

Contributors

HENRY MARGENAU

Sloane Laboratories, New Haven; Professor in the Departments of Physics and Philosophy in Yale University; author of The Nature of Physical Reality (1950), and other works.

THOMAS DUNBABIN

Australian editor and news correspondent resident in Ottawa; author of books, essays, and studies on historical, geographical, and general subjects chiefly related to the British Commonwealth.

WARREN TALLMAN

Assistant Professor of English, University of British Columbia.

MARTIN S. DWORKIN

Professional writer and photographer; editorial consultant on theatre and mass media; visiting lecturer at Teachers College, Columbia University.

ISOBEL ENGLISH

Of London, England; author of short stories and novels. Her third novel, Four Voices, will be published by Longmans in 1961.

W. K. THOMAS

Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science and Chairman of the Department of English, Waterloo University.

WALTER D. YOUNG

University of Toronto; formerly lecturer in the Department of Political Science and International Relations, University of Manitoba.

ROBERT W. SELLEN

Associate Professor of History, Baker University, Baldwin, Kansas.

GABRIEL GERSH

Free-lance writer of New York City.

VERSE

GEOFFREY B. RIDDEHOUGH, of Vancouver, B.C.; ALDEN A. NOWLAN, of Hartland, New Brunswick; ARTHUR S. BOURINOT, of Ottawa.

REVIEW ARTICLES

ROBIN W. WINKS, Assistant Professor of History, Yale University; TATIANA PROSKOURIKOFF, Research Associate, Carnegie Institute of Washington (Peabody Museum, Cambridge, Mass.).