Dedication

THE RIGHT HONORABLE
THE VISCOUNT BENNETT,
LL.B., LL.D. 1870-1947

We, the staff of Pharos deem it a privilege to dedicate this volume to a man who, throughout his life, served his Alma Mater and his country equally well. As a statesman and Canadian he represented Dalhousie's finest traditions. Present and future generations of Dalhousie students owe him a debt which they can never repay.

Preface

Editing a yearbook is a challenge. Editing Pharos, which by its very name represents the traditions of light and learning synonymous with Dalhousie, has been for me a special challenge for various reasons.

To begin with, I was a comparative stranger to the university and as such, hardly knew where to begin. In addition my predecessor, in his two years as editor, had raised the standard of Dalhousie yearbooks so much that I have had serious doubts as to whether it could be raised much further.

If Pharos is an improved volume this year, it is because of the untiring efforts of a hardworking though relatively inexperienced staff. In technical quality, while there is an advance from previous years, the book is still far from perfect. Largely that is because pasteups, etc., done by staff members is usually performed by paid professionals.

There are numerous changes this year. Color, which played such a prominent role last year, has been dropped because of its excessive cost, and in its place is featured better covers, an added thirty-two pages, and more pictures. The graduate section has been revised; the campus life section has been renovated completely.

We have had disappointments this year—despite a candid contest, there are still too few pictures of life around the university. Some members of the graduating class aren't in the graduate section. Why? Because they weren't interested enough to get their pictures taken. The same applies to undergraduates.

Special thanks go at this time to those who most deserve them. To Don Morrison for putting up with us, to Art Moreira for his "Review," to Bill Lovatt for his sports roundup which lack of space forced us to omit, we say "Thank you." My personal thanks go to those staff members and volunteer workers who went far beyond their line of duty to perform thankless tasks.

I trust that our efforts have not been in vain. If you enjoy this book, they will not have been.

THE PRESIDENT

The President's Message

This Year Book, prepared and published by a committee of the Council of Students, will serve a two-fold purpose.

First and primarily, it will remind the students who own it of their teachers and class-mates and so counteract the fatal tendency to forget, with the passing of time, the names and faces of those with whom they once had happy contact. Some day, the young men and women who now have a particular interest in this book will be grateful that it helps memory to hold the door.

Secondly, it will convey to parents and others some idea of the fine fellowship that the University provides, and of the extra-curricular activities in which the students engage: for to be a member of an old and famous College, to live in its atmosphere of learning and research, and to play a part in its manifold life is a far richer educational experience than any report of academic marks alone can adequately reflect.

The Pharos, the celebrated light-house of ancient Alexandria, has given this book its name, and I have never seen any name that seemed to be more suggestive and appropriate. For Dalhousie sends out its beams of light to the farthest horizon so that new generations of youth now plot their course by reference to established principles and known truth. I would add that if the Pharos is an excellent symbol of a University, it also indicates a function that the individual graduate should be ambitious to fulfill. "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

There will be an opportunity for me to address the final year students before they take leave of their Alma Mater, but since the written word persists long after the last echo of the spoken message has died away, I wish to place on record here my personal thanks to the members of the graduating class for their unfailing cooperation, and to express my hope that they will continue to add "to their faith virtue and to their virtue knowledge," and to live creatively in a world that needs every contribution that they may be able to make to its well being. To each of them I say: may your lot be cast in pleasant places and all good things be yours.

A. E. Kerr

President.

An enthusiastic English student, and winner of an A.N.A. scholarship, she was also D.K.S.V.A. secretary for two sessions, Delta Gamma Social Manager and I.S.S. He was Vice-Chancellor at Tau Epsilon Phi Fraternity and played interfaculty basketball '48. Plans to practice in the "Pier".

JOHN EVERETT HARDY, Gabarries Barachois, C. B.

Another Cape Bretoner, "Ev" took his pre-dent at Dal and came to the Dental School on the Kellogg Scholarship. He was active in interfaculty hockey and he will always be remembered by his classmates for his peculiar names which he gave to dental instruments and operations. Besides dentistry, fishing and high-road work will probably keep the wolf away from his door.

WILLIAM ARCHIBALD MacMURDO, Summerside, P. E. I.

After pre-dent at Mount A., "Bill" came to Dal and since then there has never been a dull moment in the Dental School. Bill is versatile, a persevering student, he was also a very enthusiastic member of the Dental Society and represented us on the Managing Committee of the D.A.A.C. in '48. Bill played interfaculty hockey and basketball '47, '48 and badminton. Before settling down to practise, Bill wants to see the world.

SYDNEY J. McNEE, Glace Bay, N. S.

Easy going and carefree "Sid" had nevertheless been a conscientious student and gets along well with everybody. He took his pre-dent at Dal and was one of the stars on the Dent. hockey team of '47. A beautiful technician will complete his plans for a successful practice in the "Bay".

DAVID BRENDAN McNEIL, Sydney Mines, N. S.

"Didsy" took his pre-dent at St. F. X. At Dal he was active in the Dental Society and because of his manly features acquired the nickname of "handsome". His "big deals" with the "major" will always remain a mystery. Future plans are uncertain, but may include both Dotty and the Army Dental Corps.

DONALD CERDIC STEEVES, Moncton, N. B.

"Don" came to Dal after pre-dent at Acadia, and his record speaks for itself: Charles Bell Memorial second prize '45 and '46, Dr. H. H. Beckwith Operative prize '47, Nova Scotia Dental Association first prize '47, Don Warner's Orchestra '46, '47, '48, Concert Orchestra '46, '47, Brass Band '46, '47, Vice-President Dalhousie Dental Students' Society '47 and also interfaculty basketball '47. Don is a real gentleman, and a successful general practice in Moncton is predicted.

HOLDEN FREDERICK TAYLOR, Yarmouth, N. S.

"Bud", whose veins are filled with "Island" blood, came to us from the Gateway to the Maritimes in the fall of '44, after having spent two years at Acadia. His apartment and its friendly atmosphere will be "so well remembered" by many of us here at Dal. Besides being a member of the Dal Dental Society, Social Committee of '47 and Interfaculty basketball '48, Bud found time to listen to "Bev" and "Carmen".

COUNCIL

The Council of Students has had a busy and rather hectic year. It began its career in the spring of 1947 with but three members having had previous experience in Council Work. However, through the trials of Student Administration, with its ever present opportunities for problems and achievements, the Council has garnered considerable experience and can look back on a successful year of operation.

While we cannot accurately foretell the future, we can say with some degree of assurance that this is the peak year for enrollment at Dalhousie. The post-war influx of veterans is at its zenith, and from year to year registration will now fall off until a normal enrollment is reached. With the largest number of students to supervise, the Council has also had the largest budget of its history to control. These increases have entailed a corresponding increase in the range and number of activities within the various organizations on the campus. In budgeting it has been faced with the problem of the rising cost of goods and services and the addition of more activities; the problem has been to fit everything in. As Murray Rankin says: "The amount of cloth you have will determine the size of your suit."

