University News

Dalhousie University

. . . a new tabloid newspaper published every two weeks during the academic year.

It has two objectives:

First, to better inform both the university community and the public at large of the activities, achievements, operations and problems at the university.

Second, to be a vehicle through which official university viewpoints could be presented.

It contains news about Dalhousie and other universities in the area, about higher education in general, photos, a bulletin board which will list the scope and variety of university activities, many of which are open to the public, and it publishes an opinion page that invites letters of topical and valid comment and conservative criticism.
