
SO I CAME BACK

By GILEAN DOUGLAS

Suddenly I was alone above the earth
And there were clouds and then stars
And at last—nothing.
But I could not go as far as I wished
Because of the noise of the earth
And because there was something I could not pass.
So I came back
And was of the level of the earth once more.
But I have not forgotten.
