

OUR CONTRIBUTORS

GENERAL SIR GERALD TEMPLER, who has been High Commissioner for the Federation of Malaya, relinquished that office in June and was granted a long leave before taking up an "important military appointment." Sir Gerald's article, "Building a Malayan Nation," appeared originally in The Straits Times Annual for 1954 (Singapore).

THOMAS H. RADDALL, of Liverpool, is a well known Canadian writer, author of His Majesty's Yankees, Roger Sudden, The Nymph and the Lamp, and other books, as well as many short stories. On several occasions his work has been chosen for the Governor General's Award.

HUGH G. THORBURN is Assistant Professor of Political Science at Mount Allison University, Sackville, N. B.

DESMOND PACEY is Head of the Department of English at the University of New Brunswick, Fredericton, N. B., and author of Frederick Philip Grove, Book of Canadian Stories, and Creative Writing in Canada, as well as many articles, stories, and two books of verse for children.

JULIA GRACE WALES is a native Canadian, Assistant Professor of English Emeritus, University of Wisconsin, now living at St. Andrews East, P. Q. She has contributed to several periodicals in Canada and the United States.

GEORGE HAMBLETON of Ottawa is a former President of the Press Gallery there and was for ten years a member of the Press Gallery at Westminster. As special correspondent, he accompanied Canadian delegations to all the Imperial Conferences between the two world wars and was an adviser with the Canadian delegation to the U.N. Conference on Freedom of Information at Geneva in 1948 and later at Lake Success. He is the author of The Parliament of Canada.

W. H. G. ARMYTAGE, Editor of the University Gazette, Sheffield, England, is a frequent contributor of historical articles to the Dalhousie Gazette and other quarterlies in Canada, the United States, and the United Kingdom.

MABEL E. DREW, of Kirkland Lake, is a native of Philadelphia who has lived in Canada since 1937 and is now a Canadian citizen. Her verse has appeared in Saturday Night, Canadian Poetry Magazine, Canadiana, Chatelaine, and the Canadian Home Journal. Last year New Liberty published one of her short stories.

H. R. PERCY is a native of England who joined the Royal Navy as an Artificer Apprentice at the age of sixteen and is now a member of the Royal Canadian Navy. His short stories and essays have appeared in magazines "varying as widely as Vanity Fair and The Dittybox.

MADGE MACBETH, of Ottawa, has written many books and articles. A native of Philadelphia, she has lived in Canada most of her life and is a former National President of the Canadian Authors Association.

LOUISE SURGEY, of Toronto, is a descendant of Colonel Moore who came to Halifax in 1749 with his college friend, the Hon. Edward Cornwallis. Her work has appeared in Chambers' Journal, Frontiers, Echoes, and other publications.