The Council this year has organized a Publicity Committee for the Student Body whose task of promoting college spirit, advertising activities on the campus and off the campus as well, has been excellently done. Much praise goes to Art Mears and the Publicity Committee for the splendid start made here. The Council, after considerable thought, decided to vote money for the equipping and running of a Canadian Football team. This decision has borne good results. The Council has voted for the affiliation of Dalhousie once more with the National Federation of Canadian University Students, and sent two delegates to the annual Conference of the Federation held in Winnipeg. Al Lomas is now Maritime Vice-President of N.F.C.U.S. and also heads up the local Dalhousie Committee. The Council has discussed with the University Administration plans for closer co-operation between the University authorities and the Student Body. A Committee of the Council has discussed, and is continuing to discuss, the possibility of having a suitable War Memorial erected on the Campus. At the present time increased canteen and restaurant facilities are being considered. The Council, having been asked by the Dalhousie King's Student Veteran Association if they would take over the Dalhousie Personal Services Organization, has decided to do so and from May 1st this organization will operate for the benefit of all students. Plans are now going ahead to work out the details of its operation although the incoming Council will largely have this task to perform. In elections this year we have had to deviate from the usual custom owing to unfortunate circumstances and another election had to be called after the first general election was held on March 2nd. The Council was forced to declare the first election illegal and the only solution open was to call another. The Council also, having seen the need and having discussed the matter thoroughly, is asking for an increase in the Student Council fee; as this is written the matter has not yet been finalized.

These then are some of the highlights of the Council's work for 1947-48.

It feels that this year Dalhousie has witnessed a resurgence of spirit and interest among the Student Body and it sincerely hopes that Dalhousie can go on to rise to greater heights of achievement.

Respectfully submitted,
ROSS HAMILTON, President,
Council of Students.

TIGERS WHITEWASH AXEMEN

Record Crowd Sees Navy Out-Pass Dal

Dalhousie's football Tigers reached the end of their unbeaten streak at Wanderers grounds Wednesday afternoon when a well-drilled, smooth-working combination of Sailors pulled a 13-5 victory out of the fire.

The Dalhousie team, playing without the services of Pete Fernon, Blair Dunlop, and Bill Pearson, fought hard, but it was a losing battle, due mostly to the lack-lustre displays put on by members of the team in recent practice sessions, according to one member of the D. A. A. C.

As a result of the loss, the Tigers will play St. Mary's in a semi-final sudden death playoff game sometime in the near future. Coach Barkhart promises some stiff workouts in future practices. Don "Woodie" Woodward suffered a concussion in the last quarter of the game, and is in the local hospital.

Paint Stands At Raymond Field Friday

Raymond Field, home of the Acadia Axemen was given a facelift Friday night by some person or persons unknown when the centre of the grandstand was painted yellow and a broad Dalhousie lettered across the surface in black. Goalposts were painted barber-pole fashion in yellow and black, and the side of the cement grandstand bore a monstrous D. A. L.

Incidentally, it is of more than passing interest to note that the Bengals won the game 9-0 on a try scored by Bill Robertson shortly after the opening whistle. It marked the first time in many years that Acadia has been beaten on her home field.

More than 400 students made the trip from Halifax by special buses and by cars to help cheer their favorites to victory. The brass band, led by Geoff Payne, marched around the field before the game led by the Dal Tiger—an ancient Ford with stripes painted on its sides carrying a Dalhousie banner over its top.

Dramatic Society

Concert Orchestra

BAND

With the largest membership it has ever known - upwards of three hundred active members - The Glee and Dramatic Society can record another successful year of activities in the drama department and the various branches of the music department.

The two major dramatic efforts of the year were played to large and enthusiastic student and public audiences. The choice of the Shakespearean play for the fall term was the comedy "As you like It."

O.G.

By way of variety they presented in the second term - one of the more recent Broadway hits "Dear Ruth." Both productions were directed by the society's good friend and staunch supporter J. Leslie Pigot.

In the Connolly Shield Competition for one-act plays, the adjudicator Prof. C. L. Bennett awarded the shield to Kings College Dramatic Society for "The Monkey's Paw" under the student direction of Gerald Foster.

D.S.

The concert orchestra and chorus beginning work shortly after fall classes resumed, after months of arduous work came through with a brilliant production of H.M.S. Pinaparte. Geoffrey Payport and Frank Padmore deserve great credit for the hit show of many Halifax seasons.

The football band under Ernie Heighton opened the Society's musical year. Impressive in new uniform, complete with cheerleaders, drum major, majorette and mascot, the band added colour and boosted team morale.

It was indeed a full year, on stage and behind the scenes, turning in stellar performances all, the numerous groups who made the productions possible, executive costume, make up and properties departments, stage crew, electricians, librarians, ushers and many others.

The new students soon had occasion to know why Don Warner and his orchestra are the most popular dance aggregation in the Maritimes. The band continued to prove this through the year.

DELTA GAMMA

The first general meeting of Delta Gamma was held at the end of October, when plans were made to hold an Open House at Shirreff Hall. The date was set for Nov. 1, and the affair turned out to be very successful. Deanne Burchell's orchestra was in attendance.

After Christmas plans got under way for "Co-Ed Daze" which were February 11, 12, and 13. Wednesday saw Bridge and Dancing in Common Room. Thursday there was a get together at Shirreff Hall and Friday the gala event—the Sadie Hawkin's Dance took place. Don Warner's orchestra supplied the music and the highlight of the evening was the costume judging.

Under the capable management of Patty MacKinnon casting was started for the Delta Gamma play in February. The play was Petticoats Preferred and was presented in the Connolly Shield Competition.

Debaters from Delta Gamma participated in interfaculty debates as well as an intercollegiate verbal tilt with Acadia and a radio debate.

DAL vs. ST. MARY'S

St. Mary's College was the host college for the first intercollegiate debate of the season held on Nov. 12th. Bob Kaill and Malcolm Graham from Dalhousie upheld the resolution "Resolved that the Canadian Government should adopt a system of compulsory military training." The St. Mary's team, Terry O'Toole and Robert McNeil won a 2-1 decision.

DAL vs. U.N.B. LAW SCHOOL

Dalhousie's second debate in the M.I.D.L. schedule was a home debate on Feb. 7 with the visiting team representing the U.N.B. Law School. Don Harris and Alf Harris, upholding the negative of the resolution that the Canadian Senate should be an elected body, won a 2-1 decision over the visitors, Eric Teed and Jim Lunney.

DAL vs. ACADIA

On February 10 Dalhousie played host to a debating team from Acadia in the final intercollegiate debate of the season. Acadia, represented by Arthur Hirtle and Noel McNevin upheld the resolution "Resolved that the inner logic of socialism necessitates a totalitarian state, won the unanimous decision of the judges. Dalhousie was ably represented by Al Baccardax and Earl Urquhart. A good attendance from supporters of both teams added to an excellent program.

