

R. Vewer

25 Aug 1790

Mr. Roy
at the Duke of Northumberland's at St. Albans

Richmond 25 Aug: 1790

Mr. Roy

S^r.

The Gentleman who is the Reader of this, is a Native of Scotland, and has been sometimes in Richmond reading Lectures on Philosophy & the Sciences. He is the Son of a Person of great Abilities, and I could not help wishing you to have an Hour conversation with him, in consequence of which I have desired him to wait on you, and would have accompanied him myself, but this Night I set off for Carlisle

I am
S^r. Y^{rs} Sincerely
R. Vewer

[Faint, illegible handwriting, possibly a list or account entry]

[Faint, illegible handwriting, possibly a list or account entry]

[Faint, illegible handwriting, possibly a list or account entry]

[Faint, illegible handwriting, possibly a list or account entry]