although on a number of occasions they lost games by one point margin.

This is a chronicle of sporting men and stirring athletic encounters of the athletes who were the Dalhousie Tigers, and of their exploits which brought them within an ace of achieving the McTier Cup, emblematic of Eastern Canadian rugby supremacy. For the Bengals were the class of the Halifax City League, winning five out of six games to take the City Championship, but succumbing to the unbeatable power of St. Francis Xavier in a Remembrance Day McTier Cup contest.

No Dal student will forget the march of the Tigers toward the first city championship that Dal has won in recent years. Jo-Jo Feindel, elected captain of the squad by his team-mates, provided much of the spirited drive demonstrated by the three-quarter line. But his flanking mates, Marty MacDonald, Jack "Lightning" McKenzie, and Don "Duckfoot" McLean, were equally adept at broken-field running, as well as the short-passing line attack. In the fullback position, Russ Webber held his own in every kicking duel in which he engaged with opposition booters. To complete the running end of the Tiger attacking forces, there were "Yank" Forsythe, the speedy flying-quarter, whose home is in Long Island, N. Y., John McCormack, ball-quarter who hails from Cape Breton, and "Dooley" MacIntosh, picking quarter, upon whose able shoulders rested much of the strategy employed by the Bengals.

The Dal scrum proved to be a powerful force in the football campaign. Too often the "muscle men" have been ignored when the bouquets have been handed out at the end of the season, and credit denied them for the unspectacular, but nevertheless mightily effective work they did. The two-fold task of providing some "push" for the scrum and some protection for the picking quarter, fell to Webster MacDonald and Gordie Wilson, who toiled effectively in the tail-up positions. The key men of the forwards were Gordon Hennigar, 175 pounds of helmeted pep, vim and push, and Napier "Andy" Anderson, who used his speed and weight to play a lovely two-way game. Playing his last year for Burney Ralston's fifteen was Ron Ideson, experienced and aggressive front-liner, whose "surge" mate was Ian McGregor, not so big, but plenty tough when the chips were down. And finally, the educated feet of Lawrence "Muck" MacIvor, centre-heeler, provided the footwork that so often took the ball from the opponent when the scrums "went down."

Unfortunately, due to pressure of other activities, practices were generally poorly attended. Consequently the showing made by the Tigers exceeded the fondest expectations of their most hopeful supporters. One of the highlights of the season was the lifting of the ban on intercollegiate sport. As a result, Dal and Acadia were enabled to renew their old rivalry, the Tigers winning both contests, 8-5, and 12-6. Other Dal wins were: 6-3 over St. Mary's, 8-3 and 12-8 over Wanderers. During the schedule the Bengals lost only one fixture, 3-0, to the Navy. The final game of the season was the unhappy encounter with St. F. X. on Nov. 11th. Dalhousie hopes had been built up to the point where many believed that the Tigers would cop the McTier Cup, but in all fairness it must be said that the Xaverian win was clear-cut and decisive. The final score was 8-0, but in losing the Bengals nevertheless acquitted themselves with the same spirit and sportsmanlike conduct that had marked their play from the beginning of the season.

The Intermediates were faithful as ever, although unlucky as far as winning games was concerned. However, to them must be given a great deal of the credit for the successful season enjoyed by the Seniors: for the intermediates provided the opposition in practice which enabled the Seniors to develop the skill and stamina required of City League champions.

Badminton

Mgr.: JACK MATTHEW

Asst. Mgr.: KEN BOITE

Much of the student interest in sports in 1941-42 has been devoted to badminton, a game not of strength, but of speed and skill. On Monday nights, when the main gym floor was turned over to the bird and racquet enthusiasts, it was not unusual to see from twenty to forty undergrads, the experts and the "dubs", playing their favourite game with unbounded enthusiasm. The coach of the players has been Clyde Sperry, an outstanding performer in Maritime badminton and tennis circles. To Professor Mercer must go a great deal of credit for his efforts at organization. Under his leadership, with the assistance of Marjorie Parkes, who arranged for the co-ed turnout, competitive tournaments with outside teams were held almost every week during the winter. It had been hoped at the beginning of the season, that it would be possible to organize a league, but this proved to be impossible.

The annual tournament to decide the university champions in Men's Singles, Ladies' Singles, Ladies' Doubles and Mixed Doubles is, at the time of writing, being run off. Winners have been declared in only one of these classifications, the Ladies' Doubles having been won by Anne Goodeve and Laura MacKenzie. In the men's division, the outstanding performer during the year has been Del Gibson, who has dominated the field in the tournaments of the past two years, and who bids fair to make it three in a row.

The thanks of the campus badminton group is extended to the Alumni for their assistance in providing refreshments on badminton "nights" and also to Phyl Barrett, who has devoted much of her time to teaching the freshettes the fundamentals of the game, and whose efforts will undoubtedly provide Dalhousie with some expert racquet-wielders for the future.

