Today I learned something new from an old friend.

You know, Thelma and I have been best friends since high school. Well, because Thelma is such a close friend, I thought I knew everything about her.

That is, until Thelma mentioned she'd just recently changed her will—to include a bequest for the Canadian Cancer Society.

Thelma said that even though she's always made annual donations to the Society, she wanted to do something extra. Because, she said, cancer can be beaten.

So then I thought, "Cancer must be beaten...and leaving a bequest is another good way I can help."

If you or your lawyer want to know more about the Society and what we do, telephone or write the Canadian Cancer Society.
