

Contributors

S. S. PIPLANI

Pen-name of a writer on social and political subjects now living in Geneva, Switzerland.

JOHN M. MUNRO

Formerly Assistant Professor of English at University College, University of Toronto; now Associate Professor of General Education, American University of Beirut; co-author of The World of Fiction (Boston, 1965) and author of a critical study of Arthur Symons to be published shortly by Twayne, New York.

ROSSELL HOPE ROBBINS

Medievalist and authority on witchcraft and demonology; honorary associate, Faculty Seminar in Medieval Studies, Columbia University; visiting lecturer or professor at many universities in Britain, the United States, and Europe; Canada Council Professor, Mount Allison University, 1964-5.

MRS. ANGUS ROBERTSON

Student of Scottish family histories, of Mineral Wells, Texas, U. S. A.

T. G. MACKENZIE

Consulting engineer, foreign representative of international corporations, and world traveller; now retired and living in Halifax, N. S.

MARGARET M. GIBB

Student of French literature and history, with a doctorate from the Sorbonne; has lectured at Queen's University and the University of New Brunswick and continued with research.

SHORT STORY

GEORGE BOWERING, of Calgary, Alberta.

VERSE

HELEN SUE ISELY, of Ames, Iowa; JOHN Z. BENNETT, of Lafayette, Louisiana; GEOFFREY B. RIDDEHOUGH, of Vancouver, B.C.

REVIEW ARTICLE

MARTIN S. DWORKIN, Editorial consultant on theatre, photography, and mass media; visiting lecturer at Teachers College, Columbia University.