EXTRACT FROM THE PRESIDENT'S CONVO- CATION ADDRESS.

It is the stage of looking to the future in our career that is the important one for us today. Within the last few years we began to look inward and to take stock of ourselves and of our possibilities and capabilities, and of our duties, and realized that we were narrow in our vision of the future, cramped in our surroundings, and undutiable to the public in not confiding to them our needs, and to our students in not asking our friends and theirs for that assistance which was needed to supply other sides of their daily life besides the classroom report of it. This mental and material stock-taking has done a wonderful good, and led to equally beneficial results. We appealed to the public and found the public appreciated our work, and only needed to have our wants presented properly to them to have their full and generous assistance. Fortune put it in our way just at the opportune time to come into possession of one of the finest Universities sites the country could supply; and with part of the money that is being given to us now going into buildings, you see the beginnings of the Dalhousie of the future taking form.

Optimism and Faith.

Best of all the results of our introspection and consequent getting to work, is that it has bred in us a new faith in ourselves, and Dalhousie has become a nest of optimists. This optimism is based on their faith in the future rapid progress of these Maritime Provinces, and the need of such an institution as Dalhousie. As there is no institution with greater power for good in a community than a university, so there is no place where optimism is of more penetrating and permanent value, for it is bound to be tempered with clearness of thinking.

This optimism and faith in our future has spread to our alumni and students; you already know of what our women graduates, and students have done toward providing a residence for the young women who come from homes outside the city to study with us. What they have done is only an earnest of what they will accomplish in raising funds for the building of a proper residence on the new campus, which they are now engaged in. They couldn't even fail if they tried. Residences for men are an equally urgent necessity, now that the supply of boarding accommodations in the city is becoming thoroughly inadequate, and if some of our friends would only supply the building it would be self-supporting, and provide for a side of the training of students that it is not easy to exaggerate the importance of. But our men students are not being outdone in this spirit of devotedness. I cannot express too strongly my admiration of the enthusiastic and united spirit in which, realizing that the resources at the disposal of the governors were inadequate, they have initiated and followed up a scheme to provide money for a students' building as a focus for the social, athletic and institutional side of student life. It will fill a want long felt by everyone who has ever been a Dalhousie student. We will then only need a residential system to round out our ideal Dalhousie.

I cannot close without calling your attention to one side of this student movement. It is not a selfish movement. Those who will do the work and collect the money will get the least use of the building they help to put up. It is their successors in their seats in the class room and in their positions on the football field who will reap the greatest advantage. I think that both in the case of the alumnae and alumni this is something for you to remember.

MACDONALD MEMORIAL LIBRARY.

The corner stone of the long wished for Macdonald library was laid on Wednesday, May 30th, in the presence of a large number of students, visitors and citizens. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Allan Pollock D. D., an old friend of Professor Macdonald. Dr. Pollock gave a brief address, telling of some of the characteristics of Professor Macdonald. After a few other brief speeches (among them one by Theodore Ross, Esq., who was one of the "promoters" of this memorial) the proceedings were closed by the benediction from Dean Llywd.

This is the second building to be put up on the new campus, and it is being pushed forward rapidly.

THE BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

The Baccalaureate Sermon this Spring was delivered in St. Mary's Cathedral on Sunday, April 19th at 7 o'clock. A large number of the students and their friends attended and the seating capacity of the Cathedral was taxed to its utmost to accommodate the congregation.

The preacher who was selected to deliver this sermon was Rev. Father Jas. T. MacDermott, D. M. I., and he fully sustained his reputation as an orator of merit. He dealt with his text in a masterly manner and his clear, pleasing voice held the attention of all his auditors. In a series of clear and convincing arguments he presented proofs of the divinity of Christ and showed the inability of Science to rise to the heights which the spiritual side of man demands for happiness.

The text was taken from Luke ii, 29—now, Lord, lettest Thou thy servant depart in peace according to thy words; for mine eyes have seen thy salvation.

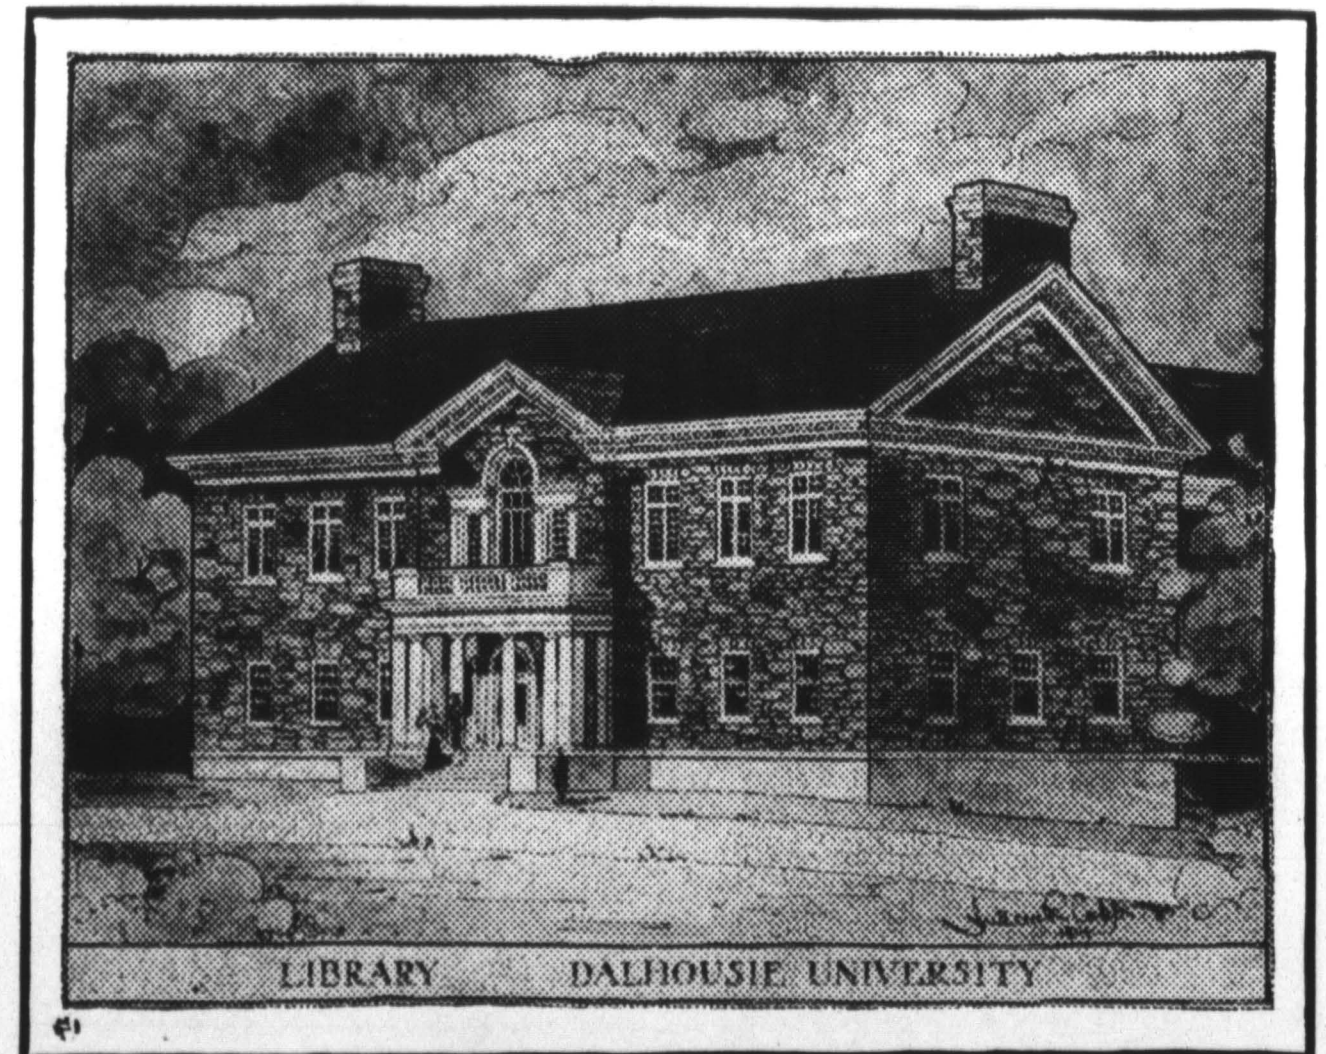

In introducing the text Father McDermott said that these words were spoken by the holy man Simeon when Christ was brought into the temple. He spoke of the peace and joy which Simeon experienced on that occasion. The apostles must have experienced it in a more complete and deeper measure after the resurrection. The resurrection removed all doubt from them and established their faith that their Master was the Messiah foretold by the prophets and so they went forth to convert the world to the faith of a crucified and risen God.

