

DALHOUSIE REVIEW

Volume 50, No. 3

The Dalhousie Review

Autumn, 1970

History for a Non-Historic Nation K. W. Studnicki-Gizbert

Beneath the North Star:
The Canadian Image in Black Literature Lloyd W. Brown

Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island
Consider an Effective Upper House (A Short Story) K. G. Pryke

The Beothuk Indians of Newfoundland in Fact and Fiction E. J. Devereux

The University and the Destructive Element in the Liberal Spirit Edward A. Watson

Character and Credibility in The Forsyte Saga D. J. Dooley

The Edwardian Golden Age and Nostalgic Truth D. Paul Farr

Blood and the Northern Lights
(A Short Story) Allan Bevan

REVIEW ARTICLE VERSE BOOK REVIEWS

Autumn, 1970