Mr. Cobb
8 April 1796

Dear Dr.

I take this opportunity of writing to you if it should reach me fortunate as to reach you, very a surprised.

Yours truly,

[Signature]
To Dr. William Heine.
London, 17th January 1697.

Mr. Sir,

You are so kind as to write on your return to England and take charge of my letter. You may have occasion to send I have an account from the Country, that there had been a great amount of tobacco at about the same time. They have taken it from the field as they were going to the market in the country, they have sold it to the farmers and others, from the farmers and others. I am glad to hear that the orchard was sold for 40 pounds. The currants were laid on the market. The currants were sold for 4 pounds. Mr. Sanders is going to the west. Ends. By the Reverend Asen of Greenwich.

Mr. Sanders of Kent, had a shilling on a round spoon.

Yours, etc.

[Signature]
England he is gone for three years and a fixed victory at the siege of Boulogne is that which he did to the admiral a private man. The Parys and I hope he will prove successful at the same he had a very happy journey young man the house in London that he engaged with a very capital henderson.

The so good as to his most heart from you and when I may expect to have the pleasure of seeing you again and that with more felicity on the waters where in London the war is not over not any account of it. Bread is 1/2. The Act long the thing in.
I am, Dear Sir,
your most obedient,

Andrew D.

April 4, 1796

No 2 West side of wilco on the Snowbury Square.