Interfraternity Orphans' Party Big Success

The annual Inter-fraternity Council of Orphans' Party took place on Saturday afternoon at St. Joseph's Orphanage, greatly enjoyed by 94 orphans of both the Protestant and Catholic Orphonages. From 2:30 until approximately 6 p.m. the children enjoyed entertainment very capably emored by Garry Braund.

EDITORIAL

What is Wrong with the DGDS?

It is generally agreed by the majority of those who saw "The Little Foxes" when it was staged by the Dalhousie Glee and Dramatic Society a few weeks ago that this play was not well produced. We are not judging the D.G.D.S. production by professional standards as our knowledge of professional dramatics is very sparse. We are judging "The Little Foxes" by the few dozen amateur productions we have seen and by comparison to the vast majority of these we consider Dalhousie's most recent dramatic production definitely inferior. And as we implied above we are not alone in this opinion.

What was wrong with "The Little Foxes"? Assuming that the play itself cannot be blamed as it appears to have been well received when professionally produced, we have no choice but to draw the conclusion that the production of the play by the D.G.D.S. was poor.

We have no desire to be unduly critical of David Murray and the enthusiastic little group of thespians who performed in "The Little Foxes" but since the age of the fearless and uninhibited dramatic critic appears to have passed, and the D.G.D.S. is supported by the studuent body we feel obligated to express several criticisms which we do not think will be us of an International Photodeemed unjust by the unbiased observer.

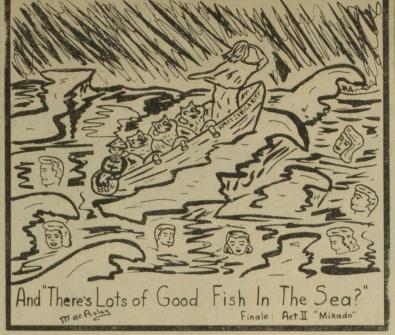

Firstly, it might be suggested that something a little less ambitious should have been chosen for performance by an photographs that would depict gandist contentedly dwelling in the other. amateur group of the calibre of the Dalhousie company. We must concede that there is some merit in producing a play original to the local dramatic scene but we feel that it is preferable to do Gilbert and Sullivan well than Mozart poorly, as the director of the D.G.D.S. musical productions appears realize. Comedies are much more appropriate to the collegiate stage than serious or even semi-serious drama.

Secondly, although Mr. Murray is quite possibly a very talented director, it is our opinion, and that of many others who know far more about the dramatic arts than we do, that difficult for even experienced professional directors to direct and act in a play at the same time, and that Mr. Murray was simply not able to do so was painfully evident during several scenes in "The Little Foxes". We do not consider this the fault of Mr. Murray for we understand that nobody else could be found to take the part which he played and we doubt it anyone else on the campus could have sity in last year's WUSC Study played it any better than he did under the circumstances but Tours, I earnestly hope that you played and we doubt if anyone else on the campus could have we do consider it a very poor reflection on the D.G.D.S. that will respond to this request being as it is, a major society on the campus, it cannot inspire sufficient enthusiasm in the student body to bring an adequate number of people to its dramatic try-outs to fill the dozen or so parts in the average play. This situation might be remedies in large part if the standard of D.G.D.S. productions was raised to a level which would elicit a little more enthusiasm for dramatics among the Dalhousie student body.

It might be suggested with regard to improving the quality of dramatics at Dalhousie that the D.G.D.S. dramatic productions would be much more satisfying to audiences and more profitable to participants if they were directed by somebody with more experience in dramatics than the average student, preferably a member of the faculty or some experienced member of a local amateur dramatic group. We are Dalhousie Gazette. not implying by this suggestion that Mr. Murray is an incompetent director. On the contrary we feel that both Mr. Murray and the dramatic group which he directs must be very talented to perform as well they do without the benefit of experienced direction. However, we are suggesting that been long smouldering in the the D.G.D.S. is at fault in making no apparent effort to obtain furnaces of our "educated" socithe services of a capable non-student director for their productions. Has the D.G.D.S. asked the University to provide them with a director? Has the D.G.D.S. approached any of the local dramatic groups and asked for the assistance of somebody experienced in producting amateur plays?