The grounds of the apostles' belief were —First, the fulfilment by Christ of all prophecies, types and figures that had gone before; then the unmistakable evidences of divinity given by Himself on earth, namely, His words, His miracles, His prophecies, the sublimity of His doctrine, and the sanctity of His life.

After elaborating on these points and showing from numerous Scripture references that His divinity could be proved in an incontrovertable manner, the preacher continued to show how in the nineteenth century Christ reigned over the hearts and minds of men.

"There have been," said Napoleon, "three great generals in the world, Ceasar, Alexander and myself. In spite of all their efforts Ceasar and Alexander are now but themes for schoolboys. Who loves them now? So with myself. My memory will live perhaps fifty or sixty years in the hearts of some brave men, and after that none will love me more. But there is one who is still loved after eighteen hundred years. That one is Jesus Christ. I know something of men and I tell you he was not a man."

CONVOCATION.

The fiftieth Convocation of the University was held on May 31st. The day was all that could be desired, and as usual the Academy of Music was packed from pit to gallery with the friends of graduates and staff. In all seventy-two degrees were conferred, twenty-five in Arts, one in Science, eighteen in Law, four in Medicine, four in Dentistry. Eight received the degree of Master of Arts, one Master of Science, and two Diploma of Licentiate in Music. Two Honorary degrees of LL. D. were conferred on Rev. A. Mclean Sinclair of Hopewell and Prof. J. E. Creighton, Dean of the graduate School of Cornell University.

The President's speech, part of which will be found on another page, sounded a note of optimism and faith in the future of the University. Brief addresses were also given by the two new Doctors of Laws, and by President Cutten of Acadia, and Dr. Forrest closed with the Benediction.

After convocation, the graduates were given a reception by the President at his residence, 14 Hollis St.

The list of graduates and prize winners is as follows:

CLASS 1914, ARTS AND SCIENCE.

*"For what can compare in this world so fair
With four years at Dalhousie."*

R. S. Adams.

"He'll be a credit to us a' "

R. S. Adams coming from Truro entered Dalhousie as a freshie soph. At Dal Bert has a good record as a student in the Engineering branch of the Arts and Science faculty. He has always taken a lively interest in athletics, being the mainstay of the class football and hockey teams. We wish him every success in his future work.

A. D. Archibald.

"Count on a friend in faith and practice."

A. D. Archibald comes from Newton, Guysborough Co. A. D. has always been a hard student spending most of his time at his books. He dropped out during our Junior year but was back again this year. Of a quiet, earnest disposition, A. D. will be a good man in the church and we feel sure that he will 'make good' in his chosen life work.

Harry Earle Britton.

"For he was a jolly good fellow."

Harry is both easy to see and easy to hear. If you see him you are certain to hear him, and if you hear him the chances are that you will see him. Generally in good humor, though it is reported that when scarlet fever had started him on the road to the "pest-house" a few celestial beings were invoked in his aid.

After two years in Arts, he entered Medicine and in due time will be a full-fledged doctor.

THE COUNCIL OF THE STUDENTS, 1913-14.

H. W. Kirkpatrick    W. L. Fraser    F. D. Graham, B. A.    H. S. Moore    J. B. Hayes, B. Sc.
C. W. Parker,    P. Macaulay    J. McG. Stewart, B. A.    M. McLeod    W. A. Ross
Treas.    Secy.

C. A. Evans    W. B. Coulter.

Gordon Charles Brown.

*"I fear thy kisses gentle maiden
Thou needest not fear mine."*

Brown is one of the several freshie-sophs who entered after the class had already weathered freshmen troubles. Entering from Halifax Academy with a Sir Wm. Young scholarship, he has slipped through Dal about as quietly as the pendulum left the College clock. A hard worker, he has always stood well in his classes, but beyond that has derived far too little from the extraneous of a College education. The ministry will find him an orthodox follower.

Alexander B. Campbell.

"He holds no parley with unmanly fears."

A. B. Campbell came to Dalhousie from Pictou Academy in 1909. After staying out a year he joined us in our Sophomore year. The same year he held the position of class secretary. Alex then decided to discontinue his Arts course and enter Medicine. A good student and a good athlete, he is well liked by all who know him. His great weight gained him the position of lock in the first team which he was able to hold against all comers.

Jean Campbell.

*"I wish her store
Of worth may leave her poor
Of wishes: and I wish no more."*

Jean is a charter member of Class '14, and has always been one of its most faithful workers. Her election as permanent member of the Class executive is a recognition of her untiring interest in class affairs.

Jean is noted for her good nature and is one of the most obliging girls alive. Class '14 wishes her every success.

John James Creighton.

*"Broad in the shoulders, deep-chested,
With muscles and sinews of iron."*

Coming to Dal from Rogers Hill, Pictou Co., by way of Pictou Academy, John soon made a name for himself as an athlete. During the last two years he has been one of the most valuable players on the first football and basket-ball teams. His ability to "heel" and "find the basket" have largely contributed to many victories, and we hope to have him back next year.

Waldo P. Crowe.

*"Gif ye want a friend that's true,
I'm on your list."*

Waldo P. Crowe, another of our Engineers is not very well known outside the class. He has always stood by the class although after his second year left Dalhousie to study at the Technical College. Crowe is a clever man in his own line of business and will make a great success as an engineer. Quiet and unassuming in his manners he has the best wishes of all.

Cyril Ansel Evans.

"A proper young man of excellent growth and presence."

Of the several freshmen who entered from Halifax Academy in 1910, Cyril alone has weathered the exams. In his four years at Dal. he has proven himself a good college man. As a member of the Council and president of the class in its Junior year he has shown sound judgment and good executive ability. Although looking forward to the ministry during the first three years of his course, he finally decided for engineering and will consequently spend one more year at Dal.

William Lawrence Fraser.

"Sana mens in sano corpore."

"Bill" was a valuable addition to the class in its second year. Coming from New Glasgow High School, where his ability as a hockey player has already been proven, he at once made first team and has been one of its main stays ever since. A member of the Council and sec'y of the class during the past year, he has been deservedly popular. He will return next term to complete the engineering course and has been chosen captain of the hockey team.

Esther Gilliatt.

"Common sense and kindness, and every modest grace."

Esther entered the class in its second year, coming from Annapolis Academy. She is a good student and has taken an active interest in athletics, being a member of the first basket-ball team.

Good judgment and a large amount of that uncommon article—common sense—are characteristics of Esther.

Her chosen profession is teaching, and she will join the large band of Dalhousie teachers in the West.

William Fielding Hanna.

*"Determined to play second fiddle to none
I'll climb to the top of the tree."*

Hanna is a product of Middle Musquodoboit. He is of a modest, retiring disposition, not widely known around College, but those who know him best, know him as a good student and a genial friendly fellow. He was not with us last year, but joined us again this session. After completing his Arts course he will enter Law and in his chosen profession there is no doubt that he will make a name for himself.

• Oscar Howe Kirk.

*"Come and trip it as ye go,
On the light fantastic toe."*

Howe Kirk hails from the town of Dalhousie, N. B. After passing through Colchester Academy he entered Dal. Kirk is one of the most talented men of the class, but his motto "Never let your studies interfere with your education", didn't tend to land him very high in the pass lists. After spending three years at Dal. he accepted a position at Buffalo, N. Y.; but he intends completing his course at a future date.

Peter MacAulay.

*"All that in woman is adored,
In thy dear self I find"*—

Peter is a product of Cape Breton, Baddeck being the particular locality that nurtured his adolescence, and indeed, it has a lot to answer for. Always having a weakness for the fair sex, he has been especially conspicuous in social matters. Whatever subject may be discussed, Peter will always have his say, and beyond question, holds the college record for length of preamble. A member of the Council for two years, and business manager of the "Gazette" during the past year, he has taken quite a prominent part in college affairs. Having joined the disciples of Blackstone, he will ere long be holding forth before the bench.

James William McDonald.

