THE DALHOUSIE REVIEW

Invites contributions in Prose or in Verse from both new and established writers. Manuscripts submitted should not exceed 5,000 words, verse contributions 300 words. Able discussions of literary, historical, educational, political, social and other problems as well as original and imaginative short story fiction will be considered. All manuscripts should be typewritten and should be accompanied by an addressed envelope and return postage in Canadian stamps or International Reply Coupons. Editorial correspondence should be addressed to the Editor, The Dalhousie Review, Dalhousie University, Halifax, Canada. Correspondence regarding Subscriptions, Advertising and Business matters generally should be addressed to the Business Manager, The Dalhousie Review, Dalhousie University, Halifax, Canada.

The contents of The Dalhousie Review are listed in The Canadian Index, Canadian Library Association, Ottawa. The Dalhousie Review is authorized as second class mail by the Post Office Department, Ottawa.

Tough, adaptable, enterprising, the Husky dog was a key factor in pioneering and maintaining the winter trade routes of Canada's Far North. But the old yields to the new. The role of the Husky is slowly being taken over by 'plane and snowmobile, as new pioneers create faster, better transportation to meet today's needs.

Breaking trails . . .

There is pioneering in the Royal Bank's business, too. In areas of new development, you see it in our branches; in areas of service, you may find it in fields you had not previously thought of. Alert to changing needs, we have improved existing methods and facilities, and created new, specialized departments. Today, we offer many services beyond the realm of routine banking. They are available to all customers who require them.
