2008 Field Seminars at the Humboldt Institute on the coast of Maine

Advanced, professional, and specialty field seminars for naturalists

Ecology and Conservation of Amphibian Populations and Vernal Pools June 1–7. Bryan Windmiller

Aquatic Entomology for Naturalists
June 1–7. Frederick H. SaintOurs, Jr.

Freshwater Macro- and Microalgae: Taxonomy and Biomonitoring June 8–14. Jeffrey R. Johansen

Northeast Freshwater Fish Origins, Distribution, Status, and Taxonomy June 9–14. David B. Halliwell

Natural History and Taxonomy of Parasites of Freshwater Fishes of Maine June 15–21. David K. Cone

Field Botany and Bioclimatology of the Coast of Maine
June 15–21. Gerard Courtin

Submersed and Floating Aquatic Flowering Plants: Taxonomy, Ecology, and Management
June 22–28. C. Barre Hellquist

Mayflies: Systematics and Biomonitoring
June 22–28. Steven K. Burian

Acrocarpous Mosses of the North Woods
June 29–July 5. Jon and Blanka Shaw

Calicioid Lichens and Fungi: Identification, Ecology, and Role in Assessing Forest Continuity
June 29–July 5. Steven Selva

North America's Second Sick Lichen Masterclass (Lichenicolous Fungi) July 6–12. David L. Hawksworth

Bryophytes for Naturalists July 6–12. Fred C. Olday

Sedges, Rushes, & Grasses: Advanced Taxonomy & Ecology of Wetland and Upland Species
July 13–19. Anton A. Reznicek

Wetland Identification, Delineation, and Classification
July 20–26. Robert Lichvar and Russell Pringle

Freshwater Mussels of the Northeast: Taxonomy, Life History, and Conservation July 20–26. Jay Cordeiro

Advanced Topics in Salt Marsh Restoration and Monitoring: Ecological Tipping Points
July 27–August 2. Susan C. Adamowicz and David Burdick

The World of Myxomycetes (Slime Molds)
July 27–August 2. Steven L. Stephenson

Polypores, Tooth Fungi, and Crust Fungi
August 3–9. Thomas Volk and Sean Westmoreland

Ecology of Liverworts and Mosses
August 3–9. Nancy G. Slack and Paul G. Davison

Lichens and Lichen Ecology
August 10–16. David Richardson

Forest Ecosystem Description and Interpretation for Land Conservation Purposes
August 10–16. Norman A. Richards and Thomas J. Boutureira

Taxonomy and Biology of Ferns and Lycophytes
August 17–23. Robbin C. Moran

Crustose Lichens of Coastal Maine
August 17–23. Irwin M. Brodo

Mycology for Naturalists: Diversity, Biology, and Ecology of Fungi and Fungal-like Organisms
August 31–September 6. David Porter

Advanced Mycology: Freshwater and Marine Ascomycetes
September 28–October 4. Carol Ann Shearer

Invasive and Exotic Plant Eradication and Plant Community Restoration
September 28–October 1. John W. Munro

Bioengineering and Biostructural Stabilization of Landscapes October 1–5. John W. Munro

In support of field biologists, modern field naturalists, and students of the natural history sciences, Eagle Hill offers specialty seminars and workshops at different ecological scales for those who are interested in understanding, addressing, and solving complex ecological questions. Seminars topics range from watershed level subjects, and subjects in classical ecology, to highly specialized seminars in advanced biology, taxonomy, and ecological restoration. Eagle Hill has long been recognized as offering hard-to-find seminars and workshops which provide important opportunities for training and meeting others who are likewise dedicated to the natural history sciences. Eagle Hill field seminars are of special interest because they focus on the natural history of one of North America's most spectacular and pristine natural areas, the coast of eastern Maine from Acadia National Park to Petit Manan National Wildlife Refuge and beyond. Most seminars combine field studies with follow-up lab studies and a review of the literature. Additional information is provided in lectures, slide presentations, and discussions. Seminars are primarily taught for people who already have a reasonable background in a seminar program or in related subjects, or who are keenly interested in learning about a new subject.
