

ALUMNI NOTES

DR. G. McCURDY—Editor

Henry Dickson, '21, was in Halifax for a brief visit last fall while enroute for Hilo, Hawaii, where he is practising. We are sorry to learn of the passing of Henry's father a short time ago.

We feel a great sorrow and loss in noting the passing of C. M. Bayne, '20, on March 19th, 1936. Dr. Bayne was Divisional Medical Health Officer in Cape Breton.

Frank Hebb, '32, was on the resident staff of the Montreal General the year following graduation; then practised in Liverpool, N. S.

Harvey Hebb, '34, has been on the resident staff of the Royal Hants Hospital since he was graduated. Harvey recently underwent a serious operation for appendicitis. We are glad to hear that he is making a speedy recovery, and understand that he is returning to Halifax this summer.

George Covert, '34, has been practising in Oxford, Eng., since graduation. He was home for the Christmas season and sailed a few weeks ago for Edinburgh, where he intends to study for his fellowship.

Stewart Woolner, '33, went to England with Bob Baird in 1934. Since then he has done a few locum tenens, some postgraduate study and is now a resident in the Portsmouth Hospital. During his last vacation he was ship's surgeon on a liner and made a short stay in Halifax.

Champ. Holland, '33, is practising with J. B. Champion, '04, in O'Leary, P.E.I. We are sorry to learn that Dr. Champion has not been well of late.

Murray Fraser, '32, is now practising in Runcorn, Eng. Before going to Runcorn, Murray interned at the Montreal General, and also at the Rotunda, Dublin, where he was married in 1934.

J. L. Giovanetti, '31, of Ferryland, Newfoundland, is one of our few graduates who is also a magistrate.

Bob Baird, '33, interned at the St. John General Hospital for a year; then went to England where he took some postgraduate work at the London Hospital. Before returning to Canada he sailed to India as ship's surgeon. Bob is now practising in Cambridge, N. B.

Carl Smith, '30, now with the Royal Air Force in Mesopotamia, was home on furlough last summer. Before returning to the East he married Miss Jean Chisholm of Halifax.

We are sorry to hear that Geoffrey Morris, '28, passed away at his home in Arizona a short time ago.

Jacob L. Potter, '03, a noted football player in his day, spent some time in Labrador after graduation; then joined the Army Medical Corps. He has been stationed in Ottawa, Halifax, Victoria, and Calgary.

Ebenzer Ross Faulkner, '01, practised a few years in Mahone Bay; then went to London where he received his F.R.C.S. On his return he settled in New York where he specialized in Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. At the present time he is the Chief Surgeon at the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital. Last fall he addressed the Refresher Course.

We are sorry to note the passing of R. L. Blackadar, '02, of Port Maitland.

Alfred Thompson, '99, practised in the Yukon after he was graduated. While there he was made a member of parliament for that constituency. He is now retired and living in Ottawa.

Lorris Borden, '02, was ship's surgeon on a survey ship to the Arctic regions, after which he did some postgraduate work in London and Edinburgh. Since then he has resided in B.C. In recent years Lorris has been a member of the local legislature, and is now residing in Nelson.

E. Cosman Davis, '23, who received his commission in the Royal Navy soon after graduation, has been recently promoted to the rank of Surgeon commander. When last heard from Eddie was with H.M.S. Ajax, at Haifa.

John W. Denoon, '31, paid us a visit a short time ago. After graduation John went to England where he took some postgraduate work including a course in tropical diseases. After marriage he accepted a position in the Colonial Medical Service, and is now returning to the Gold Coast where he has made his home.

Nigel Rusted, '33, who interned in the St. John's General Hospital, is now engaged in Public Health work which takes him to the fishing outposts along the coast of Newfoundland.

Don Campbell, '31, is now on the staff of the Polyclinic, Charlottetown. After graduation Don interned at the Charity Hospital, Cleveland, for a period of three years. He practised in Sydney for a short time before going to "the Island".

John Budd, '33, will soon complete a three year internship at the Charity Hospital, Cleveland. He expects to return to Halifax early this summer.