Sodales Debating Society

The aim of the society is to promote debating interest in Dalhousie. Attention has been centered upon interfaculty debating in which eighteen teams representing Arts and Science, Law, Commerce, and Delta Gamma competed this year. By means of an elimination system the final debate saw Arts and Science capture the Viscount Bennett Shield from a law team, winner of the award for the past two years.

As a member of the Maritime Intercollegiate Debating League Sodales participated in three intercollegiate debates, losing two and winning one. It may be noted that all those who debated on the three teams were debating in the intercollegiate league for the first time.

There has been an increased interest in debating activities this year and the executive members feel that there is still room for further activity. Special appreciation is expressed to Prof. R. M. Cummings, Honorary President of Sodales for his genuine interest and excellent advice in matters concerning the society.

The competition for the MacDonald Oratorical Award was open to the six intercollegiate debaters. Earl Urquhart, a first year law student emerged victorious in a competition judged by President Kerr, Dean MacDonald and Dean Wilson.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE

The Dalhousie Publicity Organization was set up for the first time this year. Its purpose was to co-ordinate the publicity for the various organizations under the Students' Council. One of the avowed aims was to create a greater college spirit at Dal. In this it was highly successful. A number of stunts were pulled, some from the Organization and others with the tacit approval.

John Roger's Zebra painted car, the painted highway to Acadia, the decoration on Acadia's grandstand, on the Wanderer's Grounds, the large Pep Rallies, the monster snake dance, the hanging of Mr. 26, Robin McLean's leaflet dropping stunt were all features of the fall term along with thousands of people attending the football games.

Another feature of the year was the inauguration by Art Mears of a weekly Dal radio program called the Dalhousie Bulletin Board which gave a summary and preview of events at Dal and interviewed various campus leaders. This led to the famous D Day described elsewhere. Five girls were in charge of painting posters. They were Mary McKay, Crys Merrick, Barbara Mack, Shelia McLaren and Marg O'Neil. Jean Bowers was in charge of distribution. Jack Boudreau was very helpful as Chairman of the Council Committee. The first Director was Art Mears.

Under the leadership of Bernal Sawyer and Deryk Griffin the Arts and Science Society expressed a re-awakening this year. Owing to their efforts the constitution was revised and a new system of dues and membership cards was adopted.

The Society took an active part in interfaculty sports, entered a one act play in the Connolly Shield Competition and succeeded in winning the Bennett Shield for supremacy in interfaculty debating. Their social undertaking for the season took the form of a small informal dance in the lower Gym.

Commerce Society

During 1947-48 the Commerce Society, as the representative body of the Faculty of Commerce on the campus experienced a record-breaking membership. This year has also seen it place its strongest teams in interfaculty competition.

The Millionaires Ball held on January ninth was both a financial and social success. Preceding the dance an informal banquet was held at the Nova Scotian Hotel with an attendance of one hundred and fourteen members.

The Society looks forward to the continued development of the Department of Commerce as a permanent part of Dalhousie.

Engineering Society

D. BERUBE, REG HUMPHRIES, BILL CHRISTIE, (President); B. MACLEOD, C. STEEVES.

The Dalhousie Engineering Society has had a very successful year. Its activities may be summarized as follows: The athletic teams have taken an active part in all phases of interfaculty sport—football, basketball, hockey and bowling. A tour through the Mersey Paper Company at Liverpool was sponsored by the Society in October. The annual Boilermakers Ball at the Nova Scotian Hotel in February was attended by a record number of students and guests. The Engineers Banquet a few weeks later met with equal success.

The Bob Walters Memorial Award presented annually by the society to the engineering student possessing the best all around qualities of ability and good fellowship was awarded this year to Don McKeigan.

Student Veteran's Association

The copious problems of rehabilitation with which the Dal. Kings Students' Veterans' Associations were confronted on their return from active service have been creditably discharged.

Four Mulgrave Park staff houses were appropriated for the use of married students. Cathedral Barracks afforded a "bridgehead" for the single men who sought temporary rooming facilities. An effective summer employment committee procured full time positions for many students and a very excellent part-time employment bureau known as Students' Service was begun by Messrs. Wylie, Clements and Murphy.

Two delegates were sent to the National Conference of Student Veterans in December of 1947 to express our concerted opinion on the rising cost of living index. In keeping with their earlier stand the government granted a commensurate increase for married veterans together with an additional allowance for dependents.

A Smoker was held in February at which Pres. Tommy Giles presented an engraved pocket watch to Prof. C. L. Bennett as a token of esteem for his support of the student vets both in the official capacity as D.V.A. counsellor and as a fellow veteran and friend.

Standing: Neil MacLean, J. M. S. Patton, I. Millie, Bill Cox.

Dental Society

1947-48 was a very successful one for the Dental Society. The society had only 37 members, and while it did not grow in numbers, its growth in importance as an active campus society was widely recognized among the students both at Forrest and at Studley.

Beginning the year with a smoker, at which the retired Dean (Dr. William W. Woodbury) was presented with a suitable gift, the Society followed up with a small formal dance at the Nova Scotian Hotel.

Teams were entered in interfaculty hockey and basketball and the latter reached the semi-finals. Regular fortnightly meetings were held throughout the year at which the presentation of papers by students took place. The Society concluded the year with a much appreciated banquet at the Lord Nelson Hotel in honor of the graduating class.

Pharmacy Society

President: JOHN A. HENDERSON
Vice-President: EARL E. MACDONALD
Sec.-Treasurer—MARY F. SINCLAIR

The influx of a large number of student veterans into Pharmacy caused the formation of a Pharmacy Society during the 1946-47 term which has proved a vital force in uniting the students of the Maritime College of Pharmacy.

The social year at Dalhousie was brightened by the annual Pharmacy Ball. The students themselves gather each year for a banquet at the Nova Scotian Hotel.

In hockey circles the boys have distinguished themselves in interfaculty games. The keen interest now felt in this society bodes well for the future.

Law Society

COLIN SMITH, JIM CREGAN, (President); BOB MATHESON, AL TRITES

This year the Faculty of Law was well represented in all student organizations and activities. The positions of Vice President and Member at Large on the Students' Council, President of the D.A.A.C., President of the Glee Club, Editor of Pharos, President of the D.K.S. V.A. and the post of Publicity Director was capably filled by law students.

Keen interest was shown in interfaculty sport. The football team copped the league crown and the basketball team lost the interfaculty crown by one point only to the Meds.

The law debaters reached the finals in the competition for the Bennett Shield and climaxed a very busy year with a successful invasion of Osgoode Hall. A record number of thirty appeals was heard in the Moot Court and more students than ever attended the annual three day sitting of the Mock Parliament.

The big social event of the year was the Law Ball. An effort was made to bring back the glitter and splendour of pre-war dances and all agree that the effort was completely successful.

