In memoriam: Dr. Karen Mann

It is with sadness that we announce that Dr. Karen Mann, professor emeritus in the Division of Medical Education at Dalhousie Medical School, passed away on the morning of November 28, 2016, in Halifax surrounded by her family.

Dr. Mann was a great but humble scholar, a leading light in the field of medical education, and a valued colleague to many educators all over the world. All those that knew Dr. Mann will remember her for her laughter, her intellect, her extraordinary kindness and her gentle fearlessness.

She broke many moulds, but called so little attention to herself that sometimes it was hard to notice. She was endlessly curious about the world and our place in it, stood up to injustice, and valued each and every person she met, striving at all times to be the best friend and colleague to many.

She is survived by her husband Ian, her children (Geoff, Peter and Gillian) and their spouses (Michelle, Sarah and Andrew) and her grandchildren.

A funeral service will be held at 1:30 p.m. on Friday, December 2, in Cathedral Lane, Halifax. In lieu of flowers, donations to Pancreatic Cancer Canada or Save the Children will be gratefully received.