*"Before me shone a glorious world,
Fresh as a banner bright, unfurled."*

In "Bill" we have a true optimist. Another product of Pictou County he also came by the route of Pictou Academy. The person who has heard him utter a word of dissatisfaction or discontent has yet to be found. Of late he has become satisfied with Halifax as the home of his adoption, and rumor has it that the fair sex have been involved in the change. As a future electrical engineer his success is certain, his profession being chosen in accordance with his undoubted ability.

Jessie MacDougall.

"Witty, talented, debonnaire."

One of the most talented girls in College, Jessie has maintained a brilliant record in scholarship, along with a great diversity of interests. She has been prominent in the social life of the College, and has taken an active part in many College activities. In her junior year she was elected Secretary of Delta Gamma, and in her Senior year became its president. She has also been a good member of the Dramatic Club.

Another teacher that class '14 is giving to the West, they confidently predict success for her.

Annie L. MacGrath.

"Consistency- I never changed my mind."

Annie MacGrath joined us in our Junior year. Coming in with a splendid record from Prince of Wales College, her ability and faithful work have won her an enviable standing. While not widely known in College, her friendship is prized by those who know her well, and she has the very best wishes of her class.

Joseph Percy McGrath.

*"Would'st not play false
And yet would'st wrongly win."*

Jeff breezed through two years in Arts with a minimum of concern, then, without any public declaration or notice of the shock, suddenly became a medical. The change has, however, proven beneficial and we are now dangerously confronted with the possibility of one day reading a doctor's shingle with the above nomenclature. Here's to him.

Walter Neville McGrath."I look at all things as they are."*

Walter also lasted two years in Arts, then tried one year engineering, and during the past term has been teaching in the Industrial School. Consult either he or Jeff on the merits and demerits of that little game of "Bug," whatever that may be.

Jean MacGregor."Ye were aye leal and true, Jean."*

Jean is another charter member, and has always taken an active part in class affairs. Jean is one of the most reliable girls in College, she has served in different Societies and could always be counted on as a good worker. Interested in Basketball, she was a member of our team and one of its best players. Her scholastic record is good, and her popularity is shown by her election as Vice-President of her class for life. As an all-around College girl, Jean ranks high.

Joseph William McKay."For native crescent does not grow alone
In thews and bulk."*

Joe hails from Truro. Although never creating much of a stir around College, he has taken a prominent part in Athletics, and as a member of the first fifteen has fully proven that one's size need be little handicap in sport. Like several other class members he has entered medicine.

Emelyn MacKenzie."All the folk as they came or went, Offered her praise to her heart's content."*

Emelyn is one of the girls who will be most greatly missed from College circles. Her energy, enthusiasm, and executive ability have made her an invaluable member of many different Societies. In the organization and promotion of the Girls' Athletic Club, much credit is due to her untiring interests. President of the Athletic Club, Gazette editor, member of the Y. W. Executive, and an indefatigable worker always, she has taken an active interest in every phase of College life, at the same time making a notable record for scholarship.

Warm-hearted, generous, and a good comrade, her personal popularity has been great, and she has the good wishes of a host of friends.

Charles Tupper Macleod."As you will not be answered with reason I must die."*

A glance at this name carries one, in the same thought, to recollections of a Canadian Premier, then back with a rush and crash to one of the "least understandable" members of class '14. If you have attended any meetings where improvements in the existing state of things were being proposed and have not heard him in apparent determined opposition, you could conclude that he was absent. Although possessed of ability far above the average, he has not been inclined to develop it as might be expected. However, his talent for argument augurs success in his chosen profession of the law.

D. C. MacLeod."A strappin youth, he tak's the mother's eye."*

D. C. MacLeod, a native of New Waterford, C. B., entered Dal. as a freshman and has been with us during the four years. Dan has never taken a very active interest in College affairs and for that reason is not widely known around College. A quiet, unassuming fellow, Dan is well liked by those who know him best. He will probably continue his studies at Pine Hill next year.

• Hugh Gordon McLeod.

*"I'll climb a mountain top and see
The world and all my heart's desire."*

Hugh Gordon McLeod comes to us from Green Hill, Pictou County. After an exceptionally successful course at Pictou Academy he joined the class of 1914 as a freshie-soph. During his three years here he has been noted for his work as a student. In the exam lists his name was always among the leaders. But while the greater part of his interest lay with his books, Gordon didn't neglect other sides of the College life. For two years he represented the Class on the Gazette staff to the satisfaction of all. As a debater he held no inferior position.

From Dalhousie Gordon goes to Calgary to take a position in Western Canada College.

John Charles MacLeod.

*"I am only one,
But still I am one."*

J. C. MacLeod is a product of Point Tupper, Richmond Co. As a student J. C. has a fair reputation, as an athlete he has taken an interest in football and has held a position on the half line of the second team. An easy going, genial fellow, well liked by all who know him, J. C. will no doubt make a success of his chosen calling, the church.

John Angus McMillan.

*"And then the justice
In fair round belly, with good capon lined."*

All hail to East Lake Ainslee, the birth-place of John Angus. Big, fat, and good-natured, he is always bubbling over with humor. A few months' acquaintance is sufficient to learn his political inclinations, and a few hours his weakness for the fair sex. As an after dinner speaker he has few equals, and has the rare faculty of keeping a crowd in convulsive laughter. As a prospective lawyer he will no doubt make his mark, and be a worthy "successor" to the present Crown Prosecutor.

Sadie MacMillan.

"A true friend to the true."

Sadie was another to join us in our Sophomore year, and was soon recognized as a good member of the class. Keen at analysis, but unfailingly charitable and with a fund of quiet humor, she was unanimously chosen Prophetess of the class.

Her favorite study was philosophy and her chief interest Basketball—rather an unusual combination.

Rather reserved in manner, and giving her friendship slowly, but a real friend once it is given, Sadie is followed by the good wishes of her class.

Kenneth Grant Mahabir.

*"He pleased the ear
And with persuasive accent thus began—"*

Mahabir is another sophomore addition coming from Naparino College, Tripidad. After one year in Arts he affiliated in Medicine, and has now completed the second year. Possessed of more than ordinary ability he is fully apprised of the fact, and has recently developed an abnormal desire for degree letters. Since coming to Dal., and particularly during the summer of 1913, he has been a riot with the fair sex. Success is assured for him in his chosen profession, and we can only wish him the more of it.

Harry Wendell Mahon.

*"Yet all shall be forgot
But he'll remember with advantages
What feats he did that day"—*

Mahon joined Class '14 in the sophomore year, having previously been a member of '09. After one more year at Dal. he entered the Tech., and is this year a member of the graduating class. An athlete of considerable ability, he has accomplished a number of wonderful feats, and had not the adverse hand of fate forbid, many others would no doubt have fallen to his lot. However, he is one of the few who succeed in combining sport with good class work, and with fewer words, we foretell success.

Eda Nelson.

*"And still to her charms she alone is a stranger,
Her modest demeanor's the jewel o' a'."*

Eda is one of the girls of '14 whose influence outside her class has been most widely felt. As Vice President of the class in her Sophomore year, she showed that the girls' confidence in her was not misplaced. In her Junior year she was elected V. P. of the College Y. W. C. A., and was one of the delegates to Muskoka. In her senior year she fulfilled the arduous duties of President of the Y. W. C. A. Outwardly quiet and unassuming, Eda possesses a very strong personality which accounts for her popularity throughout her college course and argues well for her success in after life. Class '14 wishes her long and continued prosperity.

Claude Murray.

*"I have a smiling face she said,
I have a jest for all I meet."*

Claude is known as the Mark Twain of her class, and her droll sayings have enlivened many a long lecture hour. Coming in as a Junior, Claude was not long in winning a place for herself in the class and soon became a favorite.

It is said that teaching will now claim her activities, and we wish her success.

James Stanley Nickerson.

"Come pensive nun, devout and pure, Sober, steadfast and demure."

Nickerson is Shelburne's contribution to the class and it may well be proud of the fact. Entering as a Freshie-Soph with a Sir Wm. Young Scholarship, he has shown himself an excellent student and will return next term to complete the Honour course in Latin and English. Being rather pensive and quiet in disposition he has not been very well known outside the class. His success in the ministry is assured and he cannot have more than we wish him.

Mina Porter.