Len Miller, '30, who has been practising in St. John's, Newfoundland, is now taking a postgraduate course in Public Health work and Paediatrics at Harvard. On his return he is to continue with his work at the Public Health Clinic in St. John's.

John Andrew, '34, is now senior house surgeon at the Ottawa Civic Hospital.

Congratulations are due Jerry Tanton, '34, one of our recent newly-weds. Jerry married Miss Helen Scott last November and is now practising in Mosher River.

Fred Schwartzburg, '32, who interned at the Hospital for Joint Diseases, New York, is now attached to the visiting staff of that hospital. Fred is also engaged in private practice in Paterson, N. J.

David Wollowick, '35, is attached to the Beth-El Hospital where he is studying Gastroenterology. He is also practising in Brooklyn.

J. E. Hiltz, '34, was on the resident staff of The Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, and is now on the resident staff of Nova Scotia Sanitorium.

Frank Riggio, '34, who interned in the Unity Hospital, Brooklyn, is now engaged in private practise in the same city.

Louis Reinhard, '33, is now in private practise after interning in The Jewish Hospital, Brooklyn.

We extend our sympathy to Harrie Handler, '35, whose mother passed away a short time ago. Harrie is interning at the Long Island Hospital.

Gil Houston, '34, who was on the resident staff of the Nova Scotia Hospital, is now talkin a postgraduate course in Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat, at Boston.

Don Thompson, '33, has been interning at the Montreal General ince graduation.

Don MacRae, '34, who was on the resident staff of the Nova Scotia Sanitorium, was married to Miss Gladys Wade, of Kentville, last September. Don is now studying Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal.

Fred Wigmore, '35, is a resident at the Toronto General Hospital.

Doug. Piercey, '34, is interning at the Ottawa Civic Hospital.

Tom Murphy, '34, is practising in Antigonish. He is also on the teaching staff of St. Francis Xavier University.

Freddy MacLellan, '33, and Jack Stewart '34 are residents in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal.

Walter MacKenzie, '33, interned at the Royal Victoria Hospital after he was graduated. "Fat" is now on the resident staff of the Mayo Clinic.

Bernard Miller, '31, who is practising at New Waterford, recently spent six weeks in Halifax taking a military course.

We are pleased to welcome Kenny Grant, '29, to the University staff. After graduating, Kenny was senior resident at Camp Hill Hospital for two years. Since leaving Camp Hill he studied under Dr. De Lee at Chicago.

J. S. (Bunny) Roberston, '34, has recently taken a practice in Port Hawkesbury.

This year is the silver anniversary of Class 1911. The following, which comprise the greater number of the class reside in Halifax. H. B. Atlee, J. R. and Mrs. Davis (nee Bessie Balcom), Eliza Brison, J. J. MacRitchie and H. W. Schwartz; F. G. MacAskill is in Glace Bay, J. R. Collie in London, Eng., A. M. Johnson in Bury, Eng., D. J. Hartigan in New Waterford and C. B. Cameron in Petite Riviere. John Murdock has recently moved to Preston, Ont.

Eric Found, '35, is interning in the General Hospital, Regina, Sask.

C. M. Bethune, '31, who has been the senior house surgeon at the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, since 1931, is leaving for Montreal about the first of April. On his return he intends to enter private practice, specializing in anaesthesia.

Ernie Doull and Jack Merritt both of class '28, are proud fathers of baby daughters, which were born since the New Year. Congratulations!

(The Editor will appreciate receiving any news concerning the alumni. This is your section, graduates, so let us make it real interesting).

The head nurse recognized the poorly dressed woman who limped painfully into the clinic as one who, twenty-five years before, had been a classmate at the nurses' training school. She was the one who had married a patient and left the class only three months before graduation. The nurse followed her out as she left, identified herself, and inquired sympathetically into her life since they had last met. It appeared that the fates had not been kind, and that now, with a semi-invalid husband and a large family of children to care for, the meagre sum received from the relief board was her only income.

"And I have been nursing all these years", said the nurse on parting.

"Oh!" replied the patient, "You poor thing. What a pity you never married."