

Contributors

ARTICLES

ROBIN W. WINKS

Professor of History, Yale University; author of Canada and the United States: The Civil War Years (Baltimore, 1960) and Canadian-West Indian Union (London, 1968); co-author, with John Bustin, of A History of Malaysia (Oxford, 1965); contributing editor of The Historiography of the British Empire-Commonwealth (Duke, 1966); preparing a book, Negro in Canada, which will draw on the present article, based on an address to the Canadian Historical Association at Charlottetown, P.E.I.; author of numerous articles on Canadian and Commonwealth history.

DENNIS DUFFY

Of the Department of English, Trinity College, University of Toronto; Arts Editor of the Canadian Forum; author of articles and reviews on Kipling.

GERALD T. RIMMINGTON

Director of Educational Research, Brandon University; joint author (with J. G. Pike) of Malawi: A Geographical Study (Oxford, 1965); Director of a Socio-Economic Survey of the Shubenacadie-Stewiacke area of Nova Scotia for the Acadia University Institute; author of articles on Education and Geography.

DONALD STEPHENS

Associate Professor of English, University of British Columbia; Associate Editor of Canadian Literature; author of Bliss Carman (New York: Twayne, 1966).

WSEVOLOD W. ISAJIW

Associate Professor of Sociology, University of Windsor; completed secondary education in Germany and graduated from La Salle College and the Catholic University of America; author of Causation and Functionalism in Sociology (London: Routledge & Kegan Paul) and of several articles on sociological theory and inter-ethnic relations; at present conducting a sociological survey of the central area of Detroit, Michigan.

LILIANE WELCH

Assistant Professor of French, Mount Allison University; author of articles on aesthetics and French symbolist poetry; currently writing a book-length critical study of contemporary French poetry.

J. S. ERSKINE

Historian, naturalist, archaeologist, and free-lance writer of Wolfville, Nova Scotia.

4 poets. 2 novelists. 6 important books.

The Owl Behind the Door. Stanley Cooperman. New poetry that gets under the skin and moves from an Associate Professor of English at Simon Fraser.

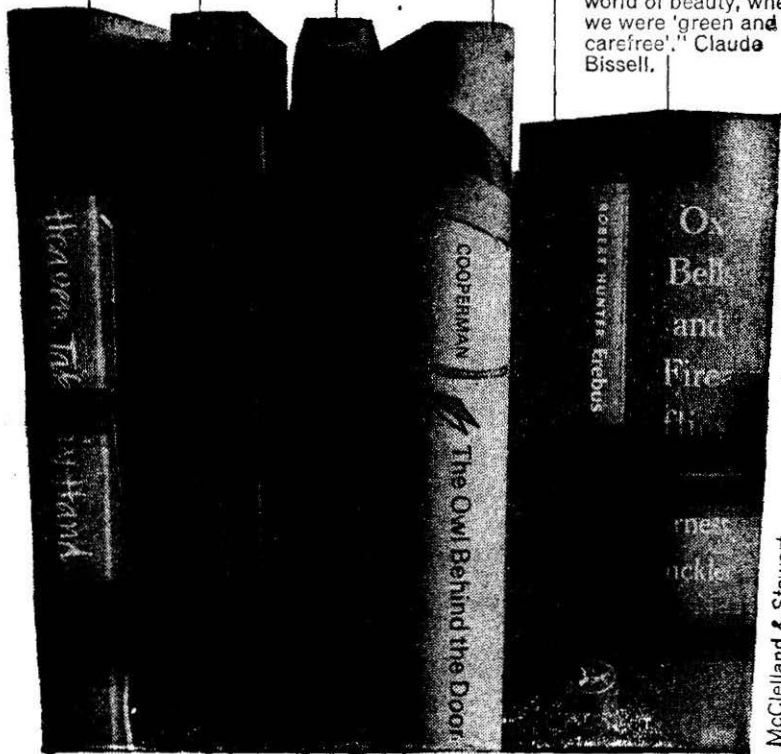

Wild Grape Wine. Al Purdy. From a Governor-General's Award winner and one of the most vital poets in the country, 68 new poems.

Heaven Take My Hand. David Weisstub. A young poet's involvement with the Jewish cultural myth. An evocative resolution of culture and now.

Selected Poems: 1947-1967. Robin Skelton. The best writing from the Editor of the Malahat Review from eight previous collections.

Erebus. Robert Hunter. "It's as formless—yet as disciplined—as most of Millers' work . . . a big, joyous, sad funny, hugely ambitious, marvelously successful book." Alexander Ross.

Ox Bells and Fireflies. Ernest Buckler. "... it reaches down to touch everybody's dream of a world of beauty, when we were 'green and carefree.'" Claude Bissell.

McClelland & Stewart
The Canadian Publishers

Contributors (continued)

CLIFFORD DAVIDSON

Assistant Professor of English, Western Michigan University; author of numerous articles on medieval, renaissance, and modern literature, and an editor of Comparative Drama.

REVIEW ARTICLE

THEODORE HOLMES

A graduate of Princeton and the University of Iowa; Fulbright Fellow, Oxford, 1963; has lectured at Harvard and other universities; author of three books of poetry, and has contributed to many literary periodicals.

VERSE

ALFRED G. BAILEY, of Fredericton, New Brunswick; M. TRAVIS LANE, of Fredericton, New Brunswick; DORA M. PETTINELLA of New York City; DOROTHY ROBERTS, of State College, Pennsylvania; GERALD N. WHITE, of Toronto, Ontario.

a modern company over 121 years young

That's what those who know us well say about us. While we keep abreast of today's new ideas and fields of endeavour, we have been privileged to build upon a firm foundation of more than one hundred and twenty-one years of experience in the various fields of life insurance. What's more, we care about our clientele.

The CANADA LIFE
Assurance Company