*"Had she any fault at all,
'Twas having none."*

Mina was with us only two years, but during that time she made a host of friends, and her absence was often regretted during our senior year. Teaching in the West proved so attractive that she did not come back to graduate with her class, but she will join Class '15 next year.

Possessed of a happy, friendly disposition, Mina is a general favorite.

Norman Graham Reid.

*"In peace there is nothing so becomes a man
As modest stillness and humility."*

Graham is one of the Pictou County representatives in class '14. He received his preliminary training at Pictou Academy, and entered Dal with the Ministry in view. This intention, however, was shortlived, and he will in the near future take up the study of Agriculture at Guelph. A good student and President of the class in his final year, he has taken a live interest in college affairs. We foretell success in the profession of his choice.

Agnes Ross.

*"Fresh and blooming and blonde and fair,
With azure eyes and with aureate hair."*

Agnes is one of the five remaining members of our circle of friends, Agnes has been a favorite socially. During her Junior year she was Vice-president of her class, and in her Senior year, Vice-president of the Skating Club. In Dramatic Club also she has taken an active part.

John McKenzie Stewart.

*"The rapt oration flowing free
From point to point with power and grace
And music in the bounds of law,"—*

The freshman class of 1910 had no more optimistic, good-natured individual among their number than John. Beyond that, little was known of him. This, however, was not to continue, and in his final two years he has developed into one of the most prominent men in Arts, which is proven by his leading the polls in the recent Students' Council election. During the past term he was president of Arts and Science and a member of the debating team. His being elected permanent class president and valedictorian are good evidence of the place he holds, and we can see nothing but success for him in the Ministry.

Marion Smith.

"Her gentle looks shot arrows."

When our Class was organized in 1910 Marion was there, coming from Halifax Academy.

Marion is an all-round dependable girl, and has as many friends as she has acquaintances. Her popularity won her the Vice-presidency of the class in its Senior year, and she filled the position most successfully. Class '14 count her as one of its most loyal members.

Helena Withrow.

"That's a girl of spirit, we'll drink her health."

Helena joined us in our senior year, after an absence of two years from College. During the short time that she was a member of our class we learned to know her well, and to appreciate her many good qualities.

Helena is a conscientious student, a good worker, and is noted for her ability to look at both sides of a question. She has an enviable reputation as a teacher, and we wish her continued success.

Robert Josiah Zwicker.

"A hale fellow well met."

Everybody knows "Bob" and everybody likes him. President of the class in its sophomore year, he successfully piloted it through those turbulous times. A member of several executives and representative on the council, he has shown unusual business ability. Who has not been canvassed by him in the capacity of agent for the "Mutual Life?" Optimistic, and, as a supporter of any advance movement, he has few superiors.

Quiet retreat

SODALES DEBATING SOCIETY.

At the opening of Sodales Debating Society last year the outlook was not promising. For a number of years countless attractions at Dalhousie claimed such a large percentage of the Students' time that outside of a few who were especially interested in debating, Sodales was practically neglected by the Student body. This year we hope to put new life into the society. At the opening debate the Munro room could scarcely hold the number of students who attended. Dr. MacKenzie and Dr. MacMechan gave interesting and inspiring addresses and urged the students to take an active interest in Sodales.

It must be said that considering the many calls upon the Students' time at Dalhousie, the debates were well attended and the interest was keen. There is however much room for improvement. A special feature this year was the interest shown in debating by the co-eds. They not only were regular attendants of the Society, but they put on one of the best debates heard in Sodales for years.

The usual interfaculty schedule was drawn up and carried out. Many look to law as the natural winners of the trophy in the league, but this year Arts 15-17 with no defeats, took the shield from the walls of the Law Library, Law having lost one debate.

Before the Xmas exams. the trial debates were held. A large number participated in these contests, and it was seen from the first, that who ever of the contestants made up the personnel of the team it was bound to be a good one. The special feature in these trial debates was not so much the numbers, but the excellence of the participants. It was indeed a difficult task for the judges to choose 6 men who should take part in the final trial debate.

After the Xmas vacation, Sodales was practically neglected. The main feature in debating then was the trial debate, which should decide who were to represent Dalhousie on the platform in the intercollegiate debate.

EXECUTIVE OF SODALES DEBATING SOCIETY.

J. A. Doull, B. A.

G. D. Young

M. MacLeod

T. A. Lebbetter,
Secy.E. C. Phinney,
Pres.

C. M. McInnes.

The final trial debate was held this year in the Auditorium of the Ladies College. The speeches were all good and well delivered. The judges decided that Messrs. Zinc, Stewart and Young should be the team. They were all new men in intercollegiate debating but they made a strong combination.

This year we debated Kings. The big event was held in the School for the Blind. The large hall was packed to the doors. Never for years has Dalhousie been represented by such a strong and well balanced trio. The Kings men were good, in fact well up to the average, but our team was so far above the average that we were assured of victory from the start.

Our win this year gives Dalhousie an excellent start in the intercollegiate debating cycle. In the last cycle, Dalhousie and Acadia tied for first place, each winning four and losing one debate.

If we are to keep up this record or better it, the students must patronize Sodales. There is no society in Dalhousie that should claim the Students attention more than this society. It is not possible for every student to make the debating team, any more than it is possible for every student to lead his class; but the experience derived, not only in actually taking part in, but in attending the debates as well, is invaluable.

Next year will "mark an epoch" in student activities at Dalhousie. Let debating be at the very top of the list. It is not only a pastime, but an education as well, which no student can afford to neglect.

MEDICINE 1914.

"Everybody loves a doctor."

"It is a noble, generous and kindly profession and you youngsters have to see that it remains so."

Walter Dickie, B. A.

Nova Scotia most heartily welcomes Walter to practice Medicine within her borders. A student of much ability, he has made his mark high amongst those of the roll of honor at Dal. He has lately come to learn that, "it is not good for man to live alone."

He will practice at Barton, N. S.

James A. Doull, B. A.

A Zacchaeus anatomically but mentally a Goliath. Jimmie, as the boys all called him, in taking his degree, M. D. C. M. has left a vacancy in the Med. line-up hard indeed to fill. Not only has he shown himself to be a diligent and successful student, but many a time, with Jimmie behind the scrum, the Medical football team has snatched victory from seeming defeat. As for his social standing—oh well, ask some member of the Delta Gamma. But we assure you, he's alright.

Charles L. Gass, B. A.

The man who, as a freshman remarked, took part in everything around College. For two years a representative to the Students' Council and elected President of the Medical Society, as well donning the rags of the campus when occasion demanded, he won his way into the confidence of the students, and it is almost with selfish regret that we see the Alumni gain the students' great loss. In the V. G. H. wards, upon the stage, in the committee room or in the class room, he appeared as much at ease as when seated in the Pullman of the Ocean Limited on one of those many trips to Amherst.

Ferguson Little.

The famous half-back of Dal's grand old team. Captain of the football squad and leader of the hockey team, he has proven himself an Athlete of no mean ability and in many a critical time upon many a hard-fought field, Fergie has successfully turned the trick for Dal. Outside of athletics he has taken but little part in college life.

Wm. Patrick MacKasey.

Better known to the students as Captain MacKasey who struck terror into the hearts of all opponents as he led the medical team in the interfaculty series in 1912. Upon the platform, as a debater, MacKasey was always at home and much credit is due him as being one of those who kept the trophy so long within the Medical College halls. As one of the house surgeons in the V. G. H. during his graduating year, he has proven his efficiency in the medical line, and surely we may look for great results from men of this type.

Seymour MacKenzie.

Another Med. who has had the honor of leading the Tiger team team to victory on fields at home and abroad and many an enemy's quarter-back is still wondering what tampered with his anatomy as he tried to get around Dal's left wing of the scrum. In front of the nets, it must be said that Seymour was one of the most successful guards that ever wore the yellow and black, his successes here being rivalled only by that displayed at diamonds and spades. He will take a practice in his native Province.

Wm. T. McKeough, B. A.

McKeough is a graduate in the Arts of St. F. X. A student, quiet and somewhat reserved in nature, he was yet quite popular amongst his fellow students, as his election to responsible positions on several occasions shows.

After graduation, he is taking over a large practice at Florence, C. B.

Jean McLean.

The only suffragette of the '14 class and not a militant either. With her bonnie smile she won many friends, masculine and feminine, and we are sure she could have carried the question of "Womans Rights" before Premier Asquith with much more diplomacy than did the Lady Pankhurst.

