Sept. 1788

London 16 Sept 1788

Sir

I have received yours of the 6th Instant. I am very glad of your safe arrival and that you have found everything to your satisfaction which induces you to stay a few days longer to which I have no objection. You must be the more assured. Let me know in time the day you will set off as I intend to be at Dover on your arrival. There with my Nephew that I suppose will be about the beginning of next month. If any thing to be seen on the road or near it, I think you would profit of the opportunity. I have got the three Crookes that are to go this month. If you come before the first of October I shall <sup>be</sup> in London, therefore beg one advised of your steps for my convenience. I am very busy and could spare my time. I remain Sir, your Obedient Servant forward that unless you find the postage if necessary not otherwise. I have not mentioned to him a word about your absence from hence. You will say what you think proper on this subject. I signed the letter.