Medical Society

During the fall term the Med. Society kept alive and showed signs of energy and strength unsuspected by most of us. Our energetic CAMSI member Miss Agnes Demone attended the National Conference at Hamilton, putting on a very good show despite a discouraging lack of support here at home.

The spring term found the society stimulated by the urgency of long unattended CAMSI affairs. The student body, particularly an alert first year class "tidied house" a bit. The Book Bureau was investigated, its constitution amended, and the cost of books somewhat reduced. Bearing in mind the caution, "Nothing is assured to us but death and taxes" we can, with reasonable caution announce:

(a) In 1948 every medical student at Dalhousie will be a member of the D.S.M.S.

(b) In 1948 the D.S.M.S. will enjoy the privilege of intracurricular periods for its meetings.

Committees have been set up to investigate interne conditions in the area, information which is vital if we are to take advantage of the improvements now within reach of upper Canadian medical schools.

Med. Society, through its members, has been active in interfaculty sports—coming through to win the interfaculty basketball championship, and putting up a stout fight in interfaculty hockey. Bruce "Doc" Morton, we record with pride, was honored with the Rosenfeld award.

Our disappointment in this was tempered by our pride in seeing Elsie Cruickshank, Medicine's Queen, crowned also Dalhousie's Queen on Munro Day. Medicine seems blessed with good choice this year as it was last Munro Day. It is also pleasant to note that the charming sons, Nicki Reynolds and Gordon Stead, of two first year men represent Dalhousie in the Vets' Beautiful Baby Contest.

Student Christian Movement

Under the capable leadership of Regional Secretary "Skippy" Embree and his executive, the S.C.M. has had a very interesting year. It began with a conferette at Pine Hill in October at which reports of Summer Work Camps and the General Council meeting were received. Another conferette was held in March. The speakers were Prof. Harvey of Pine Hill, Eleanor Harwood of the United Church Training School and Dr. John Karefa-Smart, a famous missionary in Sierra Leone.

During the year a regular Thursday night supper-meeting was held. These were occasions for many spirited discussions. Sunday night was "Open House." These evenings featured guest speakers, movies, and social gatherings.

With the addition of our own clubroom this year, the Dalhousie Newman Club has expanded its activities. At the first meeting it was decided that each Sunday evening the clubrooms would be open to the members and their guests. These Sunday night social evenings have been a great success.

Two successful Communion Breakfasts were held during the first term with Hon. Angus L. Macdonald and Hon. Harold Connolly as speakers. This term another Breakfast was held with A. W. Klieforth as guest speaker.

The big social event of the year was the Mardi Gras Ball at the Nova Scotian Hotel. The dance committee under the chairmanship of Jack Boudreau deserve credit for making it such a great success.

Pre-Medical Society

President: HUGAH MACDONALD
Vice-President: ART MACKENZIE

Secretary: LILO BROWN
Treasurer: WALTER MACLEAN

Organized in March, 1947, the Pre-Medical Society has passed its first birthday with a well-accomplished year. Established for the purpose of encouraging better and more intimate relations among the pre-med students, and for promoting activities of interest to them, the society has held meetings every month at which medical films were shown. A basketball team was entered in interfaculty competition. A small dance marked the cessation of its activities.

Le Cercle Francais

Le Cercle Francais stimulated a keen interest in France and the French language this year through the programs of its monthly meetings. Included in these programs were addresses by M. Roger Picard, French Consul in Halifax and Geoffrey Payzant, Dalhousie's representative to the World Student Conference in Denmark last summer. Movies of French Canada were also shown.

It is hoped that the club will meet with as much success next year.

This group meets every Monday afternoon to hear a book review given by one of its members. The works reviewed are generally books of modern authors, although from time to time older and more classic literature is reviewed. We were very pleased this year to have as our guests Miss Mowatt of Shirreff Hall and Miss Alley, both of whom reviewed books for the club during the spring term.

International Student Service

The Dalhousie branch of the International Student's Service has this year continued its enthusiastic efforts on behalf of student relief in the war-scarred countries of Europe and Asia. As a politically neutral and religiously impartial service organization of students and professors around the world, the ISS is making a material and spiritual contribution to world unity that is without parallel. Its aim is to make a Christian response to the appeal of "hungry bodies and hungry minds" and in 1948 has campaigned in conjunction with The Canadian Appeal For Children."

The local committee operated this year under the chairmanship of Bernal Sawyer and with Professor G. P. Grant of the Department of Philosophy as faculty adviser. The secretary was Helen Beveridge and the committee included Derek Griffin, Laurie Allison, Lew Miller, Donald Cross, Robin MacLean, Bob Willet, Bob Mitchell, Geoffrey Payzant, Art Mears and numerous others.

Splendid impetus was given to the campaign by the visit of Mrs. W. H. Clarke, a member of the Canadian committee, in January. A result of her stimulus was that Dalhousie became the key organization in the Maritimes and the objective of this was set at $3,000.

A successful tag day was held on February twenty-first. On March first an ice-carnival at The Forum was followed by a dance in the gym, at which Bernie Creighton was crowned Campus King. Noelle Barter, Joyce Cameron and Jan Thomas headed the Shirreff Hall committee sponsoring King Bernie, and by many ingenious means raised $303, giving 30,300 votes, a large majority over the other contestants, Denne Burchill of King's, Bob MacDougall of Delta Gamma, and Don Warner of Alpha Gamma Delta.

Plans are being made for one or more students to exchange during the summer with students in European universities. Geoffrey Payzant, last year's exchange student and local delegate to the General Conference in Toronto in November, is finalizing arrangements for this project.

The work of this organization will, it is hoped, continue on an even larger scale next year in an effort to halt the world's drift towards chaos. It is the most constructive way in which university students and professors may assist in relieving the ignorance and despair which can lead us again into war. Our future is bound up with that of students everywhere. The challenge of their need is one we cannot afford to ignore.

Review of The Year

By Arthur Moreira

THE first term opened with a Gazette headline in 72 point type announcing that this was Dalhousie's Greatest Year. Whether or not, as some critics have suggested, the head should have been Dalhousie's Biggest Year instead is a matter which is not for us to decide. At any rate, registration was an all-time high with over seventeen hundred students. At that time there were also rumours that the University planned to erect an Arts Building shortly, and an announcement that the National Research Council was going to put up a research building on the Campus, construction to begin in the Spring.

The term opened with the emphasis on athletics: the Varsity Tennis team defeated Acadia soundly, and became Maritime Champions again when U.N.B. conceded. The girls retained the Maritime Intercollegiate Tennis title. The first week-end after classes began also saw the first game in Canadian football, the number one innovation of this year's D.A.A.C. The team defeated St. Mary's College in the first game of the season before a large crowd. The team, under the able guidance of coach Burkhart, was to do very well in their first year.