Of her athletic ability, nothing need be said. Her social and mental accomplishments and training are excellent. Whether or not she intends to remain a spinster practitioner for long, does not concern us here, but those who know her well have said—"Her graduation adds grace and tenderness to the profession."

Lewis Morton.

One of the most popular young men of the graduating class, and a talented singer. It always seemed to need Morton's voice in the chorus to get the swing and spirit into the medical songs and war whoop.

As a student he ranked far above the average. As one of the boys he will long be remempered when others are forgotten.

John Burris Reid.

A leader in his class as a student, not very widely known in athletics, although in several games he has helped chase the pigskin for Medicine. In the "social whirl" Mr. Reid figured very prominently, and is quite generally admitted that he is an authority on social irregularities of the Heart-Beat. He graduates with distinction, and will take up a practice at Musquodoboit.

Harold S. Tait.

Tait is the Ancient Colony's representative in the graduating class. He is a good student but is very quiet and reserved to the world in general and has taken very little part in college affairs, and so is not well known among his fellows.

Gregory M. Tompkins.

A conscientious, hard-working student, who indulged in few branches of sport. Nevertheless he made a name for himself with the Tigers, where his weight and superior knowledge of the game, added to fleetness of foot, made him a very aggressive as well as defensive player.

"Pope," as the boys called him, has located in Dominion, C. B.. We wish him success in the profession.

Gordon B. Wiswell, B. A.

The famous centre of the Tiger hockey team, whose coolness and presence of mind, combined with skillful playing, saved the day for Dalhousie when defeat seemed other faculties. Amongst the students he was quiet, even reserved; nevertheless he had many friends amongst the boys and admirers amongst the fairer sex.

His work as a student was generally in the A1 class, and as he goes forth as a medical practitioner we feel confident of a great future awaiting him.

GRADUATES IN DENTISTRY, 1914.

George Philip Chisholm.

Halifax is responsible for George. Born here, educated here, he waded through his college work merely as a matter of course. Except for the dances, at which he usually put in an appearance, he never went in strongly for college life. It is known that he was late for lectures once. Music and boating are his hobbies. A friendly, genial fellow, his good nature and his profession are going to carry him successfully through life.

Canada Harold Cowan.

Altho' Harold naturally spelled West capital IT, he came to Dalhousie for the wise stuff. The West, good for the elementary dope, furnished him preparatory knowledge, first in his home town (city, I beg pardon) and later at Winnipeg. His growing popularity with increased acquaintanceship with the fellows is evidenced by the fact that his Senior year saw him Captain of Dal's Basketball team and President of the Dental Students' Society. Of quiet demeanor yet determined and capable, there is no doubt as to his ultimate success in the practice of his chosen profession, which he is carrying on with his father, Dr. W. D. Cowan, in Regina and whither he is followed by the best wishes of his classmates and fellow students.

Herbert Le Mert Daniel.

Educated first at the public school at his home in Bear River, N. S.; then at the Mt. Allison Academy; and finally at Dalhousie. Of a quiet and unobtrusive manner he makes his friends slowly but surely. Clever, careful, and conscientious in the practice of his profession, and industrious as well, it is certain that success will be his. He has the best wishes of his fellow students.

Charles William Parker.

"Sat by the fire and talked the night nway."

This garrulous purse-string holder of the Students' Council was started on his career of argument at Bellisle, N. S. That town must have missed the weight his presence always carries when he left for Halifax to become Instructor in Manual Training. Tired of driving home his arguments with the instruments of that profession he has chosen instead those of the dentist as a more direct means to the same end.. In future those who have the nerve to oppose him will simply have that nerve extracted. Actively interested in the various college societies, his senior year saw him a member of the Students' Council, and Dental Editor of the Gazette. Always popular, a good fellow and a first class professional man, his success is assured. Here's to Charlie.

THE DALHOUSIE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

The session of 1913-14 has been one of the most successful that the Dalhousie Y. M. C. A. has seen for some years. The criticism which has been brought against it in past years; that it is nothing more or less than a prayer meeting, and has nothing to interest anyone except theologues, was this year completely disproven. A new departure was made when regular courses of lectures were put on and these proved most popular, the Munro Room being taxed to its utmost on these occasions. The first course was conducted by Rev. A. B. Cohoe of First Baptist Church. It was in the nature of a class, and dealt with social problems of the day and their relation to Christianity. The second course consisted of a series of practical lectures on physiology and hygiene by Prof. D. Fraser Harris.

The reading room, although its accommodations were limited was very popular. The Bible Study Classes were larger and more successful than in any former years, the normal class conducted as before by Dr. Bron-consisting of about 40 students.

Two representatives were sent to the great international convention at Kansas City, and the usual delegation to Northfield.

Altogether, the Y. M. C. A. here is approaching nearer its ideal to provide for the social, mental and spiritual well being of all the boys in Dalhousie.

THE DALHOUSIE ENGINEERING SOCIETY.

On Saturday evening, April 18th, the never to be forgotten dinner of the Dalhousie Engineering Society was held at the Colonial Tea Room. Never was there such a dinner and the boys did full justice to it. The President, William Chisholm presided and the Society was very fortunate and pleased to have with him the Engineering professor, Mr. Finlayson.

Seventeen staunch Engineers adorned the festive Board. Others were unable to be present on account of leaving the City that night. Water flowed freely throughout the evening.

After even the most voracious appetite had been satisfied, Mr. Chisholm called on Mr. Finlayson for a few words. The latter mentioned how much he had appreciated the actions of the fellows during the past year. The Vice-President, R. C. Moore, was next bidden to arise. Never was such eloquence poured forth. Never would one think that such an exterior enclosed a second Demosthenes. Next year's President, Cyril Evans, was then called upon. During the course of his remarks he said that he hoped that the Engineers dinner would become an annual function. Mr. Dawson was the next speaker. He made some very appropriate remarks during the course of which he said that he had lost his girl. The expressions of sympathy that followed were most touching. Mr. Dawson was followed by Archie Lawrence, whose eloquence was also surprising in one so young. Mr. MacDonald, the Secretary, and several others also spoke with telling effect. Throughout all the speeches there ran the note of appreciation for the work done by Mr. Chisholm in making the Society such a success during the past year.

When the eloquence was exhausted the air was filled with discordant clamor, i. e. the Engineers sang. One of the most touching occurrences of the evening was the duet by Messrs. Wilson and Lawrence. Never did such sweet voices grate on the unoffending ear. By the long sustained applause it was certainly appreciated.

A toast was proposed by the President and drunk in concentrated H<sub>2</sub>O. to Professor Finlayson. The latter said that such hearty appreciation would draw eloquence from a post and certainly he responded in a most eloquent manner. He touched on the great opportunities for Engineers in Canada, a land of great promise in mining, railroad-building, and hydraulic engineering. He mentioned how great was his pleasure in being present on such an occasion with the Engineers. Professor Finlayson then proposed the health of the retiring President who had done such good work in a notable cause.

The evening was brought to a close by the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

DALHOUSIE SKATING CLUB.

*"How thrills once more the lengthening chain
Of memory at the thought of thee."*

The Dalhousie skating club has had a most enjoyable season and is also able to report a successful year financially.

These two conditions were probably made possible by the fact that the D. S. C. is practically the only Club in college which is free for everyone in College to attend. Other organizations such as the Delta Gamma or D. A. A. C. are more or less restricted in membership and altho' every member does not skate yet it is the most universally patronized club.

The purpose of the Dalhousie Skating Club is to encourage skating among its members. This was made possible last year, perhaps more than any previous season by the fact that we were able to obtain the exclusive privilege of one night a week at the Arena. In previous years the club has never attempted this as the financial proposition was rather large, but now that the Students' Council partially supports the D. S. C. we were able to get the Arena.

At the opening of the skating season the club had on hand $25 and after raising $100 in addition to the $400 grant of the Students' Council the club was able to report a surplus of over $30 at the annual meeting in March.

The eight regular skating nights went all too quickly. We were fortunate in having perfect ice on seven of the eight nights and the eighth an informal dance. Thursday nights became so popular that the Skating Club arranged for an extra night which was a big success.

One thing might be kept in mind by the coming President and executive. The skating club is for the students. It is not a public night and yet should not be restricted solely to students. Some more definite basis of membership might be drawn up.