The reception given student productions at the majority of other Maritime universities far surpasses the response of the Dalhousie campus to D.G.D.S. productions. Is this because the Dalhousie student body is less interested in the arts the preceding sentence, for it panion ships and fellowship. renerally or dramatics in particularly than the students of really explains the situation. Surely this is a prime ideal comgenerally or dramatics in particularly than the students of really explains the situation. Acadia or Mount Allison or even Kings or Saint Mary's? We think not, and we suggest that it is the duty of the D.G.D.S. to bring dramatics at Dalhousie up to at least a passable

DAL PUCKSTERS VS "X" IN INTERCOLLEGIATE PLAYDOWNS

RANKIN STARS IN LOSS: COLLEGIATE YEAR OVER

The Dalhousie cagers dropped their final tilt of the Intercollegiate season by a 74-54 count to the powerful quintet from "X," to close the book on a rather dismal won and lost record. The Tigers who were dropped from their slim playoff hope by Acadia Thursday opened the game with a spirited attack in order to catch the X-men. Play was close throughout the first half but "X" had a noticeable edge in play as they pulled into the lead they had bench strength enough to protect. Dal Lose First Home Game In Varsity League

That little old lady by the name of Fate seems to have latched her nasty little barbs into those gay young men of the courts known as the Dalhousie Tigers. She is not only content in seeing them lose, but rubs it in by letting them build up a lead once in a while. Well, she hit again last Thursday as the Tigers lost a double to the Acadia Axemen in what proved to be two well played games. In the opener the Dal J. V. squad failed to hold a 26-24 first half lead and went down to a close 48-42 score, as the little Axes continued their winning streak. In the feature tilt the Big Axes, building on a 21-point spree by Mac Skinner, bounced up from a 31-30 deficit at the halfway mark to take the Bengals on a 66-56 ride.

Dave Matheson, who is currently playing the best ball of his career to date was once again the sparkplug of the team as he led the city team with 18 points and he was closely followed by Gordie Rankin and Paul Gold-man who each netted 15 points. At the 7-minute mark of the first

In the usual Dal manner the team blew the game in the second half as the shooting became rather inaccurate but this was not quite as serious as it may seem when one comes to consider that Mac Skinner of the Axemen suddenly got hot and hit for 13 points, which was more than the winning marwas more than the winning margin. Dave Matheson was a real fireball for the Tigers as he hooped 11 points and he was closely followed by the old veteran Gord Rankin. ACADIA

Last Saturday morning at Mount Allison University the Dal girls Intermediate basketball team edged out Acadia 24-22 to win the Maritime Inter-collegiate championship.

Acadia had won over teams from Mount Allison and Mount Saint Bernard the previous night, while Dal had swamped King's. The two teams came on the floor with determination shinning in their eyes and they were not disappointed in their expectation that it would be a hard and fast game.

The first half sent Tigress hopes ttes 15-8 with forward Jackie Galloway pouring on the steam. She swished the rim five times and again on a free throw to obtain a total of eleven points for the Haligonians. Maureen Connally and Carolyn Potter each hit for two points giving Dal a fifteen point total at the half time mark. Acadia's 8 points were gained by Atkinson, Bray and Wigglesworth. Monday night DGAC activities in the gym Monday night took the form of a play-off volleyball game between the Freshettes and Seniors, the winner of which would be the Inter-fac championship team. The old theory that "experience is the best teacher" did not prove itself in actuality because the youthful Freshette of team won a decisive victory over their elders the Seniors. The first half ended with the score 21-11 for the Freshette team. Liz Francis Champ served for one point, Marg Sinclair 4, Janet Sinclair 2, Peggy Baker 3, Glenda Oxner 3, Shirley Wright 3, Rowena God-son 3, and Judy Jackson served

Thus we see the score was well divided with no real individual honors. During the second half the Freshette again out-scored their opponents, this time 21-15. Liz Champ racked up 6 points, Glenda Oxner 6, Marg Sinclair 4, and their were a few one-point servers.