That week was largely occupied by Initiation and the advent of the New Look. Rumours, which the press and radio carried around the Maritimes, that Initiation Committee Chairman Scott Morrison had been attacked by a revengeful group of frosh were without any basis. The New Look unfortunately flourished; at the time of going to press a short skirt is a rare and delightful sight here. Manner and morals were otherwise unchanged: people still skipped as many classes as they dared and talked football and sex in the Gym store.

The Council, under President Ross Hamilton, got down to business at once. They announced

Canadian football arrives . . .

The upsurge of college spirit seen by many outside observers blossomed out in paint at the Wanderer's field on the eve of the game against Dartmouth Air Station. The team had already defeated an inferior Wanderers' team soundly (27-0), and proceeded to accord the Dartmouth flyers the same treatment. The team was now on top of its league, with Pete Feron as the high scorer of the League.

The somewhat neglected rugby team was quietly mowing down opposition, with the exception of a strong Acadia team, which edged them out in the first game. The spotlight switched to Rugby as preparations were made for the annual pilgrimage to Acadia. The soccer team was doing well in the odd exhibition match. Another new event brought off by the D.A.A.C. was the Golf tournament; Roland Timothy came from behind to defeat Eddie Crowell, holder of the Maritime, Provincial and Halifax Amateur Golf titles.

the appointment of Art Mears, third year Law student, married and a veteran, as Publicity Director. The New Publicity Department was one of the best improvements this year: not the least of Mr. Mear's innovations was his now well-known radio program over Station CJCH every Saturday, which carries news of Dal and its doings throughout the province.

On October 14th the undergraduates of the University gathered in the Gym to hear the President's annual address of welcome. Introduced by Col. Laurie, the Chairman of the Board of Governors, Dr. Kerr spoke to the assembled students on the place now taken by University and student in the modern world, so changed in recent years. The students of today were the heirs of the atomic age, the President said, and theirs would be its problems.

Anonymous admirers of Dal left their mark on Wanderers

Another for Dal

Acadia pilgrimage. The paint enthusiasts travelled up to Wolfville the night before the game and left their mark on the countryside around Acadia. Dalhousie's anonymous admirers indicated via this medium that their opinion of Acadia was low, and that Dalhousie was a fine place, and would win the game. A dead cat was also left hanging from the flagpole of the college. Efforts on the part of appropriate authorities to apprehend the vandals met with no success. The trip was a great success; the Rugby team defeated the Acadia team, and all Dal students took full advantage of the kind hospitality of their hosts.

The Freshman show, the first Glee Club production, was displayed at the first Council dance. In the words of a Gazette reporter, it was "inflicted on a long suffering audience"; actually it was much the same as other shows in other years—certainly no worse.

Morning chapel services were instituted which have claimed a small but faithful attendance; the S.C.M. continued its Sunday night Open Houses for discussion of religious subjects.

Dal's last Canadian football game was heralded by a monster pep rally, which took the form of a snake dance which wandered round town. There were, unfortunately, a number of skirmishes with persons claiming to represent St. Mary's in one way or another, and we are told that St. Mary's lost a valuable, antique fence in the process. There is no corroboration forthcoming from official quarters as to this.

The game itself was poor; the refereeing was not nearly as good as it should have been, and Dal lost the

There was a big turnout for the stag given for all male students by the Alumni Association. The Smoker was a great success this year, as it has been since its inception three years ago.

Shortly before the Acadia trip Mear's publicity men, assisted by the Gazette, ran one of their more hair-brained schemes. Leaflets were run off depicting a battered Navy player and a splendid Dal specimen, with the slogan: "Dal Beat Navy". These were dropped from a plane all over Halifax, with special attention accorded H.M.C.S. Stadacona, on the morning of the game against Navy. Unfortunately, Navy defeated the Dal team in one of the best games of the season, but only by a small margin. Then interest centered on the Rugby football team and the

St. Mary's dummy on the gallows

In the middle of November the Glee Club staged its first major production of the year, Shakespeare's As You Like It. While not as good as the Shakespeares of previous years, this was due largely to the paucity of the play itself, and not to any weakness in the producing. It was directed by Mr. Pigot; members of the cast who were outstanding: Gerry MacKay as Orlando, Lorna Innis as Rosalind and Berney Creighton as the inimitable Touchstone. It was probably the most difficult of the Glee Club's productions, even though the script had been cut considerably.

The I. S. S. opened for business by appointing various committees under President Bernal Sawyer, with old hands like Lew Miller and Geoff Payzant standing by to help. Sodales released plans for one of the heaviest schedules of its history, including radio debates—a new feature. St. F. X. sent their Rugby team down to play for the provincial title. It was a hard, clean game, and Dal had the edge most of the way. The best thing in the game, in our opinion, was Rosie MacMillan's beautiful field goal, which virtually won the game. The team then proceeded to Mount A., where they won the Maritime title. Captain Gordie Hart and the team are to be congratulated on the first Maritime Championship in football that Dal has had for some time.

The co-eds had been playing well all term; coached by Mrs. Donald (Pat) MacKeigan, the ground hockey team played H. C. L. and Edgehill, and played Acadia for the Provincial and unofficial Maritime title. The scores after two games were 3-3, and 1-0 for Acadia.

Interfac football was more spirited and well-supported than we have ever seen it. Law beat out Engineers after a long, hard series. Shortly before people settled down to learn enough for the fifty per cent necessary to pass the Xmas exams, the Council announced its intention of joining N.F.C.U.S. this year. President Ross Hamilton and Al Lomas would represent Dal at the National Conference over the Xmas holidays. Preparations were game. Still, considering that it was their first year at the game, the Dal team did exceedingly well, and next year they will be out to win the league, and perhaps play the odd game with teams from outside the Maritimes.

Other organizations were going strong by this time: the Dal Chess Club opened formal proceedings with a visit from Mr. O. M. McConnell, President of the Bluenose Chess Club and Nova Scotia chess champion. Mr. McConnell won nine simultaneous games in an hour and a half of play.

The D.A.A.C. instituted a freshman Track meet between Dal and Acadia. Dal's frosh walked away with the honours, winning four out of five field items. Basketball began with an exhibition game against Liverpool, which Dal won without much trouble. The Engineers girded up their loins and prepared for their annual pilgrimage to the Mersey Paper Company. This outing, it seems to us, is only an excuse whereby members may be initiated into the Horizontal (or is it the Vertical?) Club, but it seems to be a great success at all times.

Number thirteen mows 'em down under way in the Glee Club for Pinafore and Dear Ruth, which would emerge in February. The soccer team ended its activities by beating Acadia 2-1. Then exams came unexpectedly, and all and sundry retired to study.

The second term opened with an announcement from the Council that Dal had joined N.F.C.U.S. and that the meeting had been highly satisfactory. An ambitious program had been mapped out, and the federation had entered I.U.S. The latter was the most radical step taken. It is very doubtful whether either N.F.C.U.S. or its American counterpart will remain in I.U.S. in view of recent developments, and it is unfortunate that they ever entered. When they withdraw it will leave a bad taste in the mouth of students in European countries who had hoped for some aid against the belligerence of Communist institutions. Otherwise, the program seemed sound.

