

OUR CONTRIBUTORS

DR. R. C. WALLACE, Ph.D., LL.D., D.C.L., F.R.S.C., F.G.S., distinguished Canadian educator and former Vice-Chancellor and Principal of Queen's University, Kingston. Author of A Liberal Education in a Modern World and other works, and a frequent contributor to learned periodicals in Canada, United States and United Kingdom. * * * L. HOTZ, graduate and gold medallist of the University of Cape Town, Union of South Africa; frequent contributor on political and economic topics to various periodicals; formerly assistant editor of The Friend, Bloemfontein, Orange Free State; now leader writer on The Star, Johannesburg. * * * PETER VIERECK, noted poet and historian; Professor of European history at Mount Holyoke College in Massachusetts. Portrait of a Fascist Ruling Class is a section of Professor Viereck's recently published book Shame and Glory of the Intellectuals, obtainable from Beacon Press, Boston. * * * RALPH GUSTAFSON, graduate of Bishop's University, Lennoxville, Quebec, and Oxford University; author of Light into Darkness, a volume of poems, and a forthcoming book of short stories entitled The Paper Spike and other Stories; editor of The Penguin Anthology of Canadian Poetry and Canadian Accent. Mr. Gustafson's poems and prose have appeared in numerous anthologies and in leading Canadian and American periodicals. * * * EUGENE FORSEY, Director of Research of the Canadian Congress of Labour, and frequent contributor to periodicals in this country and abroad on political and constitutional issues, needs no introduction to readers of The Dalhousie Review. * * * W. STANFORD REID, Associate Professor of History and Warden of Douglas Hall, McGill University. Well-known for his research in Scotland and on the Continent in connection with the Scottish traders and merchants of the Reformation period. * * * DAVID EARLE LEWIS, graduate of Acadia University and frequent contributor to The Dalhousie Review, Psychology Digest, Culture and other periodicals. At present teaching school in Bridgetown, N. S. President, Annapolis Valley Music Festival. * * * LEWIS WHARTON, Victoria, B. C. Well-known English poet and translator of mediaeval works, including The Free Meals of Francois Villon and his Companions and The Monologue of the Free Archer of Baignollet. * * * HILDA M. RIDLEY, Gananoque, Ontario. Editor of Canadiana, a literary quarterly for writers; author of The Post War Woman, A synopsis of Woman Suffrage and many articles on women published in Canada and the United States. * * * MADGE MACBETH (Mrs Charles Macbeth) of Ottawa; author of numerous books and short stories and frequent contributor to The Dalhousie Review.