As in past years the success of this or any other club depends partially on the officers and partially on the students. Let next year be the best yet and all success to the new officers.

THE DALHOUSIE DRAMATIC AND GLEE CLUB.

This club, which should be one of the most popular in college, has a two fold purpose, as its name implies. It was intended to extend the interest in dramatics as well as to take the place of the old Glee Club.

As far as the Dramatic part of it has been concerned it has been a success. "The College Widow" was staged at the Academy and was a great success. An innovation was made when the caste made a tour in the interests of the Students' Building. This trip lasted a week and performances were given at New Glasgow, Antigonish, Sydney and Glace Bay. Everywhere the play was enthusiastically received, and there is no doubt that in future, this will be repeated.

This was the only successful part of the Club, however. It started out well last fall, holding meetings for general song practice, recitations, etc., which were largely attended, and in which many students took part. But this did not last.

It had been customary often to close the evenings programme with an informal dance of fifteen or twenty minutes duration. This year the Senate, in their wisdom objected to this; and in the period of indecision which followed, the meetings were allowed to lapse. Thereafter the club consisted of nothing more than the caste of the play.

We think that this was very unfortunate; for the primary aim of the club should be to develop the talents of the students in general. It has been useful also in a social way, being, with the exception of the Skating Club the sole society which allowed of any social activity. We hope that next year it will regain and hold its place in the interest of the general student body.

CASTE OF "THE COLLEGE WIDOW."

THE CLASS OF LAW 1914

*"There's not a flaw, flaw, flaw
On the boys in Law
That's the work for you and me."*

Walter DeW. Barss, B. A.

"A man of silence and of Sense."

Walter Barss hails from the town of Dartmouth. He also is a graduate of Acadia. A quiet fellow he took little part in college affairs outside his classes. He was the first member of the class to be admitted to the bar, and already has a good practice in the city.

Frederick Gordon Bradley.

*"With them the seed of wisdom did I sow
And with my own hand wrought to make it grow."*

"Brad" is the representative of the Ancient Colony in the class, and a most loyal Newfoundlander he is. That he has earned the esteem of both Faculty and fellow students is shown by the fact that during his last year he held the positions of Librarian and President of the Law Society, presiding over our studies as well as our meetings and social gatherings. He also filled the difficult position of Business Manager of the Dramatic Club during its trip this Spring. A good student and a good fellow, he will be one of Newfoundland's greatest legal lights.

John Arthur Creaghan, B. A.

*"Quips and pranks and wanton wiles
Nods and becks and wreathed smiles."*

The first of the New Brunswickers in Law '14 is the member for Newcastle, Mr. Creaghan. Good natured, easy going, always carrying around a laugh and a joke, Jack was liked by all. He was a special favorite with the ladies—never missed a dance or Bridge even on the night before exams. Here's wishing him the best of luck.

F. G. Bradley,
Pres.

C. R. Barry

E. R. Macnutt,

N. Rennie Currie."Hence, loathed melancholy."*

"The Senator" is a well known figure around the Law School, and his countenance is always bright and smiling, no matter what clouds are in the air. He claims Amherst as his birthplace, and left McGill in order to finish his Law Course at Dalhousie. His musical performances on his own peculiar instrument were a feature of law banquets.

Roderick Douglas Graham."With the humorous conceits of Sir John Falstaff."*

The subject of this sketch came originally from New Glasgow, but has adopted Halifax as his home. He is one of the best known fellows in the class and is a favorite with all especially with the ladies. He was one of the stars in the college play, and the Dramatic club will find it hard to fill his place. Outside of dramatics his chief interest in College was athletics, and he played on the first fifteen last year.

Owen B. Jones, M. A."The poet in a golden hour was born."*

Everyone in college knows Toby's ability as a poet. Many of our most popular college songs including our own Law School anthem "There's not a flaw" owe their origin to him. One of the most brilliant members of the class, he shone also as a society man, and his varied interests kept him from taking a very prominent part in college life. The west has gained another good man in Toby Jones.

Donald Duncan MacDonald, B. A."Of stature tall and slender frame,
But firmly knit—"*

D. D. is a Pictou County Scotchman, hailing from Bailey's Brook. He took his Arts degree from St. Francis Xavier, and as he had affiliated, was here only two years. He was well liked by all who knew him, and will be followed by the best wishes of all his classmates.

J. Welsford Macdonald, B. A."A son of the Clans."*

"Wels" was born in the old academic town of Pictou. He went to Toronto for his Arts Course and came back to his native Province for law. He was always well up in the pass lists, and during his last year occupied the position of Leader of the Liberal Party in Mock Parliament. He is practising in New Glasgow, as junior member of the firm of Macdonald & Macdonald.

Wilfrid Laurier Murray, B. A."We came to college quiet And quiet we remained."*

The son of a Nova Scotian Premier, and the namesake of a Canadian Premier "Lofty" should surely be a politician. Coming to Dalhousie as an affiliated student from Mt. A., he has taken practically no part in college life during his two years here, with an exception of an occasional attention to his duties as "whip" in Mock Parliament.

Wm. McCully Nelson."Moderate tasks and moderate leisure."*

William M. Nelson, who hails from Tatamagouche, came to Dal. in the fall of 1909. The very least that can be said of "Bill", is that he has been a first class student, and above all a leader in student activities at Dal. He was connected with practically every society in College including "Delta Gamma", during his five years' stay. Bill was always regarded as a man of few words, but every one who knew him, and these were legion, knew that what he said was sound. We wish him every success in his chosen profession.

Lawrence Edward Ormond, B. A."Live, laugh and love your fill, until The time comes when you can't."*

"Larry" is the baby of the class. He came to us from St. F. X. with a brilliant record in Arts there, and went through his two years here without any great effort, and was always ready for a good time. Although the youngest member of the class, he has already been admitted to the bar, and is practising with the firm of Rogers, Milner & Purdy in his native town of Amherst.

Malcolm A. Patterson.

"Attending lectures, plays and dinners."

"Pat" came to Dalhousie from Sydney in 1909 and spent a year in the Arts Faculty. Then he went home and stayed there a year, after which he entered the Law School. He starred in the Law hockey team, and often helped to enliven our social functions.

H. H. Pineo, B. A.

*"I have staked all upon a chance.
And will await the hazard of the die."*

"Farmer" comes from the Land of Evangeline. He obtained his B. A. from Acadia in 1912, and brought with him a reputation in athletics which he ably maintained here. Last year he captained the Dal. football team, and proved an excellent man for the job. He was also Speaker of Mock Parliament, but his duties there were often subordinated to the demands of a little "game."

Wm. A. Ross.

"Here's to the lad in the football clothes."

A native of St. John, N. B., Billy early recognized the superiority of Halifax, and came here to complete his education. After some time spent in the Arts faculty, he turned his attention to Law. His chief attention apart from his work, was given to athletics. He was president of the D. A. A. C. in his final year and also played on the first fifteen.

Joseph L. Ryan, B. A.

"A proper man as one shall see in a summer's day."

Ryan is another New Brunswicker. A native of Three Brooks, N. B., he obtained his B. A. at St. Mary's, Maine. Originally a member of the '13 class, he had to stay out a year, and returned to complete his course with '14. Quiet and a good worker, Ryan nevertheless took a deep interest in college affairs.

A. M. Seaman.

*"They smoke and chaw, chaw, chaw,
Those boys in law."*

The only one of the nobility in the class was the above named, who rejoiced in the title of Duke of Minudie. He was noted for the amount of "chewing" which he did over certain controversial cases in Judge Russell's classes. Since taking his degree he has retired to his ancestral domain in Cumberland County.

Vincent Reynolds Smith, B. A.

"The germ in wisdom is in looking wise."

A native of "Busy Amherst" and a member of a leading legal family, Vint took his Arts course at St. Francis, and then came to the Law School. Quiet and unassuming and a good worker, the best wishes of all his classmates follow him to Regina where he has gone to practise.

James MacGregor Stewart, B. A.

"He was a scholar, and a ripe and good one."

Jimmy Stewart is known to every student at Dalhousie. Many of us knew him first as tutor in Classics, and an excellent tutor he was. During the past year he was President of Students' Council, Business Manager of the Football Team, Chairman of the Intercollegiate Debate Committee, and managed to lead all his classes in addition. Jim is a genius and we have become so used to having him that we can't see how we are going to get along without him next year.