Hockey, basketball and debating got under way with a great deal of vim and vigour. Law and Arts and Science were then top contenders for the Bennet Shield. At an open House sponsored by the S.C.M. the Primate of All Canada, Archbishop Kingston, spoke to assembled students. His Grace received a rousing ovation. The D.A.A.C. came across with another innovation, as an interfac bowling league was set up. Plans were also on paper for a curling league, which got under way, and for a floor-hockey league, which has been in doubt, since it was claimed that the game was too hard on the Gym floor. In the first interfac Hockey game of the season Commerce defeated King's 4-2. The Varsity teams were also girding themselves for the heavy work ahead. Lucy Calp, freshman brunette, was chosen Sweater Queen of the Commerce Ball. Colin Smith and Bill Cox returned from the Third National Conference of Student Veterans. The meeting, they reported, had been chiefly concerned with the precarious financial position of student veterans. The meeting seems to have shown some fruit, as the Government raised the allowance of the married veteran. Mrs. H. Clarke, travelling secretary of

I.S.S. spoke on the childlike apathy of Canadians where European affairs were concerned, and urged support for the organization's drive for funds. Preparations got started for Munro Day. Jack Boudreau, veteran of many Munro Days, was appointed Chairman of the Committee. Entries were called for the Connolly Shield contest.

En route to Wolfville . . . Dal won

Politics again invaded the Campus as plans were finalized for the Mock Parliament, traditionally a Law School preserve. Efforts in a section of the Gazette to found an Anarchist club were quashed at the source. Art Mears announced that the day before Munro Day would be a Dal day on Station CJCH, which had lent its facilities within a certain schedule to Dal.

Early in February Dear Ruth went on for three nights. Art Hartling was excellent as the judge, and carried the rather tenuously held plot on his shoulders. Lorna Innis, Marg Goode and John Pauley were also good. The comic end of the play was built up while the romantic thread suffered considerably by comparison—which may have been, as some have said, no loss. Again, the play was directed by Mr. Pigot. After this effort, the Glee Club took a deep breath, and went on to Pinafore.

Sodales covered itself with glory; a Law School debating team of Bill Cox and Tommy Giles defeated Osgoode Hall by a unanimous decision, turning down the resolution that the Communists should be outlawed in Canada. Other intercollegiate debates went well, with more wins than losses. Under the auspices of the Dartmouth Ski Club a group of enthusiasts took two or three jaunts up the Wentworth valley, where they spent as much time out-shouting a Mount A. group as they did skiing. No casualties were reported.

The most interesting event at this time was the Vets Smoker. Held by the Dal-King's Association of Student Veterans, it afforded an opportunity for the boys to get together in very pleasant surroundings, and argue out old actions and incidents with a few under the belt to keep them warm. One of their purposes for the gathering was to honour Professor Bennett, who has been the Adviser and friend of the Vets for the three years that they have been organized. Tommy Giles, President of the Association, spoke for them all when he said that his actions had stamped him as a friend of all who came into contact with him. He then presented the Professor with a watch.

Athletics were still going at a high pitch: a badminton team defeated a Stad team; the hockey team tied St. F. X. in a hard and thrilling game; the basketball juniors were at the top of their league.

Co-ed week finally arrived, with the annual Sadie Hawkins dance, in the middle of February. All agreed that the dance was one of the year's best; "the food," one swain was heard to remark, "was the best thing about it." Delta Gamma and President Elsie Cruikshank are to be congratulated on the success of their program.

Announcements from the societies concerned made it known that in the Student Council elections Jack Boudreau would run from Medicine, Harry Rhude from Law and Russ McKinney from Arts and Science as incipient Presidents. Bernal Sawyer from Arts and Science and Bill Cox from Law would fight it out for Vice-President. Other elections at the time were in answer to the challenge from U.B.C. that their babies were the most beautiful in the country, or something to that effect. The Vets' association got busy, produced pictures of the children of their married members, and a panel of judges sat for some time trying to pick one to represent them all. Finally it decided on Nicki Reynolds, with only two dissenting judgments.

On the week-end of the twenty-first three Dal teams lost all their matches at Acadia. Here, the Juniors won their first game in the playoffs for the city title. The girls, for the first time, had three college teams, the first two entered in City League competition, with the Intermediates winning their section, but losing to Q.E.H. Grads for the championship. The Intermediate team were champions in the Maritime Intercollegiate Basketball meet held here for the first time. The Varsity team lost the provincial title to Acadia, but defeated the Maritime Champions in an exhibition game. In Interclass basketball the freshettes won the league.

The Winners Velcoff and Jodrey

The Glee Club presented Pinafore on the twenty-fifth to a packed student house. People were standing all night in the aisles and by the door. Lloyd Soper and Eileen Cantwell were the stars in one of the year's most successful productions, directed by Geoff Payzant at the chorus end and Frank Padmore with the orchestra. This concluded a good year of Glee Club activity, and President Fleming is to be congratulated on its success. President Bob Harwood of N.F.C.U.S. was here that week, and met the Council and the heads of various societies, and saw the first night performance of Pinafore.

Churchill-Smith and Knickle St. F. X. game

Before he left he and the Council discussed various aspects of Nifcus' program. In the Maritime Swimming meet, held at Acadia, the girls cleaned up. Marg Eustace broke two records, Pat Snuggs one, and the team broke the relay record. The badminton teams won all their matches with a variety of opponents. The girl's hockey team defeated Imperial Oil and Maritime Tel. and Tel., and also defeated the Campus Characters. Coach Windy O'Neill gets our congratulations. Women's sports have been ably managed this year under the capable direction of Mrs. Pat MacKeigan, who also coached ground hockey, archery, badminton and basketball.

The next week or two was full of turmoil and bad elections. The student Council elections were thrown out because some persons had voted twice, and the re-elections changed the outcome of the first. Even Sodales declared an election of officers invalid, because the necessary quorum of twenty-five was missing. The next elections in both were held properly, and Russ McKinney was elected President of the Students' Council by a comfortable majority. One of the most important questions on the ballot—that of the increase in Council fees—was supported by a narrow margin. Students did not seem to be generally aware of its necessity, and it is felt that those in charge of publicity for the move did too little too late.

I.S.S., which had got off to a good start with an official opening by the President, began to close operations. Berney Creighton emerged from the Campus King contest as undisputed monarch, backed by the Shirreff Hall girls, out to beat Alexandra Hall, whose candidate won comfortably last year. Chairman Bernal Sawyer's splendid work has had the desired result; latest estimates indicate that I.S.S. has already raked in about thirteen hundred dollars, with caution deposits still to come in.

The Glee Club announced that the plays in the Connolly Shield competition would be presented. The plays ranged from good to bad, with King's presentation of The Monkey's Paw coming out on top, Pi Beta Phi's White Iris a close second. The outstanding player in the King's play was Don Clark; the play was directed by Gerry Foster, a third year Law student who has been quite active in dramatics.