Hockey

Manager: JOHN SCRYMGEOUR

For some years past misfortune has consistently dogged the path of Dalhousie's hockey teams. And this year, at the beginning of the season, there were indications that another unhappy series of reverses was in prospect. The greatest difficulty was in the lack of ice, as practice periods for the team in the local ice palace could not be secured for love nor money, even if the D.A.A.C. could have devoted sufficient of the latter for the purpose. However, determined that the Tiger hockey flag should be kept flying at all costs, the team's executive helped organize the Service League, with teams from Dal, St. Mary's, and the Navy Intermediates.

The Bengals dropped their first two starts, losing to the Santamarians by a 5-2 score, and to the Navy 5-1. Prospects were indeed dark, but when the Tigers played a 5-4 exhibition contest with the Navy seniors, the future took on a brighter aspect. The Dal squad had yet to play Acadia, however, and in the first encounter the Axemen, playing in their own backyard, took the game. But in the next league game, the Tigers began to hit their scoring stride and nosed out the Navy, 5-4. The following evening they again travelled to Acadia, and showed unexpected power to down the Axemen 8-6. And at the time of writing, the hockey Bengals, having won two straight fixtures.

Only lack of condition has prevented this year's edition of the Tigers from making a better early-season showing. Ted Hennigar is custodian of the nets, whose specialty is the sensational save at the crucial moment. On the defence, Russ Webber, hardest hitter in the league, and captain of this year's team, works beside Web MacDonald, one hundred and eighty pounds of forcefulness that hockey players are advised to avoid if humanly possible.

The team packs a lot of punch in its forward lines. Centre of the first string is Gordie Wilson, former Halifax Academy star, who is flanked by Bill Fraser, the "powerhouse" of the team, and Jim McKelvie, the squad's high-scorer to date. Alex "Dooley" MacIntosh centres the second line, and gives it strength it lacked last year, when he was required to use his weight and talents on the defence. His wings are Gerald Lantz, most effective back-checking artist, and Marty McDonald, the leading scorer of last year's team, and one of the hardest workers on the line-up. Jack-of-all-trades, the utility man on the sextet is Bob Blois, of last year's team, and a hardy performer. Credit is due Burnie Ralston, coach, and "Sandy MacDonald", president of the league.

The Malcolm Honour Award

In the summer of 1903 James Malcolm, a graduate in Arts that spring, gave his life in an heroic attempt to save a drowning comrade. Those who knew him realized that such a death was a fitting close to a life of unselfish service to others. To keep the ideals of Jimmy Malcolm before the eyes of all Dalhousians, the James Malcolm Honour Society was formed. As members of this society are chosen those of each year's graduating class, who, in the opinion of fellow students have shown, in the proper degree, the spirit which inspired his life. Its award of a small gold key is the highest honour which can be conferred by Dalhousie students on one of their number.

LOUISE BISHOP

Numerous activities on the campus which owe at least a portion of their success in the last few years to the untiring efforts of Louise Bishop, "Our Dalhousie Dream Girl", are the Students' Council, '40-'41, '41-'42, Literary Editor of the Gazette, President of Delta Gamma, '41-'42. Secretary-Treasurer in '40-'41, Intercollegiate Debating, Midlothian Society, Glee Club and Year Book. More notable however than her actual accomplishments in campus life, has been her dependability and ever gracious manner, no matter how small or large the task might be.

As an appreciation of her unselfish and efficient service to the University, the students of Dalhousie are proud to show their appreciation by awarding Louise with the Malcolm Honour Key. Proud are we to have her wear it through her walk of life, which we hope, will be as successful as her days at college have been.

Bob Walter Award

ROBERT WILCOX

This year the Bob Walter Award went to the President of the Engineering Society, Robert Wilcox. The award is the highest honour which the Society can bestow upon its graduates. Instituted last year in remembrance of Bob Walter, the award was first won by Bert Vail. It is given each year to the man who best exemplifies the qualities which Bob Walter himself possessed—those qualities of fellowship, sportsmanship and scholarship. Congratulations. Bob!

Pan Hellenic Award

MISS DOROTHY STAIRS

Pan Hellenic Award was instituted three years ago, and is presented by the two women's fraternities on this campus, Alpha Gamma Delta and Pi Beta Phi. The award is made to the most outstanding Freshette in scholarship, extra curricular activities, personality and character. This year the award committee conferred the honour on Miss Dorothy Stairs, of Halifax, N. S.

Your Reading

Education and information is a matter not only of necessity but of pride with every serious-minded reader.

Reading must go further than newspapers and novels, and sound information must be sought on the great questions of religion, education, literature, science and politics.

The Dalhousie Review

The Dalhousie Review—Canada's literary quarterly magazine—supplies this class of reading.

The Dalhousie Review aims at following the example of the great British magazines in the free, intelligent and independent discussion of public questions.

Annual Subscription only $2.00, or three years for $5.00