L. S. Whinyard.

"Few there be that ken me."

Whinyard is one of the least known men in the class. He was born in Lawrencetown, Annapolis County, but now resides in Halifax. He is very quiet and has taken little part in college life.

ALUMNI ATTENTION

The amount needed for a Students' Union has not yet been raised. The campaign still needs $35,000.00 or more to make it a success. The Alumni Society has pledged itself to support this movement and we must be true to our pledge.

What have you given? If you have not contributed to date, hurry up and send in your subscription. $1200.00 was raised in Halifax during the week July 6th-12th, $50,000 is needed. ## EDITORIALS

WITH this number the Dalhousie Gazette, "the oldest college paper in Canada" completes its forty-sixth volume. Founded in 1869 by a few enterprising students, it was taken over during the next term by the General students Meeting, and since that time has been continuously published as the organ of the student body.

The following is an extract from the "Prologus" published at that time which has continued to express the purpose of the Gazette:

"The Gazette is to represent the views of the Students, to advocate their interests and strive in all things to cultivate that love and intensify the sympathy that should exist between Alumni. The editors are to be little more than judicious censors, to select wisely what shall be published, to endeavor in a new sense, to practice the art of putting things, and by worthy service hope to earn the praise of being faithful Exponents of Students' views. If among much that may prove dull there be found some sparkling pleasure or wholesome goods let it expiate the fault. When you find many blemishes, learn to avoid them, and ere you condemn produce a work more faultless, while we timidly suggest the words of Horace:

*"Carmen seq uar, ut sibi quivis
speret idem,
Sudet multum frustra que laborat,
Ausus idem."*

(328)

THIS editorial is the Valedictory, not only of the forty-sixth Board of Editors, but also of the Gazette in its present form. "The old order changeth giving place to new" and it has been decided that the time is opportune for the establishment of a weekly paper, instead of monthly as at present.

Of course there are both advantages and disadvantages in such a step, but these have been considered, and the advantage seemed to outweigh the disadvantages. Now it is up to all of us, Students and Alumni, to do our best to make the new paper a success. The duties of the editors will be heavy; they are enthusiastic and energetic, but they need the co-operation of the Students and Alumni. We want to have a college paper that we can be proud of, and to have this it is necessary for all of us to do our little best to help it.

This applies to alumni as well as students. It is particularly hard for the student editors to get interesting Alumni notes, and a few lines of news will gladden the heart of the Alumni editor. Your subscription is needed too, for it costs money to publish a weekly paper.

WHEN we began our editorial duties last fall we had high ideals of what the Gazette should be and do. Now we have finished our work, and no one knows so well as ourselves how far short of our ideals we have fallen in our work.

There are two things that very obviously press for explanation—the non-appearance of a May member and the lateness of the present number. Both are due to the same cause. The Editor-in-chief, being left in sole charge, neglected them. The only excuse we can offer is the appearance of the "Dalhousian" of which six members have been published and sent, we think, to practically all Gazette subscribers. We trust that this will explain and atone for our negligence of the Gazette.

In the present number we have endeavored, following the example of the past two or three years to make it of special interest to the graduating classes, so far as the limited means at our disposal would allow. We would like to have published more cuts and more matter, but thought it wiser to keep within our means and trust that in the future we will be able to have a really good graduation Gazette.

In conclusion, we wish to thank those who have helped us by their contributions and in other ways; and in particular Dr. MacMechan, who has always been most deeply interested in the Gazette. Besides supplying articles and notes from his own pen and from his friends, he has always been willing and ready to give us the benefit of his experience and wisdom, and to him as well as to our other helpers we wish to extend our thanks.

"THE DALHOUSIAN."

The reason for the publication of the Dalhousian as explained in its first issue of May 6th was two-fold: in the first place it was designed to advertise the Students' Campaign and to inform its readers about ourselves and our needs and so prepare them for the attack to be made campaign week; in the second place it was intended to keep Students and Alumni in touch with the central office. To some extent at least we think we have succeeded in both aims. While the Dalhousian was thus primarily a campaign paper, we tried to make it interesting to as many people as possible. Thirty-five hundred copies were printed and distributed every two weeks between May 5th and July 23rd—six numbers in all. A mailing list was carefully selected, and no charge was made for the paper. As we did not wish it to be any expense to the campaign, a considerable amount of advertising had to be secured. Then came the task of securing matter which would be interesting to the various classes of our readers, and still keep in view our object. These were the first problems that confronted the editorial staff, but were by no means the only ones.

We soon found that the publication of such a paper was altogether different from anything that we had done, and only the generous assistance that we received on all sides enabled us to make it the success that it was.

To Mr. Pearson, the Managing Director of the Chronicle Publishing Co., we are most deeply indebted. He made arrangements for us regarding printing, gave us an office, and gave us his personal assistance in the preparations of the early numbers. What the Dalhousian owed to him cannot be expressed. The Staff of the Echo and Chronicle were also most generous with their help even when we caused them considerable inconvenience.

But when the paper was printed our troubles were by no means at an end. Each issue had to be cut, wrapped and addressed. This work was done by some of the Halifax students, who gave largely of their time in order to get the paper out promptly each fortnight, often giving up other engagements to come and work at this. Too much cannot be said of them. To mention all who helped in this would be impossible, but there were some who could always be counted on, and who are deserving of special mention. Among them were R. E. G. Roome, who compiled the mailing list; Gavin L. Stairs, R. C. Macdonald, J. G. D. Campbell, C. M. Bayne; and our staff artists, W. E. Doane, and G. H. Campbell. Without the assistance given by these and others at various times we could have done little. Our work was made a pleasure by their generous co-operation, and we are convinced that there are no more loyal Dalhousians than the city students.

All that remains now is to say farewell. The Dalhousian was to a large extent an experiment, and from our point of view a fairly successful one. If we have been able by its means to arouse your interest in our needs and our ambitions as Dalhousie students then we are satisfied, and we hope that you will continue to remember us and will not forget the Students Building.

(It was intended that there should be at least seven numbers of the Dalhousian issued, but it was found impossible to print the seventh, so the editor takes the liberty of inserting the above which was written for the Dalhousian, in this paper, and through the Gazette to express his thanks to those who helped make the Dalhousian possible.)

THE STUDENTS CAMPAIGN.

In our last issue we mentioned the inauguration of the Students Forward Movement, and the organization of their Campaign for a Students' Building.

Immediately after exams., the Secretary, E. C. Phinney, opened his offices in the Chronicle Building and began his work. The task of completing the organization and preparation was not such a sinecure as it might be thought by an outsider. It entailed hard work and steady work every day and almost every night on the part of the Secretary and his helpers. An attempt was made to organize the Students and Alumni in each town of the Maritime Provinces. Letters were written to all Alumni, soliciting their help in the campaign, and each student was kept informed of the progress of the work.

The organization in Halifax city was most complete. A committee was appointed to assist the Secretary in this task.

A list of names of prospective subscribers was prepared and divided into districts. The students in the city were divided into six teams and each team had one district per day to cover. They were instructed to call on all prospects within the limits of that district whether their names were on the list or not. The work was thoroughly done, although some, through absence at the time or other reasons, were unavoidably missed. The net result of the week's canvass in the city was about $12,000. Owing to the fact that the people of the city had largely financed the Business Men's Campaign in 1912, over $200,000 being raised here then, we could not expect large sums from them. The largest subscription received was $250.00 from a lady who wished in this way to show her interest in us and her appreciation of our efforts.

The city teams were led by the following:

- Team No. 1—A. R. Lawrence (Arts '17)
- Team No. 2—F. D. Graham, B. A. (Law)
- Team No. 3—G. L. Stairs, Jr. (Arts '16)
- Team No. 4—J. B. Hayes, B. A., B. Sc. (Eng.)
- Team No. 5—R. D. Graham LL. B.
- Team No. 6—R. J. Leslie (Arts '15)

A great deal of our success was due to the support of the Alumni here. A committee was appointed to co-operate with our Executive, consisting of G. Fred Pearson, LL. B., Geo. Henderson, Esq, Dr. F. V. Woodbury, J. S. Roper, LL. B., and Prof. Murray MacNeill, and their help was greatly appreciated in both the organization and the actual canvassing.

