

Le Roman-feuilleton français au XIXe siècle
Lise Queffélec-Dumasy

PRESENTATION

This electronic publication of Lise Queffélec-Dumasy's celebrated work Le roman-feuilleton français au XIXe siècle inaugurates Belphégor's e-library, whose principal goal is to help develop the study of popular literature and media culture within the universities and the schools by making useful resources readily available. In keeping with our original intentions, we aim to offer both to researchers and to the general public a number of seminal works that are now hard to find in printed form. Today, we have the pleasure of resurrecting one of the best manuals ever written on the French popular novel, trusting that our readers will find it of great interest.

This volume will remain available from this page, or can be accessed through the "Belphégor's library" link that will henceforth replace the "Archives" link on the main page of each new issue.

To the book