Last Wednesday night at Wolfville the Dal Girls' Varsity team won their third straight intercollegiate basketball game by defeating Acadia 36-27. This puts Dal in the lead ahead of U.N.B. who have suffered one defeat.

After the half time rest Dal seemed to slow down but later on found themselves again. It was during this third quarter slump that Acadia swished the basket numerous times and came dangerously close to snatching the lead from the Tigresses.

Some Aspects Of West African Land Tenure

by Bredu Pabi

The Common Law maxim, that every individual Englishman's home is his castle, has little or no application to West Africa and in particular to the Gold Coast. In the latter country the very piece of land or the portion of ground on which is situation the "castle," so to speak, let alone the "castle" itself is considered a communal property. This is paradoxical, but curiously enough, real property concept, patterned on a peculiar indigenous land tenure system has dominated West African social order particularly, the Gold Coast, both in the past and present, and it is more likely to operate, in those areas above mentioned, within the framework of the system in the immediate future, subject, of course, to some form of modification pressured upon the system by the strain and stress of some social and economic forces without necessarily impairing the pith and substance of the system itself.

to throw light on the subject.

The answer is in the negative. Britain's association with the Gold Coast had sprung from friendly intercourse cemented at the centre by trade and commerce in the mid 18th century. By mutual bond of 1844, the Gold Coast Colony accepted British administration for protective measures in return for future trade between the two countries; and by the same token Great Britain bound herself to respect cultural institutions of the people and particularly their traditional land tenure system.

By 1897 a British colonial governor attempted to pass special legislation to alienate all Gold Coast lands into crown lands. The prime factor beneath this legislation was the fact that private investors in Britain experienced through their agencies in the Gold Coast enough difficulties in establishing mineral concessions with private individuals of the soil. Besides, trading firms and other commercial enterprises of non Gold Coast origin desirous of acquiring lands by means of outright purchase from individuals or groups, met a similar lack of cooperation for such of outright purchase from inilar lack of cooperation for such agreement of sale of land. In consequence of these barriers, the respresentatives of the various investment interests were ale to influence the policy makers of the day to initiate a legislation which otherwise might bring all lands of the country under the crown. FRIENDLY RELATIONS WITH OVERSEAS STUDENTS

Today is your first day at a university — for example, the University of Bordeaux. For the first time you are thrust from your home province into a strange land. Back in high school you had a smattering of French, but you find communicating in French a slow and painful process. The climate, the civilization and the food are all different.

You are no longer in the land of hot dogs, juke boxes, drive-in theatres, and football rallies. How bewildering your new life must be! Your studies, classes, and conversations are conducted in a language not your own. You can't find a decent hamburger! Even the coffee tastes strange. The people has been introduced as a religion fee tastes strange. The people has been introduced as a religion think and act differently than you of love, these students must face

This is the situation of a foreign student in any university. If you have never been in such a predicament, you can only imagine what it would like. But have you any idea of the suffering that may go with it? Have you EVER stopped to think about it? You must have realized that there are foreign students on the campus, but HOW is Dalhousie acknowledging the presence of these students? At the moment, the only action being taken seems to be through the Registrar's office, which supplies lists of foreign students to those organizations interested in their welfare.

Somebody IS interested. A new organization known as F.R.O.S. (Friendly Relations with Overseas Students) has appeared on campus With the inspiration of two faculty members, Canon Puxley and Dr. MacKinnon, the organization was formed this year. Though not yet operating, it hopes that by next September it can join all the other Canadian branches in taking positive action. As a Dalhousie organization, its success or failure depends entirely on you.