In some of the other towns very successful campaigns were also held during the week. In Sydney, North Sydney, Truro, Glace Bay, River John, Londonderry, Bridgewater, Pugwash, Parrsboro, Margaree, Whycocomagh, Sheet Harbor, Charlottetown, Summerside and Valleyfield, P. E. I., and Bathurst, N. B., the students did excellent work. Since that time, Amherst, St. John, Moncton, Fredericton and Newcastle have been canvassed. In other places for one reason or another, the campaign was either neglected or deferred to a later date. The total sum received was something under $20,000. We had hopes however of realizing almost as much more in the Maritime Provinces this fall, but the outbreak of war has made a suspension of the campaign necessary for the present. We hope however that it is suspended only for a short time and that we will yet be able to get our building during 1915.

As far as we went, the campaign was, we think, a decided success.

The energetic and persistent work of the Secretary had much to do with this success. He was certainly the right man for the position. His energy and his enthusiasm inspired all of the students with whom he came in contact and his unvarying good humor in the face of annoyances, with his business like methods, gained him the respect and esteem of everyone.

The campaign owes much also to Mr. and Mrs. Pearson. Both of them have been interested from the first in this scheme; they helped very much in the initial stages, and all through the campaign Mr. Pearson has been most generous. Through his kindness rooms in the Chronicle Building were placed at our disposal, and he made possible the publication of the Dalhousian. He was in fact, as his able seconder Mr. George Henderson, expressed it, the Deus ex machina of the campaign. To him and to the other Alumni who assisted we tender the thanks of all the students.

A SUGGESTION FOR THE NEW PAPER.

Now that we are no longer to have a monthly issue of the Gazette, and a weekly edition is going to be attempted, one immediately realizes that the change will result in an entirely different publication. To discuss whether the change will be for the better or not would be idle here, and until the weekly system has been given a fair trial one cannot justly say which will be better. Doubtless those who introduced the new scheme and put it through the Council of the Students knew what they were doing, and carefully considered the results of such a change,—from a monthly college paper to a weekly sheet. The change has come and from now out we are to definitely have four weekly issues of a paper in place of one monthly magazine.

A suggestion regarding the weekly issue may not be improper here, and the following is a scheme which it might be well for the non-conformists to consider. That one issue of the Gazette be published exclusively by each Arts Class, one by Medicine, one by Dentistry, one by Law, and one by Engineering. That is, except for the editorial, let every article, composition, poem and picture be furnished by the Class whose week it is to turn out that issue. Call it the "Medicine Number" or the "1915 Number", just as we have in "Life" the "Women's Suffrage Number." This would place the responsibility of supplying material for the college paper upon each department of the college in turn, and give every student a fair opportunity to contribute.

Such a scheme would develop a competitive spirit between classes and faculties. It would serve to rouse into activity those who would not otherwise be bothered writing for the college Gazette. It would stimulate those who could write to do their best and who knows but what it might be the source of inspiration for another Shakespeare or Clemen. There would be a double inducement to supply an article and consequently there would be twice as much material to choose from. Such a scheme would ensure at least seven issues of the Gazette without any outside assistance whatever. It would take much work off the editors and enable them to concentrate on the other issues; and without doubt would add to the novelty and interest which in late years has been so much needed.

This is only a skeleton plan, the details of which could be worked out by the executive. It is only a humble suggestion from an inexperienced source, given in the spirit of helping along our college paper, to make it brighter, more novel and more efficient.

THE ANATOMY CLASSES.

During the Christmas vacation the able and popular Professor of Anatomy, Dr. A. W. H. Lindsay had to undergo an operation. He was unable to resume his work after this, and when College opened again for the spring term, Dr. Fritz Anderson was good enough to assume control of the Dissecting Room until a substitute could be obtained, although he had not been actively engaged in this kind of work for many years.

During this temporary arrangement the Senate was active in endeavoring to secure some one who would take up the full burden of Dr. Lindsay's work for the remainder of the session. They succeeded in obtaining Dr. H. P. Robinson, Fellow in Anatomy of Toronto University. Dr. Robinson at once took up the work in all classes, although coming at mid-term and being unfamiliar with our previous system he was at a considerable disadvantage. He worked hard and well, and the fact that the Senior and Junior Anatomy Students were able to complete their scheduled work is due to his efforts, and they wish to express their gratitude to him and their desire for his future success.

The demonstrators, Drs. Macaulay, Rankine, McKenzie and Maclellan attended as often as possible, assisted in "quizzes" and in many ways rendered much appreciated assistance.

Dr. Lindsay, after a rest and a season of travel on the Continent, returns to work next year with renewed health and vigor, to the great satisfaction of his classes. The sincerest and most heartfelt sympathy of all the students goes out to him in his recent bereavement, which so marred his homecoming. The sterling qualities of Dr. M. A. Lindsay as a man and as a Professor are well known and the second year students will greatly miss him in their next year's work.

IN MEMORIAM.
Dr. M. A. Lindsay.

The wreck of the Empress of Ireland in May brought a special tragedy to us here at Dalhousie, in the death of Dr. Alex. Lindsay. It was particularly sad because he was on the journey which was to have ended in his marriage in England.

Dr. Lindsay was born in Halifax thirty-two years ago. He received his B Sc. from Dalhousie and took the first two years of his Medical course here. He then went to Edinburgh where he specialized in Pathology, and received his M. B. Ch. B. in 1911, capturing also several important prizes and class medals. After a year spent in several large English hospitals, he was recalled to Halifax as pathologist of the Victoria General Hospital. At the re-organization of the Dalhousie Medical Faculty he was appointed Professor of Pathology and his success as a teacher equalled his success as a scholar.

In athletics he was prominent also. He was noted as a half back while at Dalhousie, played Rugby also at Edinburgh and again turned out to help Dalhousie on his return. He also made a name for himself in the Wanderers sports as a short distance runner. Latterly his chief interest has been in tennis.

Quiet and reserved in manner, his intimate friends were few, but his acquaintances were many and every one of them esteemed him highly.

Lillian Beatrice Bayer.

The death occurred at Rockingham, April 8th, 1914, of Lillian Beatrice Bayer, one of the most brilliant members of the 1914 class in Arts and Science. Sad as such an event would have been at any time it was made doubly so by the attendant circumstances for Lillian was returning to her home in Rockingham on the night train, and as she left it at the Rockingham station, she was run over by the out going train. The news of her death cast a gloom over the whole community, and the college mourned very sincerely over the loss of its girl graduate.

Lillian was to have graduated with high honors in Classics, but she was equally gifted in other subjects of the course, for she enjoys the unique distinction of winning high firsts in English and mathematics as well as in Classics. A quiet girl, retiring and unassuming, Lillian's rare qualities as a student won her the admiration of students and professors alike, and they, with those who loved her for the gentleness of nature that was hers, mourn the loss of one whose future was rich in the promise of the "might have been."

At Waialuo, Honolulu, on April 28th, the death occurred of Miss E. R. Churchill, a former member of Class '15. Miss Churchill was one of the brightest and most popular girls in her class. She was always willing to help in all branches of college activity and although she was only at Dalhousie a short time, she made a host of friends, who all regret deeply her early death.

At Dartmouth, May 6th, 1914, after a lengthy illness, G. Lorimer Keeler. He was a member of the '12 Class and was employed with the Dominion Iron & Steel Co., until about a year ago, when illness forced him to return home.

At Sheerness, Alberta, March 26th., 1914, of typhoid fever, Cecil L. Blois, B. E. '07. Mr. Blois was working on the C. N. R. for the last few years, and had been married only about a year.

At Saskatoon, Sask., May—Lyman H. Cumming, a son of Rev. Dr. Cumming, late of Westville, now in Trinidad.

Mrs. Bronson, wife of Professor Bronson died at their home, 45 Seymour St., Halifax, on June 12th, after an illness of several months' duration. Mrs. Bronson was a general favorite among the students and was often called on to chaperone at the various college social functions.

At Wabana, Newfoundland, Aug. 1st, G. Basil McCunn (Eng. '09) aged 30 years. He was in the employ of the N. S. Steel & Coal Co., and leaves a widow and one child.

SELLING TACTICS.

A similar plan in the sale of some office devices is to list the article at a high price, later reducing this price, in an effort to convince the buyer that he is getting some extra value for nothing. No one can really do this. All honest articles are worth their listed price. Listing them higher then selling them for less does not alter the original value one iota. Isn't this true? You pay list price for UNDERWOOD Typewriters. No more, no less.