Radio "D-Day" went on the day before Munro Day, and was highly successful. The best part of the day, so far as we were concerned, was when the Glee Club revamped Pinafore, and some of the plays were also excellent. After that, Munro Day came.

The day was good, but nobody was at all interested in the weather. People wandered in and out of the Gym for about ten hours as the different parts of the program went on. Basketball games, of various sorts, beard-growing contests and quartets competed with the presentation of the would-be Campus Queens for the crowd's attention. After the Supper Dance at the Residence Awards were given out; receiving the coveted Malcom Honour Award this year were Bob Tuck, Helen Beveridge and Dave Doig. The highlight of the evening arrived after the Queen judges delivered their decision, and Elsie Cruickshank was crowned Queen of the Campus for 1948-49 by her predecessor, Gene Machum. Then the dance began.

In the narrow doorway—thoughtfully left there by the University—which is the only way to get to dressing rooms, cloakrooms and outside, about fifteen hundred people jammed and struggled. It's about time that the door was enlarged or improved in some way. The dance went on until the band inadvertently hit upon God Save The King, and people began to go home.

The last two important occurrences of the year were trips taken by the hockey and Junior basketball teams. At the invitation of the Grand Falls Athletic Association, the hockey team played a series of games in Newfoundland, with excellent success. They defeated their opponents in all three games, including the St. Bonaventure's College team, who were senior champions of the island. Dalhousie thus became the unofficial holder of the Newfoundland senior championship. This was the first time that a Dal hockey team had played such a series in Newfoundland, and it is hoped that the event will become an annual fixture. The boys all speak highly of Newfoundland hospitality, which is only natural, Newfoundland being the excellent place it is.

The Junior basketball team won their games in Saint John for the Maritime title, after having defeated Glace Bay for the provincial championship, and then proceeded to Montreal to play for the Canadian title. There they lost both games, but their achievement in getting so far was no mean one. It is the first time in quite a while that a Dal basketball team has done so well.

So the year ended well in the sports department, which was celebrated by a D.A.A.C. banquet, at which the athletic awards were given out and everyone in good voice insisted in making a speech of some sort. This too, it is hoped, will become an annual affair. The D.A.A.C. had never held banquets before, but the success of this year's will probably establish the precedent.

There were other banquets being held at about the same time. A week before, the tired but unbeaten Student Council took a rest from affairs of state and held a small get-together. We are informed by various members ("don't quote me on this") that it, too, was very successful, and should become an annual event. This is the first year that the Council has had a party of its own. A great many precedents were being set as the term ended.

Affairs of state still claimed most of the Council's attention, however. The American federation of university students had withdrawn from I.U.S., after the shocking incident in Prague after the Communist coup. The American vice-

The new Council had met long since, but it too was largely preoccupied with whether or not it was going to have enough money next year. Several preliminary budgets were before it; smaller ones, such as the Canadian football team's preliminary and Glee Club sundries, were passed without trouble, but the Gazette and the Year Book would have to wait for the decision on the increase before making any plans. As it stood, students were paying a dollar for a Gazette that cost about half as much again, and three dollars for a Year Book, that cost $4.50, according to Ron Caldwell, the Editor.

The appointments made by the old Council were announced in the last Gazette. Ron Caldwell would again edit the Yearbook; Jack Boudreau would take over from Art Mears in the Publicity department, and Jack Lusher and Art Moreira would be joint editors of the Gazette for next year. The various editors were saying nothing about their plans for next year, if any; all were waiting to see whether or not the increase in fees went president wrote a strongly worded letter to the executive, protesting the fact that no protest had been made to the government with reference to treatment accorded to Czech students by Communist police, and withdrew from the organization. When the U. S. group made their action known, there was a wide feeling throughout Canadian colleges that N.F.C.U.S. had better follow their example. Accordingly, the Council passed a resolution that N.F.C.U.S. withdraw.

Other matters on the Council's hands when the term ended were the increase in fees, and, among other small matters, proposed disciplinary action in connection with an alleged disturbance at the D.A.A.C. banquet. Their own do, apparently, was very decorous. The increase, at the time of going to press, is hovering between a committee and the Senate; without an increase there are serious indications that many of the Council's all too few "public services" may have to be even more restricted.

Queen Elsie

through. A great deal depends on the outcome of the proposal.

The Canadian football team got down to work making plans for next year; without a field they were rather handicapped, but arrangements were being made to secure a practise field not far from the Campus. At the same time an invitation was extended to all Maritime Universities interested in forming an intercollegiate Canadian football league. Prospects are very good for such a league, but there may be some who insist on playing only Rugby to the exclusion of the Canadian game.

In the last Gazette there were also complaints about the lack of a rink. Looking forward to next year, as we have done for the last three, everyone seems to wish to leave things until the fall. When the fall arrives people decide that they can do nothing that year, and leave it until the following fall, etc., etc. There has always been an atmosphere of procrastination here, but no one seems to mind much. Dalhousie is now the only University in the Maritimes of any considerable size that has not a rink of its own. A rink, nowadays, is a profitable proposition, quite apart from the fact that we need one very badly. The field is also a matter of serious concern. Without a field for three years, the Council is going to have fairly heavy expenditures in hiring another, and students will probably find, again, that their Council cards will admit them to very few games, if any. Where the field is concerned this is unfortunate but necessary for a while. But it is about time Dalhousie got her own rink, and gave the best hockey teams in the province a chance.

With the last Gazette things closed down for the year, except for exams, which no one thought would be at all easy. The odd English 2 notice hung limply from notice boards in empty halls, and janitors looked into empty classrooms and watched dust settle. Graduates began to look forward to Convocation, which would take about fifteen hours this year, with the large class receiving degrees.

Spectre of exams looms

Library behind

There was a notice around to the effect that the Yearbook would be out on the fifteenth. Since this document is still in preparation on the thirteenth we rather doubt that, but it should be out earlier than last year, and for once, we will be able to get the damned thing before going home, instead of having to wait all summer.

College Spirit

LOOKING at the year in general there are a number of significant features worth remarking on. One was the phenomenal rise in what we call college spirit. College spirit depends largely on athletics for self expression, and without a successful athletic program it might as well not exist. This year, for the first time in years, we had enthusiastic and capable handling of our athletics, and it is in the natural order of things that its rise led a corresponding rise in student enthusiasm. Some aspects of this improvement were the culmination in part of John MacCormack's two years here as Physical Director; this is especially noticeable in the revived interfaculty system. But a large part of its success was due to President Windy O'Neill of the D.A.

Malcolm Honour Awards, Tuck, Beveridge and Doig

A.C. and his energetic executive. For our money, the Man of the Year is Windy O'Neill. To quote the Gazette:—

“ . . . Never has the D.A.A.C. been more ably administered and seldom has the D.A.A.C. President and his Executive overcome with such signal success so many trying problems.