Why all this sudden interest? Why all this sudden interest? These students have been on the campus for years. They are absorbed into the University and its classes, but when lectures are finished where do they go and what do they do?? Obviously somebody did take the trouble to consider this question. As a result, the primary purpose of F.R.O.S. is to be friend the stranger. They to befriend the stranger. They strive to extend a heart-warming, PERSONAL welcome; they realize that the ever-present possibility of doing something which differs from the customs of Canada is a con-stant strain and anxiety to the stant strain and anxiety to the foreign student. Thus F.R.O.S. supplies the answers to many quesforeign student could not place before a comparative stranger.

Many of your impressions of distant lands are formed by the stu-dents who come from them. Thus a Chinese student from Hong Kong might be considered an ambassa-dor of his country. But this rela-tionship has two aspects — not only do you form impressions of their countries, but they also form opinions of your country—Canada. Quite often these students are chosen people being educated by their governments as future leaders. Canada, as a growing, progressive country, has been considered a suitable background for higher education. Dalhousie should be proud that its name and excellent reputation have extended so far across the world. Many of these students, upon graduating, will return to their homes carry-think and act differently than you do. You're bewildered. You're lonely. You don't seem to fit in with the life around you. More than anything else, you want a friend to talk to.

This is the situation of a foreign to Canada and is slighted and emitted the situation of the North American continent? It has been said by Rev. Ted Nichols, General Secretary of SCM, that "One Christian African who comes to Canada and is slighted and emitted the situation of the secretary of love, these students must face dissillusionment upon arrival. How strong is the religion of love on the secretary of love, these students must face dissillusionment upon arrival. How strong is the religion of love on the North American continent? It has been said by Rev. Ted Nichols, General Secretary of SCM, that "One Christian African who comes to Canada and is slighted and emitted the secretary of the secretary of the North American continent? It has been said by Rev. Ted Nichols, General Secretary of SCM, that "One Christian African who comes to Canada and is slighted and emitted the secretary of the North American continents?" bittered can do more to retard the Kingdom of God upon his return to Africa than five missionaries can do to advance it in one year." One of the reasons that the Communists have progressed so far is that they practise what Christianity preaches — living in fraternity. preaches — living in fraternity. Is it not disturbing to realize that we, through our neglect, may be slowly helping to build up a tragic situation internationally?

Dal Art Exhibit by Anna Cooke

The third annual exhibit of the Dalhousie Art Society was held recently in the Art room of the Arts and Administration building. An appreciable interest has been shown in this project since it was inaugurated in 1954. This year over 25 members of the Dal-housie staff student-body and alumni exhibited their work. It is a most enjoyable experience for observers to see how some members of the Dalhousie community spend their leisure time. Many of the entries attest both the talent and serious endeavor of their exhibitors.

The paintings ranged from black and white portraits to more elaborate oils.

The well-known Halifax artist Aileen Meagher had two pastels, "Roadside Jungle" and "Pine" hanging. The color-tone of both these works was mellow and vibrant. "Jane" a particularly good portrait exhibited by Elizabeth Cox attracted much favorable comment during the show. W. R. Trost entered two excellent wood sculptures, "Bony Man" and sculptures, "I adv." Both demonstrate and graceful lines exemplifying the technique of the art.

"Dartmouth Lakes" a tempra painting by Olga M. C. Douglas is one of her typical landscapes fresh touch and a bold approach.

"Nanuktut in Mist" is an interesting combination of oils and a sort of glassy-pebble dust sprayed over the convass. It was entered by G. Vibert Douglas.

Many others were represented and well worth noting. Mrs. Borden Haverstock's water color "Still Life Group"; "Honefoss, Norway," by Mrs. R. S. Cumming; Caroline Weld's "Lucerne" made an interesting water color of a group of houses; Edgar S. March's "Autumn, LeHavre, North Branch"; "Coburg Street Bridge" by Beecher Weld; a good "Winter Scene" by Catherine will return to their homes carry-ing their memories of Dalhousie Weld; another water color "Peg-along with their degrees; other might remain in Canada, returning the benefits they have obtained with the benefits they have obtained and several water colors by