“Windy O'Neill has proved himself one of the ablest and most enthusiastic Dalhousians ever to take part in student's affairs. . . .”

In other organizations there has been enthusiasm, and still is. But athletics are without doubt the most important extra-curricular field of student activity, and no college is successful without a successful sports program. There have been years when we were proud of the Glee Club, or some other Famous organization, but this has been the year of the D.A. A.C. and we hope that it will possess the same standard of efficiency and strong feeling under those who follow in Mr. O'Neill's footsteps.

Quite late in Spring

Against appalling difficulties, small budget, no field, no rink, no University financial support, they made a good year out of this, and with the same spirit in the future and a field from the University Dalhousie should come into her own.

This year has also been one of pessimism from a few who saw more clearly than their fellows the impending clash of interests in international affairs. The gloom which has been gradually creeping over the more level-headed, in spite of themselves, will probably spread rapidly as the situation abroad deteriorates, and as many of our students begin to realize that they may have to make a great sacrifice twice, that their first, apparently, was not enough.

Appendix

It's the morning of April sixteenth and this volume was to have been printed by yesterday—obviously it wasn't and therein lies a story. When Art Moreira first began his work on the yearbook he was cautioned not to make it too long. This is the last section to go to press and therefore the proofs for it were the last to be received. Lo and behold, when they arrived we found we were short four pages of copy so Art lengthened his story—yesterday I found out that there still wasn't enough. Therefore I'm writing some.

Before you criticise the staff for not having the book out on time, I'd like to ask you a question. Have you ever edited a yearbook? probably you haven't. It's quite a pleasant feeling to know that by tomorrow the last section will be on the press, and that the culmination of a great deal of work by a great many people is about to be realized. It would be much more pleasant to know in advance that everyone is going to appreciate the effort put forth. In the event that you don't, let us know before next year and we'll attempt to adopt your suggestions.

As a last word, I'd like to do a bit of philosophizing, if there is such a word. When I came here last fall I was, like many others, an almost complete stranger to the university and its people.

Worse than that, like many others, I had a strong prejudice against Dalhousie—one cannot forget loyalties at the drop of a hat and there was no exception in my case. Dalhousie to me was a place where they turned out graduates but I thought it must be little more than that. Students never exhibited any spirit, teams rarely won any games. Players on various teams seemed to feel that the university owed them something rather than taking it for granted that it was an honor to play for a college team at all.

It wasn't long before I changed—once one gets inside one acquires a different perspective. Most students do have spirit—they are quicker to volunteer for thankless jobs than at other colleges—they work harder, they play harder and therefore they accomplish more.

The moral to this story is this: There are many students on this campus who felt the same way about the university as I did last fall. The best way to get rid of such an erroneous impression is to go to work at something—then you are qualified to growl if you do dislike some of the features of the university. You'd find out though that you wouldn't growl nearly as much and the net result would be much more profitable to the University and to you. Remember that next fall.

D - DAY!

"D" Day, that's Dalhousie Day, on the air Monday, March 8, the day before Munro Day. For the first time in Canada a University took over a radio station for an entire day. Dal students ran the Halifax radio station C.J.C.H. for seventeen hours. Art Mears, the Publicity Director was in charge of the effort with the kind co-operation of Finlay McDonald the Station Manager and staff of C.J.C.H.

The day was hailed as an outstanding success and well worthy of continuing in the coming years. It attracted wide atten-

There were fifteen special programs carried that day in addition to the regular commitments. The John Fisher talk on Dal was read, Dal girls were interviewed by Abbie Lane, Chow Time was done by Dal., the Co-Vettes Club interviewed some of their members, Don Warner did a Disk jockey show, Murray Rankin spoke for the Alumni, The Kings Chorus had a program, The Student Vets were interviewed and related some experiences, Kings Choir put on a program called Evensong, Dr. A. E. Kerr gave a talk, there was a Trio of piano, guitar and bass, The Dal Glee Club put on selections from Pinafore, Dal students put on two plays, and did inter period commentary at a hockey game, and lastly was a Quizz Show, Students vs. Faculty (Faculty won).

It was a lot of work, but well worth the final result and the experience.

You might call it "white magic!"

When you think of it, it's next to miraculous the way milk gets around!

Milk by the bottle is just one outlet for the dairy farms' produce. At Borden's we produce over 50 different milk products . . . including evaporated milk, condensed milk, powdered milk, ice cream, cheeses and butter.

Research is another contribution to the advancement of Canadian agriculture. New milk products, perfected in the laboratory, are introduced to the public from time to time. Each new milk product gives distribution to that much more of the milk from Canadian farms.

Milk that "gets around", in its natural and processed forms, benefits the public, and the agricultural industry. The Borden Company is proud of the part it plays in widening the scope of Canadian dairying.

of MONSTERS and MIDGETS

Some idea of the vast scope of Westinghouse industrial products is seen by comparing these huge power transformers with a small railway signalling transformer. Itself a development of Westinghouse Engineers, the transformer has made possible great industrial achievements such as we know today . . . plus the widespread use of fine Westinghouse Electrical products for the home.

Now... Before
You Leave University

Before you leave university is the time to establish a banking connection. Whatever business or professional career you may have in mind, you will find that an early association with The Bank of Nova Scotia will be most helpful in the years to come. Start with a savings account . . . no amount is too small . . . and it is never too early to open an account.

THE BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA

COMPRESSED AIR, LIKE MAN works to be

FREE

Compressed Air expands as it tries to obtain freedom, inflating tires, displacing water ballast when a submarine surfaces, and raising sunken ships. It bubbles through liquids to pump by "air lift", and to agitate them.

Compressed Air creates powerful streams or blasts of air when it is suddenly released. These create waves of sound for whistles . . . hurl particles of sand for smoothing metal castings . . . spray paint . . . carry huge quantities of grain through tubes . . . scavenge and cool the barrels of naval guns.

Compressed Air supplies oxygen for combustion in oil, gas, and coal furnaces and boilers on land and sea. It is essential in blast furnaces and foundry cupolas.

Compressed Air pushes pistons or the blades of wheels to exert its power in air tools, such as drills, riveters, wrenches, hoists and rock drills. It operates air brakes, the switches and signals in railroad yards, and the controls of complicated processes . . . clamps the jaws of chucks in machine tools. It "fires" torpedoes from their tubes, operates their controls, and spins their gyroscopes.

Yes, like man, Compressed Air works in countless ways to be free. If you are not thoroughly familiar with Compressed Air Power . . . what it is doing for others, and what it can do for you . . . get in touch with a Canadian Ingersoll-Rand Engineer. He knows Air Power and its applications.

For Quality In Men's And Boys' Clothing

Quality is never an accident—it is always the result of intelligent effort. There must be the will to produce a superior thing; a clear conception of what quality is; a knowledge and skill equal to the purpose at hand, a willingness to test the product under any conditions. A standard of quality once attained must be held by a will no less firm than that which established it. —John Ruskin.
